THE OBSERVER on Thursday will launch a series of stories on issues in the Westland City Council race. The primary will be held Tuesday, Sept. 10. The stories will be based on interviews conducted with the 10 candidates competing for four council seats.

They are incumbents Thomas Brown, Thomas Artley and Charles Pickering and challengers Don Mead, Bhagwan Dashairya, David Cox, Dorothy Smith, William Ziemba, Glenn Anderson and Sharon Scott. Ben DeHart, an incumbent whose soat is up for grabs, decided not to seek re-election for health reasons. The field of candidates will be narrowed to eight in the primary. Those eight will square off in the Nov, 5 general election. SPEAKING OF COUNCIL candidates, Artley and Anderson have won the endorsement of the Westland Police Officers Association, union president Scott Hall announced. Though 10 candidates are competing for four council seats, the police association has decided o make only two endorsements, he said. The endorsements were Artiey and Anderson. Hall said the police union endorsed Artley because of his 'independent voice" on the council. Anderson's endorsement stemmed from his "willingness to work with the mayor" and his interest in the police department, Hall said

Union representatives did not interview other council candidates, Hall said, adding that police already were aware of most candidates' stances.

THE WESTLAND SPORTS ARENA will hold registration for ice-skating ciantes on Wednesday, Sept. 4, from 4-7 p.m. and on Saturday, Sept. 7, from 9 a.m. to noon.

An attempt to recall three Wayne-Westland school board members regained steam last week as organizers submitted revised petitions to the county elections office.

Board members also have defended the program cuts as necessary to produce a balanced budget. However, many cuts were averted after district voters approved a 7.75-mill tax increase on June 10.

The recall committee has not targeted board President Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek, who approved the teacher salary increases but cast the lone dissenting vote against many budget cuts.

Teen is charged in death

By Darrell Clem staff writer

In a case that the Wayne County prosecutor's office described as "very unusual," a Westland teenager has pleaded not guilty to a negligent homicide charge stemming from the death of a friend who fell from a van as it was moving.

"I would say it's not the strongest case in the world," said Robert Sage, Wayne County deputy chief assistant prosecutor. "I don't think it would be a typical charge."

Sage's remarks on Friday came one day after 17-year-old Regina Beth Borders pleaded not guilty in Westland's 18th District Court to causing the death of 17-year-old Jennifer Lynn Cooley of Romulus.

Cooley died about 9:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 15, when she fell from the side door of a Chevy van that Borders was driving. Borders has told. her mother that she warned Cooley and two other friends to close the sliding door.

"It's a very unusual case," Sage said. "It's going to be a very close question of fact.'

Though Sage said that Borders may have been negligent by driving while the van's door was open, he added that others in the vehicle also "had some duty to close the door."

Mayor rejects Whittier resolution

By Darrell Clem staff writer

Westland Mayor Robert Thomas confirmed Friday that he won't sign a city council resolution urging the Livonia school district to drop plans for housing former Cooper Elementary students at Whittler until environmental issues are resolved.

"I have no intention of signing it," Thomas told the Observer.

Thomas stopped short of criticizing the seven-member city council for voting unanimously last Monday to adopt the non-binding resolution.

"I'm sure they did it with good intentions," he said. "But I'm not going to add my name to it. That would just add more fuel to the controver-

The mayor said the council has not asked him to sign the resolution.

The resolution called on the Livonia district to address environmental concerns before using Whittier school as an alternate site for students forced out of Cooper, where hazardous chemicals have been found in the soil.

Whittier is across the street from Cooper on Ann Arbor Trail, in the Westland portion of the Livonia dis-

The council's action surfaced after two members of the citizens group CHECK (Concerned for the Health and Environment of our Community's Kids) lashed out at the council for its silence on the Cooper contro-

THOUGH CHECK members later hailed the council for adopting the resolution, the action angered some Cooper-area parents who have labeled CHECK an extremist group.

Cindi Nichol, a parent of four, said she was "disappointed and angry that the council took such action" amld pressure from CHECK, which she said represents only one view in the Cooper controversy.

Nichol noted that most CHECK members are among the 111 parents who have received permission from the Livonia district to transfer their children out of Whittier. The parents remain concerned about potential health risks because of Whittler's

"The school district has given all parents a choice, and the members of the CHECK organization chose to transfer their children to other schools," Nichol said. "I no longer consider those parents as Cooper parents, and I feel that they have no right to ask for action from the Westland City Council that would affect my children.

Nichol, noting that her two elementary-age children will attend Whittler if new soil tests prove it's safe, said, "As a continuing Cooper parent, I have not let panic and fear of the unknown cloud my judgment in making my decision. I choose instead to listen to the experts who have knowledge in these matters.

'I DO not condemn any parent for the decisions that they make for their children, and I request the same courtesy for my decisions," Nichol said.

CHECK members have voiced concerns that Whittier could be unsafe during ongoing work on the Cooper site. The Livonia district must submit a proposed Cooper clean-up plan to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources by Friday.

Meanwhile, the results of soil tests on the Whittier site are not expected to be available until Tuesday or Wednesday of this week, UNR spokeswoman Mary Vanderlaan sald Friday. She blamed the delay on a four-day layoff of state workers which, resulted in lost laboratory pansion of its facilities from 4,000 to 9,800 square feet.

The 33-employee Smith Chemical & Wax Inc. on Marle Street, near the 1-275 overpass, is seeking the tax

Council member Kenneth Mehl has questioned whether the tax break should be approved because the company only leases the property and doesn't own it.

IN A council meeting last week, Mehl told economic development diabatement to boost the $423,000 ex- rector Scott Veldhuis that he didn't recall companies receiving tax abatements for leased property.

A state act makes it possible for cities to grant tax abatements.

"This act is not bad," Brown said. "The process is not had. It saves a lot of jobs in this state, and it has made this state more competitive."

COUNCIL MEMBER Thomas Artley was among those who requested more information on the proposed tax abatement. The council delayed a vote on the plan until additional details could be made available.

Some council members wanted more information on the amount of tax revenues that the city might miss out on as a result of the tax break. Veldhuls hasn't yet determined the amount, he said.

Mehl also asked for additional information on how many other industries in the city have received similar tax breaks.

Suspect in armed robbery shot, killed during getaway attempt

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

One suspect was killed and three others were arrested Friday following a botched daylight armed robbery at a crowded bar across the street from the Ford transmission plant in Livonia.

Livonia police said Friday afternoon they hadn't identified the victim, shot by an officer as he tried to flee the Good Times Bar parking lot in a 1988 Chevrolet Corsica sedan.

The car plowed into an unoccupied, parked pickup truck after the shooting.

The bar is on Plymouth Road, just west of Wayne Road, opposite the plant where many local residents

THE DRIVER, about 30 years old, was pronounced dead at the scene from a single gunshot wound to the upper body, police said.

Three suspected accomplices were scheduled for arraignment Sunday on armed robbery charges at Wayne County's out-county district court in Westland.

One man surrendered, a second was subdued by officers in the parking lot and the third was captured on foot in a residential neighborhood immediately south of the bar, police one man was taken by a Livonia EMS crew to St. Mary Hospital with head injuries.

The man was apparently kicked in the head by one of the suspects.

"It seemed like they had a plan. It just didn't work," said a bar patron who asked not to be identified.

Witnesses and police said there were 20-30 people inside the bar at 35085 Plymouth when the incident began shortly before 10:30 a.m.

Several customers were plant employees who had just cashed paychecks on their lunch break, witness-

THE SUSPECTS were inside the bar for several minutes before pulling four guns and announcing the holdup, witnesses said.

Patrons were herded against the wall and ordered to disrobe, according to police and witnesses.

"They told us to throw all our clothes in a pile," one patron said. "People were upset and didn't really know what the hell was going on."

The bar's owner activated a silent alarm shortly after the holdup was announced and officers arrived about the time the suspects were exiting the building, police said.

All money taken from patrons and a cash register was believed to have been recovered at the scene, Marlow

Marlow declined to comment on whether the suspects were familiar with the business or its patrons.

A NEIGHBORHOOD bike rider said he saw the frenzied conclusion to the incident while riding home on the opposite side of Plymouth Road.

"I figured it was a blown tire," said Rick Czarnota, 21, who was returning home after riding his 10speed to a nearby bank.

"I looked around and saw the cop with his gun drawn. He was shouting for the other guy (sitting in the passenger seat of the Corsica) to get

Marlow said the shooting would be fully investigated.

From preliminary police reports the shooting appeared justified, Marlow said.

The car was approaching the officer and the getaway car driver's gun was drawn, said Marlow. 'The officer yelled a number of times for him to stop and then fired once."

Travel agents meet, track industry news

The Michigan chapter of the American Society of Travel Agencies (ASTA) met recently at the Botsford Inn, Farmington. All the local travel industry professionals were there as well as industry reps from airlines, cruise lines, convention bureaus.

penalty. That's what industry associations are for, to spread the word. Here's a word you may not have heard: if you buy a cruise at a rate designed for Florida travelers only, you may be caught in the spot check made at the gangplank and forced to pay a higher rate.

The two main agenda items were the introduction of new officers and a seminar on cruises. The new president is A. Carlene Howe, general manager of Hudson's Travel Service in Southfield. Her officers are: first Vice President Gloria Schuler of Morely's Travel Service in Saginaw, second VP Dean Markwardt, president of Suburban Travel in Rochester Hills; Secretary Joan Brooks, district manager of Carlson Travel in Farmington Hills; Secretary Dena Moonen, vice president of Royal Oak Travel.

Here are some newsy tidbits from local cruise reps who were part of the ASTA seminar:

Lori Purcell of American-Hawaii Cruises: "Free upgrades If you book before Sept. 30. Our packages of three days at sea and four days on land are still the best way to see Hawaii. The Nov. 3 and Dec. 7 cruises commemorate the 50th anniversary of Pearl Randi S. Hoffmann of Premier Cruise Lines, which is associated with Walt Disney World (One of their three ships is the former Love Boat.): "We've extended our special so you can get a free upgrade at Walt Disney World through Dec. 20 or a discount on a

Maureen Morrell of Norwegian Cruise Lines: "The Sunward Two has been sold. In October we launch the new Sunward, formerly the Royal Viking Sky."

Mary Bergsman of Royal Caribbean Cruise Lines and Admiral Cruises: "The Monarch of the Sea, sister ship of the Sovereign of the Seas, will be launched Nov. 17. Group space is already sold out."

Judy Petschler of Commodore and Crown Cruise Lines: "The Crown Jewel will be launched next fall. We carry 700 passengers, so you won't have to get in line at 9 p.m. for the midnight buffet." That little dig at the big ships got a cheerful razz from the other cruise reps.

Colleen Flynn of Carnival Cruise Lines: "Carnival Airlines will resume three times a week flights to Nassau Jan. 27, 1992, offering three-, four- and sevenday packages to the Crystal Palace."

Patty Crichton of Holland American and Windstar: "We expect Alaska to be even bigger next year than it was this year. Detroit is the number one source of passengers for Holland America."

We are on Highway 29, on the way to another kind of poetry, the Napa Valley Wine Train, a luxury train that offers daily dining excursions through one of the world's premier wine-growing regions.

Lunch trains operate daily, dinner trains every day except Monday, on 36-hour round trips between Napa and St. Helena, Calif. The lunch train is the most popular because it allows passengers to see the valley in daylight.

We passed 25 of the more than 200 wineries that are the heart of Napa Valley.

The wine train is not a guided tour, so no chipper, loud-speaker voice exhorted us to look at the Mondayi Winery on our left or the Christmas tree farm on our right. Nothing detracted from the feeling of serenity.

Shortly after boarding, I moved from the founge car to the dining car for the first lunch seating. The wine train has two meal seatings on each trip; you can eat on the way to St. Helena or on the return

The dining car was a scene from a romantic old movie. Lunch was served at linen-covered tables set with bone china, sterling silver and crystal stemware. The lunch trainprice of $55 includes salad, dessert and a choice of entrees: broiled salmon in wine sauce, filet mignon in Cabernet and Roquefort sauce, grilled chicken in Chardonnay and

The five-course candlelight dinner, which costs $65, is even more elaborate than lunch. Dinner service includes hors d'oeuvres, a sorbet course, and an even wider choice of entrees. The dress on the dinner train is semiformal and the setting romantic as twilight settles over the Napa Valley.

On Saturdays and Sundays, the wine train also operates a champagne brunch train ($55) and a family car with special rates for children and an optional a la carte continental breakfast. Prices include the train, meal, taxes and service charges but not wine.

The train leaves Napa, about an hour's drive from San Francisco. A shuttle service also runs to Napa from San Francisco area hotels.

Wine country perfect for picnics

By Charlene Balosky special writer

"When I heard you were from Michigan, I had to come over and introduce myself. I lived in Redford and West Bloomfield and attended the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit," Mary Danieluk

Mary is the wine buyer for the Oakville Grocery, a fine gourmet shop on Highway 29 in the Napa Valley of California. I met her while I was browsing the walnutpistachio baklava and looking for a good place to have a picnic. The perfect picnic requires a great location and great food. The California wine country provides

More than 60 Napa Valley wineries have picnic sites, each with its own personality. I knew about the wooded grandeur of Rutherford Hills, the flowery hilltop elegance of Vichon and the one-stop convenience of V. Sattui with its on-site delicatessen. Was there another great winery picnic. site nearby?

Mary Danieluk and her husband, Douglas, know a lot about wineries. They lived in the burgundy area of France for three years while Douglas studied winemaking, and they have been using their skills here in the Napa Valley. People stop to buy lunch ingredients at the Oakville Grocery, or order lunch boxes 24 hours in advance for about $12. Mary sent me to a charming, secluded picnic site at Villa Mount Eden, a small, but prestigious winery off the beaten path (from Highway 29 drive east on Oakville Crossroad.)

Villa Mount Eden's narrow dirt driveway winds through fields of grapes, passes a farmhouse and a white clapboard winery, and ends in front of a small courtyard with trellised rose bushes, ivy-covered doorways and three picnic benches. The winery dogs, Dalsy and Sheba, who had been sleeping in the sun, strolled over to greet us.

The beauty of this winery is its serenity. In an area dominated by large wineries and crowded parking lots, Villa Mount Eden stands out as a peaceful, friendly oasis - and as a perfect picnic site. "People like this place because there's no traffic," said Barbara Harriman, assistant hospitality manager. Barbara said the picnic benches are available to customers who buy a bottle of wine.

European air fares cut

It's getting to be a game, isn't it? Every year we hold our breath in anticipation, knowing that the airlines will offer dramatically low fares to Europe during the fall season. This year, with sales off because of the Persian Gulf War and the recession, it was inevitable.

There are only minor differences between British Airways, Northwest Airlines and Delta Airlines: buy your ticket before Sept. 18, fly after Oct. 8, don't expect a refund. The fare to such cities as London and Frankfurt is $446 round trip from Detroit, it goes downito $386 if you fly Dec. 25 through March 15, minor variations in between. Stay six days to six British Airways also has a special fare if you buy by Sept. 11, fly from Oct. 15 through Dec. 1 and return by Jan. 4: $518 round trip.

The drug war peaked in 1989 in western Wayne County. The prosecutor's office credits Michigan's tough prison sentences — mandatory life for dealing in 2.2 pounds - and forfelture laws.

George Ward, chief assistant prosecutor, urged a state Senate panel to resist judges' efforts to "browbeat" them into reducing penalties. He also praised a program allowing the seizure of cars of suburban drug users.

"The argument carried by the media that mandatory (life) penaltles were intended for 'kingpins' and are being applied to those who are less than kingpins is groundless," Ward said last week. "The statute was not intended for. 'kingpins.' The kingpins live in Colombia, Miami or other port cities. Rarely could a Michigan court obtain jurisdiction over a kingpin. SOME LAWMAKERS and relatives of small dealers serving life terms want to ease the penalty, but Ward wants to keep it.

"The statute was intended for exactly who it's being applied against - big-quantity offenders. And as Wayne County statistics show, the statute is working.

"Indeed, it appears to be having precisely the deterrent effect intended," Ward told the Senate Committee on Criminal Law, beaded by Jack Welborn, R-Kalamazoo.

In reply to a question from Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville, Ward upheld a law allowing forfeiture of real estate. "There's a substantial tences without parole.

connection between real estate and cocaine," said Ward, referring to the Macomb County "Mother Lode"

FILLING IN for Prosecutor John O'Hair, Ward praised a program for punishing casual drug users by seizing their cars. The program, called "Push-off," should become a household word, he said.

"Its day-to-day operation (that) just involves street officers and a couple of paralegals at the Wayne County prosecutor's office. To date it has selzed 545 cars. And not one has resulted in a court challenge," Ward

Under Push-off, the county seizes the user's vehicle. The user can redeem it for $750 plus expenses for a first offense. Of the 545 seized vehicles, owners of 130 have redeemed them for a total of $97,000.

So far, the sheriff's department has seized 314 vehicles, Westland police 27, Detroit 24, Livonia 5, Redford Township 2, Canton Township 1, Northville Township 1 and State Po-

"WE ARE FAR from declaring total victory," Ward said, but he cited these case numbers as showing a downward trend:

• Suburban narcotics warrants peaked at 1,140 in 1989, slipped to 1,041 in '90 and are expected to be below 1,000 this year.

• Cases involving 650 grams (2.2 pounds) of drugs peaked at 53 in 1989, dropped to 34 last year and only 10 for the first six months of 1991 (estimated to reach 20 for the said the state Court of Appeals has year) in all of Wayne County. Convictions result in mandatory life sen-

• Cases involving 225 to 650 grams peaked at 61 in '89 and dropped to 39 in '90 and 16 for the first half of '91.

• Drug arraignments in Detroit alone showed a 20 percent drop over three years, and the murder rate has declined steadily from 616 in 1988 to 533 (annualized) this year.

THE SUBURBS produce three times as much value in confiscated drug dealer assets as Detroit - $1.9 million so far this year compared to less than $500,000 in Detroit.

"The head of our out-county warrant office estimates that 85 percent of all out-county felony crime has drug involvement," Ward said, adding the estimate may be low.

Ward, a Detroit lawyer who chaired the Wayne County Charter Commission a decade ago, credited the school program called DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) with changing students' attitudes.

COMMANDER Rudolfo Thomas of the Detroit police said his narcotics division is busting 10 to 15 crack houses a day.

"We have a decrease in crack houses," he said, estimating the current number at 1,000 to 2,000. "Some are going to Kalamazoo and Ohio."

"We can tell very well in Kalamazoo when you have a crackdown in Detroit," said Welborn, whose district touches that western Michigan

Both Thomas and Ingham County Sheriff Gene Wigglesworth asked for a state "no knock" law for crack house raids. "I've been on five raids where officers were shot because we gave them warning," Wigglesworth

Study says more airport space needed

By Tim Richard staff writer

Every county needs more airportspace, a regional planning agency says.

"Since 1959 in southeastern Michlgan, we've closed 30 airports and opened zero," sald Carmine Palombo, a staff member for the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

The draft plan covers 21 general aviation airports - used for freight, business and recreation. It doesn't address passenger travel, handled by Wayne County's Metro and Detroit's City Airports.

General aviation is expected to grow 42 percent — from 1.3 million flights in 1988 to 1.8 million in 2010, Palombo said.

THE STUDY finds "an over-rellance on privately owned airports, with half (10) of the public use airports owned privately.

"Privately owned airports can be readily closed, thereby weakening the regional system."

The broad-brush plan is in the hands of 500 local chambers of commerce, planning commissions and libraries in the region.

IN WAYNE County, Mettetal-Canton "should become publicly owned and expanded to 'basic utility I' status with a 2,700-foot runway. It would play a very significant role in the regional system at that level," the study says.

Willow Run's runway should be extended to 9,400 feet to fulfill needs for long-haul cargo capacity. The county-owned facility is in Van Buren Township.

Detroit Metropolitan, owned by the county, will provide "some small amounts of general aviation traffic over the next 20 years."

City Airport, on Detroit's east side, has some short-haul passenger service but is primarily a general aviation facility. Current usage justi-. fies a 7,000-foot runway or a new runway of 6,000 to 6,500 feet for general and passenger aviation.

LIVINGSTON County should ex-

The study recommends that publiely owned Livingston County Airport be expanded to "transport category" (runway length of 5,400 feet for everything but large planes) by lengthening its runway andadding navigational equipment.

Privately owned Brighton Airport probably cannot expand due to land use constraints, the study says.

OAKLAND County, with five airports, is expected to see "an exceptionally large growth in turbinepowered aircraft" by 2010, the study. says, Oakland-Pontiae Airport's main

Troy-Oakland Airport can't be expanded but could use more service

A third publicly owned airport is needed in the "transport" category - 5,400 feet of runway to handle all but the larger passenger and cargo planes. Spencer Field near Wixom should be consideredfor public ownership.

WASIITENAW County is expected to see great growth in turbine-powered aircraft. Ann Arbor Municipal, the only airport serving the county, is recommended for development to "transport" category with a 5,400-foot runway and improved navigational equipment.

If it can't be expanded, the county should construct a new transport category airport elsewhere, the study says.

MACOMB County has no publicly owned, public-use airport and needs a "transport" category airport with 5,400 feet of runway and a "general utility" airport.

Tests don't compare objectives at same time

Q. I am a fourth grade teacher getting ready for school this fall. This summer I took a testing course in graduate school and the course confirmed my suspicions that the standardized tests we give children : do not all measure the same skills at ___ the same grade level. One test will measure a skill that is not measured by another standardized test until a fater grade. Am I right in this obser: vation? What does that mean to teachers in the trenches?

A. You are right according to Tudor Marketing of San Diego, Calif. Tudor Marketing is developing a series of Grade Level Examinations on computer disks that assesss what children should know when they leave, i.e. the fourth grade to be successful in the fifth grade.

Tudor Marketing found that subtraction of decimals was tested at the third grade level on the California Achievement Test, at the fourth grade level on the Stanford Achievement Test and at the fifth grade on the Iowa Test of Basic Skills.

Sequencing of events, in the language arts section, was an eye opener. Sequencing is when a young child teads or reviews a story and places the events in a logical manner. The skill determines if the child can think logically, reason and under- the results will harm the school stand events as they occur in a spe-

Sequencing was tested at the third. grade level on the "Stanford" at the fifth grade on the "California" and at the seventh grade on the "Iowa."

THIS MEANS that your elementary school curriculum best adopt itself to the expectations of the external standardized test your district

For example, let's say a district uses the California Achievement Test. The CAT assesses subtraction of decimals at the third grade level.

Let's assume the district's third grade teachers "cover" subtraction of decimals but generally have assumed subtraction of decimals is a skill to be fully "mastered" by stu-dents in the fourth or fifth grade.

Subtraction of decimals by all third grade students on the standardized test probably won't occur and building and district's test scores.

If this same district used the "Iowa", test, where subtraction of decimals is measured in the fifth grade, the children should produce better scores on the subtraction of decimals section, and the school and district tests scores would look good.

It's the same with "sequencing of events." Sequencing is measured at the third grade on the "Stanford;" at the seventh grade on the "lowa." Guess which school district will do better in sequencing! You got it the district using the "Iowa" where children receive four more years of practice until they are tested on the master all the questions.

TESTING COMPANIES will point out these are "norm-reference" tests and children are not supposed to

I personally believe homemade tests by the district's teachers, called criterion reference tests, make the most sense. This type of test is based on "outcomes," skills children must have to be successful at the next grade level.

Teachers meet, develop the tests, and all agree who will take the responsibility for mastery of clearly defined, specific skills, knowing some students still will have problems. I used this process in a district years ago and it worked.

In fairness to testing companies, some have banks of questions school -districts can use to develop criterion reference tests.

To answer your question, whatdoes standardized testing mean to teachers in the trenches, Unforfunately, it means teachers will probably still use the same lingo. Your fourth grade child scored at the 78 percentile or better than 77 percent of the children in math throughout the United States on the day this test was given."

IT IS SAFE to say that statement doesn't tell parents the specifics and, frankly, most don't understand norming, national sampling, etc.

It would be much better to say, "Your child can (or cannot) multiply three digit numbers." Now you are telling the parents something they can understand.

San Diego's Tudor Marketing is putting together and marketing Grade Level Examinations at the third, or fourth and fifth grades on computer disks. Their ads will appear in everything from Fortune and Parenting magazine to the Wall Street Journal.

. Parents will sit with their child, as-the test administrators, and the parent will know exactly, from a print-out, whether the child has mastered the fundamentals necessary for success at the next grade level. -If-this product goes as "Hooked on Phonics" has gone, there will be some interesting questions asked at teacher/parent conferences over and above, "Your Johnny is doing."

Abortions destroy lives

Abortion is the very total destruction of a live, human unborn, baby! How can anyone agree, that it can be a "personal choice" . . . though an erroneous law permits it.

The advocates of abortion are not fond of having the public educated about what happens in the abortion chambers, simply because they know deep in their hearts, that no one would agree to it, except to save the life of the mother . . . if they truly knew the facts here.

They find this most intimidating. Furthermore, those in the abortion business would be out of business.

Politics to blame for budget stalemate

By Tim Richard staff writer

As kids head back to school, state politics is the last thing on their minds.

But for school boards, teachers unions, Gov. John Engler and legislative leaders, politics is the biggest worry. Michigan still has no budget for fiscal 1992. The Republican-run Senate and Democratrun House are at a stalemate.

"It's time (Democratic House speaker Lew Dodak) stopped playing Russian Roulette with the budget and got the job done," Republican Goy. John Engler said last week.

Dodak said his party would submit "continuation" budget bills .extending 1991 spending patterns into fiscal 1992, which begins Oct. 1 - In case the stalemate isn't re-

Dodak told reporters he is instructing the conference committees to move ahead on budget bills. with the proviso that they be tie to the "continuation" bills if his battle with Engler remains unresolved.

A conference committee has six members: two Republicans and a Democrat from the Senate, two Democrats and a Republican from the House.

LAST WEEK both chambers held brief sessions Thursday morning, the first time in three weeks they had gathered. They will meet again in three more weeks -Wednesday, Sept. 11.

Said Engler: "I sent him (Dodak) a balanced budget on March 7. We've already walted over five months."

Some effects:

• School districts can't' make hiring decisions on teachers who were pink-slipped in June. School districts' fiscal year began July 1.

• Colleges and universities are raising tuitions "to compensate for the uncertainty," Engler said. Part of that uncertainty is due to Engler's decision to delay '91 fourthquarter state aid payments to fis-

WHEN TO COME IN

Physicians who treat arthritis won't concede that Americans are soft. The problem is just the opposite: On matters of joint pain, you wait too long to be seen. Part of the delay stems from hope: that tomorrow your swollen knee or painful shoulder will improve and not need special attention. Part of the delay comes out of a reluctance to ask for help from family, friends or employer. However, too often the delay results from an attitude that you should tough it out, show resolve, and maintain your independence.

If pain that used to end in a day is ongoing, you may be in a flare. Other signs are increasing stiffness, unending tredness, and joint swelling at a site not previously

If you are experiencing such changes, your physician likely would prefer that you set aside pride and see him soon. The reason is that as a flare continues, it recruits more joints as both inflammation spreads, and uninvolved joints become painful from overuse. Also, the longer the flare, the more your fatigue, and the greater the difficulties that therapy must overcome.

If your arthritis worsens, schedule an early appointment with your doctor. At the least you will become educated on your arthritis; at best your efforts will bring a return to well

Positive vibes

Clarenceville coach Ladd optimistic

By Brad Emons staff writer

With 1,638 yards gone in total offense, you'd think Livonia Clarenceville's Mark Ladd would be crying the blues.

But the second-year coach isn't bemoaning the fact that quarterback Kendrick Harrington, who rushed 1,232 yards and passed for 406, has graduated.

On the contrary, Mark is one happy Ladd.

"This year we can win seven or eight, and with that, we could make the playoffs (Class CC)," Ladd said. "We have some tough teams on our schedule, but we're as good as last year. The kids are more comfortable with the system, whereas last year they had a brand new coach coming in at the beginning of the season.'

The Trojans finished 5-4 a year ago, led by Harrington, a firstteam All-Observer Area pick at defensive back.

First team All-Metro Conference kicker Brian Mahoney is also gone, along with second-team allleaguers Randy Wallace, an offensive tackle, and Andy Van Erp, a linebacker.

Harrington's replacement is 5foot-10, 160-pound junior Dave Horvath, who played running back and linebacker last year at the JV level.

"I GOT HIM in track season," Ladd said. "He throws the ball real well. When he's on, he's very good. And when he's off, it will be a crap shoot. That's why we have to play good defense."

Offensively, the Trojans will run the yeer attack out of multiple sets. Horvath will be more of a passer, but less of a runner than Gjoka Ljucaj wili play nose guard with Nunnery and senior Ryan Lynn (6-3, 180) at the ends.

Van Erp returns at linebacker with Sharp leading the secondary. Ladd also has a promising freshman, 5-10, 170-pound Jeremiah

"He could be at linebacker and back-up center," Ladd said. "He'll play somewhere. He squats 330 pounds." The kicking game got a boost when Andres Tuells, a junior exchange student from Spain, arrived in camp and demonstrated a strong leg. Soop, meanwhile, will do the punting chores.

THE KEY, however, to Clarenceville's 1991 success is de-

"If we play good defense, we'll be OK," said the Clarenceville coach. "We'll rely on defense and special teams, and we think we have some things we can do with the different personnel."

With only 24 players, Ladd hopes he keep everybody healthy throughout the year.

The major challenge is beating perennial power Auburn Hills Avondale (10-1 overall last year) in the Metro. This is the last season for Avondale in the Metro. The Yellowjackets will move into the Macomb Area Conference for 1992-93.

"Avondale is tough, but I don't mind playing them," Ladd said.

Patriots' Vigna frets about line

By Brad Emons staff writer

In his 17th season as head football coach at Livonia Franklin High, Armand Vigna may be faced with his biggest challenge.

Vigna never has had a problem with numbers, until this year.

"Depth is a problem," said Vigna, who has only 33 players in varsity uniform this year. "This team will have to learn a lot."

The Patriots went 3-6 last season, but could have easily reversed that count, having lost three close games.

But the '91 squad may be hardpressed to duplicate last year's record. "We're going to have to count on the pass to establish the run," Vigna said. "If we throw successfully, it will open up holes. We'll play around with different formations. We'll bring a few things out of the closet, things we haven't used lately."

The slow development of the offensive and defensive lines have set the Patriots back somewhat during the preseason. The offensive backfield, however, appears to be set.

DAVID LITTLE, a 5-foot-10, 165pound junior up from the JV squad, will take over at quarterback. "He's a lefty with a decent arm," Vigna said. "He's going to have to pass it." The team's top athlete is senior fullback Aaron Shakarian (5-10, 184).

He is also the team's strongest play-"He's a good, hard-nosed runner," Vigna said. "He's also only one rep (repetition) off Bobby Johnson's (an

All-Area player last year) bench-press record." Shakarian will be joined in the backfield by seniors Scott Olson (5-10, 140) and Fred Vargas (5-5, 152), along with junior Eric Holmes (5-8, 156). Vargas can also play fullback, while Holmes will back up at quar-The flankers will be seniors Eric Mittig (5-11, 157) and Jeff Hunt (5-9, 150). Junior James Sewruk (5-9, 140) and senior Richard Ingold (6-0, 140) will see action at split end. Jason Facione, a 6-3, 197-pound junior, will be the tight end, but the rest of the interior line is unsettled. Only centers Bryan Berger (5-11, 241) and Jeff Veith (5-11, 240) appear-to have spots nailed down.

"RIGHT NOW only two or three (linemen) can step in," said Vigna, who guided the Patriots to the 1975 state Class A title. "We've always had two or three people come through, but we may have to settle on some sophomores later on. Right now we haven't had enough to scrimmage." Another ray of hope lies in the kicking game, where Vigna is enthused about the punting of Little and the leg of senior Keith Roberts

"It's the best we've had there in awhile," said the Franklin coach.

'We're going to have to count on the pass to establish the run.'

- Armand Viana Franklin coach

Franklin's 4-3 defense will be anchored by its linebacking corps -Facione in the middle, flanked by Shakarlan and junior Kevin Marinkovich (5-9, 182). Senior Matt Boschi (5-6, 174) should also see time.

Depth, however, remains a problem, even at linebacker.

"We have only five linebackers contesting for three spots," Vigna

The secondary has a little more depth. Vigna will rely on Mittig and Sewruk at free safety, with Roberts, Olson and Holmes at the corners.

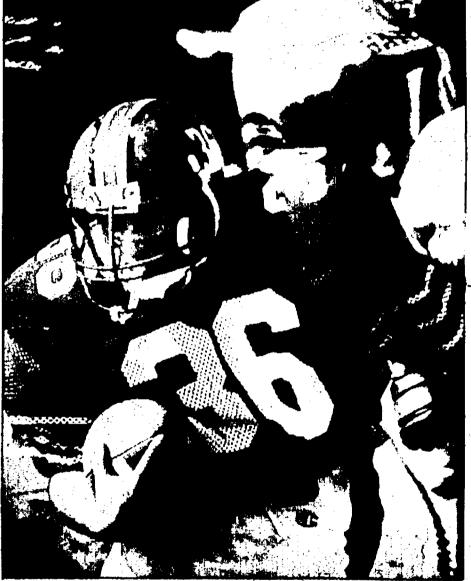

Vigna, meanwhile, will not rest any easier until some lineman em-

Madonna volleyball ready to turn corner in 5th year

staff writer ...

For three seasons, the low rumbling was constant; something was building at Madonna University. Just how big a project it would turn out to be was uncertain, although, as time progressed, it grew in magnitude.

Now the project is near completion. This should be the season a determination can be made as to its success.

If that sounds like pressure being applied to a still-unfinished job, well, it is. Because Madonna's volleyball program, under coach Jerry Abraham, is entering its fifth year. He will have his first-ever recruited scnior class. He will have more depth, more experience and more talent than in any of his previous four seasons.

The Lady Crusaders have been gaining momentum for four years. The roof is completed; all that remains are the ornate, final touches.

"WE HAVE 13 players who can second of three daily practice ses- nia Stevenson. sions last week. "This is a very talented group. They are constantly, in practice day after day, challenging each other.

"We have a combination of youth and experience. And this is the first time we've had seniors."

All the components are in place, beginning with all-NAIA District 23 player Tonia Smith, a 5-foot-9 junior lest-side hitter from Walled Lake Central HS. Smith, said Abraham, "could be a candidate for district player of the year. She's a key player for us." But Smith is hardly the Crusaders' only weapon. This is a team that went 34-18 in 1990 and finished second in the district playoffs to perennial champion Northwood Institute. They didn't accomplish all that by being a one-player team. INDEED, ONLY one starter is missing from last season's squad: Stacey Girard, a left-side hitter who dropped out of school. Her position should be filled quife adequately by Elena Oparka, a 5-9 junior who played at Schoolcraft College in '90; sophomore Evette Sluder, a 5-9 sophomore from Wayne Memorial; or play," said Abraham following the Sue Bell, a 5.8 freshman from Livo-

All-Star sponsor Ansara hailed

HE EVENT WAS the 55th Annual John P. Gavle Invitational Tournament. It could have been aptly called the "Who's Who in Local Bowling Circles," Monday hight, Aug. 19, at Thunderbowl. One of the highlights of the opening ceremonies was a presentation to Lew An-sara of Farmington Hills. In fact, the tournament was held in honor of Ansara in recognition and appreciation for more than 20 years of sponsorship of the all-stars. This tournament is recognized as the official kick-off of the bowling season.

It is the starting signal for the H & L Distributors Tuesday All-Stars at Thunderbowl and the Schaefer Beer Thursday All-Star Traveling Classic.

Ansara is the honorary president of both leagues. His own team, Ansara's Big Boy, always regarded as one of the top teams in the city, set some new scoring records. along the way last year.

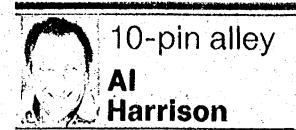

Nobody has ever been more deserving of being honored than Ansara. His name has probably been embroldered on more bowling shirts than anyone around as he has sponsored many teams, a few leagues and numerous tournaments. Lew has been one of local bowling's biggest supporters and boosters.

Lew is a fine bowler in his own right, having competed in some of the top leagues in the area. The Ansara family has the Big Boy restaurants in Livonia, Garden City, Westland and Redford. Not very many businessmen know the real value of sponsorship in bowling. The Ansaras sure do, and the money they spend for bowlers is well appreclated among the bowling community, As for the bowling tournament, there were too many high games and great names in bowling to list them here, however, the media team comprised of certain bowling writers easily dispatched the "Sponsor" team from the Schaefer Beer Co.

By the way Lew, I'd like a "Brawny Lad" sandwich and fries.

• What's in a name? There is a new high performance ball coming out this fall from AMF. It will be called the "Sumo." I haven't seen it yet, but I don't think it will be any larger than most other bowling balls.

• Earlier this month, the Greater Detroit Bowling Hall of Fame committee met to vote for the individuals deemed worthy of selection. Aside from the bowling accomplishments, the criteria for selection includes congeniality, dress code, promotion of the game, conduct on and off the lanes and good fellowship.

The final selections by category: Mcn — Bob Chamberlain; Veteran's — Bob Goike and Jack Born; Women - Yvonne Barnes; Meritorious Service - Robert Wissmuller.

The hall of fame dinner will be held on Nov. 3 at the Ukranian Cultural Center in Warren.

 Happy retirement wishes to a long-time bowling buddy, Iry "Flying Tiger" Kempner, who is packing up to move to Tucson, Ariz., with his lovely wife Mary. Irv has been a Masonic League bowler locally for the past 30 years and will be missed. He was on championship teams with me in 1965 and agin in '89.

• In case you missed it, the ABC has a brand new type of award this year: a wrist watch to commemorate a game bowled of 100 pins over average. This is a very attractive award, and an attainable goal for many

• Look for the Observer & Eccentric personal bowling scorecard at all area bowling centers. These are handy to keep a record of your league scores, or if you're not in a league, you can still have a log of your open bowling scores and use it to compute your bowling average. They are free of charge.

Personally I have kept such records for 32 years of league bowling. I know exactly how many 200 games, 600 series, and in which houses, I have bowled.

Nora stands out for Michigan AAU squad

The record doesn't exactly reflect it. but the first-ever Michigan under-19 boys soccer team to compete at the national AAU championships performed splendidly.

The tournament, held in Tallahassee July 31-Aug. 2, attracted 20 leams from throughout the nation. Still, it was no Florida vacation for the Michiganders. For yarious reasons, several members of coach Wayne Worosz's team had to... cancel at the last moment; just 13 made the trip.

Which proved to be Michigan's downfall. The local team won its first three games, beating eventual gold medalist Port Austin, Texas, 1-0, in the opener after keeper Dave Glaser stopped a penalty kick.

After that, Michigan ripped Athens, Ala., 10-0, with Joe Nora (from Redford Catholic Central and Plymouth), scoring four goals and Mike Weiskirch and Craig Hageman each netting three. Michigan then rolled past Lake Odessa. Texas, 8-1, with Hageman and

Weiskirch getting two goals apiece. But Michigan's fortunes nosedived in its next match, against the Tallahassee Rovers. Injuries sidelined four players during the game; Michigan finished with just nine players and lost, 8-0.

Michigan was still without the four injured players when it met the defending champs from Escondido, Calif., who beat the locals 6-1. In its final game, Michigan needed a win over Cut Hills, Tenn., to reach the medal round, but even with its full team Michigan fell short. 2-1.

Other team members were Jason Carmein, Bob Mainhardt, Brandon Miller, Eric Petker, Jason Seltz, Nate Stovall, Wayne Worosz; Phil York and Steve Loveday. Seitz and Nora were named to the alltournament team.

Madonna primed for '91 season

The middle-hitting is what pleases Abraham most. It was strong already, with all-district player Dana Hicks-Finley, a 6-0 sophomore from Milford-Lakeland, and two-year starter Kristy McFadden, a 6-1 senior from Redford Bishop Borgess, returning.

Now it's even better, with the addition of 6-0 freshman Julie Adams, from Temperance-Bedford HS. "She's big and strong, and she'll challenge for playing time," said Abraham. "She balances us in the middle. It's the strongest we've ever been there."

On the right side, Abraham can call on several experienced players. Melissa Mars, a 5-10 junior from Borgess who "plays with a lot of en- kins (5-7 from Lapeer East) and Pauthusiasm," is the leading candidate to start, said Abraham. Mazie Pilut. a 5-10 sophomore from Borgess who is battling 5-5 senior Penny Baker (Lincoln Park) for playing time at setter, is another possibility-

SO IS freshman Maureen Paulin, a 5-9 Farmington Hills Mercy graduate from Livonia. "She's an excellent all-around player." Abraham said of Paulin, "She attacks well, she serves well, she's very strong defensively. Like Sue Bell, she comes from an excellent program."

Senior Jenny Sladewski. 5-6 from Stevenson, is the top returning defensive specialist. But there's depth there, too, with freshmen Carrie Jen-

In an effort to improve his veteran corps, Abraham implemented a tough off-season strength and conditioning program. It's already paid dividends. "We're stronger and in better shape physically at this point (of the pre-season)," he said. "We're able to demand more of them in practice."

EARLY CONDITIONING may be necessary, considering Madohna's schedule. The Crusaders open this weekend at the Mesa State College Tournament in Grand Junction, Colo. Others competing in the fiveteam tournament are Brigham Young-Hawali, Fort Hayes State .Kansasi Azusa Pacific (California) and host-team Mesa State. All are ranked in the NAIA's pre-season top

We have a very challenging schedule," said Abraham. Included is the district slate. Defending champ Northwood won't abdicate without a fight: "Northwood returns almost everybody, and they picked up a couple of recruits," said Abraham.

The rest of the district teams could be equally challenging. "It should be a very competitive league this year," predicted Abraham. "There were not a lot of seniors last year."

Still, with the nucleus Madonna returns, there's no reason not to expect a Crusader campaign that stretches into the NAIA tournament's latter

Missed chances kill 'Dead Again'

Despite some nifty twists, "Dead Again" is another missire attempt at reviving the spirit of Alfred Hitchcock. Where the master of suspense would collar you and lead you through an emotionally complex thriller, actor/director Kenneth Branagh rarely musters up that kind of involvement.

And it's too bad, because the basic premise had possibilities. Branagh stars as Mike Church, a private detective in Los Angeles who specializes in locating missing persons. His attempt to uncover the identity of a woman with amnesia (Emma Thompson) leads to some shocking revelations.

Under hypnosis, the woman regresses to a past life, back to the time when she was the victim in a notorious 1948 murder. As the wife of German composer Roman Strauss, she was stabbed in her bed with a pair of expensive scissors. Detective Church, we discover, may be the murderer reincarnated, ready to strike again.

"It's the karma credit plan," says the whacked-out psychiatrist played forever."

BRITON BRANAGH, the Oscarnominated talent behind "Henry V" in 1989, has packed plenty into his American debut. If nothing else, 'Dead Again" is extremely cinematic. It employs a constantly moving camera and jumps from the present to extended black-and-white sequences in the past. The actors play dual roles.

Branagh fares best as the pointybearded German composer with a sagging career and a violent temper. As a modern-day detective, his character is a washout. According to the scriptwriter, simply having him drive a vintage sports car and colby Robin Williams. "Buy now, pay lect antique furniture is all the character clues they need to give him.

Thompson, so memorable as George Sand in "Impromptu," is more comfortable with her roles. As the amnesiac, she is vulnerable and speaks through her eyes. As planist Margaret Strauss, she is bold, beautiful, aristocratic and almost open to the invitations of a handsome journalist (played by Andy Garcia).

Branagh has assembled an amazing supporting cast. Robin Williams goes uncredited as a former shrink who now runs an inner-city grocery store. As a running gag, Garcia's character is in constant need of a shave, even when he's interviewed at age 80. Derek Jacobi is wonderfully quirky as the antiques dealer who practices hypnosis on the side.

SOME OF THE ideas work. The hypnotist, we discover, uses the buried memories of elderly clients to track down valuable antiques. And among Branagh's other cinematic treats, banner headlines float across the screen during the opening credits, immediately bringing us up-todate on the Strauss murder.

And there is a corker of a plot twist. I won't give it away, but will warn that it, too, is a disappointment because Branagh just drops it and lets it lay there. He could have done so much more.

Which pretty much sums up the entire movie. "Dead Again" takes itself so seriously and is so earnestly crafted that it has no time for fun. The dialogue, especially in the love scenes, borders on embarassing

The film will strike a chord with some audiences, the same ones that consider "Somewhere in Time" and "Ghost" among the modern classics. The idea of love going beyond time and death is always a bopular one, even when it arrives in such a blandly wrapped package.

Hoskins is good in 'Good Friday'

There's a Rolls with a driver, a underdog who made good and not London apartment and a gorgeous could a crime boss want?

How about a deal with a shady American money man for a Thames riveriront development, including a new Olympic stadium, that will legitimize your ill-gotten financial empire and make lots more money?

That's the position gangster Harold Shand finds himself in on a pleasant Good Friday morning. Life is good for Harold, played by Bob Hoskins, who has headed his crime operation without any major conflicts for a decade. But things are about to hit the fan.

The first sign of trouble is a bomb that blows up Harold's driver and narrowly misses dear old Mum, who was taking her time at church services. A close associate is murdered, and bombs keep going

"The Long Good Friday" follows Hoskins' efforts to close his deal with the Yank and retain control pire, as soon as he can figure out who is attacking him.

WITH HIS pit bull demeanor, Hoskins is terrific as the cockney gangster whose ruthlessness and arrogance got him the power and material success he attained. dictate where he will end up.

Hoskins' Harold Shand is the kind of guy who will weepily reminisce about a murdered friend, who he was planning to force out of the "corporation" anyway, and later kill another associate in a rage.

yacht the Queen Mother wouldn't really like a had guy. In a telling look down her nose at, a penthouse moment, Hoskins despairs about what he could have done to deserve upper-crust girlfriend. What more his current predicament and asks for ideas about who might be responsible. His associate reminds Hoskins that he had killed all his rivals.

This 1979 film has none of the romanticized view of organized crime found in "The Godfather," Hoskins pays his underlings well to keep their support. It's good for business.

When he's threatened, his basic self-preservation instinct kicks in, and he terrorizes anyone who might have the information he needs. That includes some associates hauled in for a private meeting in a meat-procesting plant

AS HIS organization continues totake hits, Hoskins describes the situation as being "like a bad night in Belfast." The American gangster, concerned about the problems with his British counterpart's organization, says, "It's like a bad night in Viet Nam."

Chain's future is 'Out'

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

A band on the run? Not in Chain Reaction's case.

Up to this point, the four-man outfit with former Westland residents Eric Harabadian and Bob Drozdzewski might be classified as a bunch of shut-ins. Instead of being familiar faces on the club circuit, they have been something like studio monks, busy producing their latest effort, "Out of the Ruins."

The cassette release features a taut combination of 1960-70's experimental hard rock guitar virtuosity grounded, in blues-based rhythms and mixed in with New World sensibilities. Inflections of jazz, reggae and Latin interspersed throughout. "How I see our sound is we're a rock band who also does blues that is influenced by jazz and world music," sald vocalist and guitarist Harabadi-

CHAIN REACTION has spent five years trying to perfect this notion. Live appearances have been limited, though the band is trying to line up dates in September in order to promote "Out of the Ruins." Also in the works is a video special that will appear on local cable outlets.

Already, cuts from "Out of the Ruins" are getting air play on "De-Music Scene" and on Judy Adams' show on WDET-FM. College stations such as WHFR-FM at Henry Ford Community College and WORB-FM at Oakland Community College have played selections from the cassette as well.

.All of this vindicates members of Chain Reaction, who don't buy into the fashion or the enlightened attitude of an alternative outfit. If anything, they resemble your average Joe musicians sitting in Harabadi-≥ àn's living room.

Familiarity apparently breeds quiet confidence. Harabadian and Drozdzewski started jamming together 10 years ago.

"I TRIED to imitate (former Led Zeppelin drummer, the late) John Bonham," Slittl said. "I found percussion more absorbing."

Likewise Slitti's partner in rhythm, Jardine, mentions the names of jazz artists such as Billy Cobham and Jean Luc Ponty. These world sensibilities are melded with traditional forms of rock'n'roll brought forth by Drzod-zewski and Harabadian. "I think the key is we listen to a

Freezer pies are no sweat

By Larry Janes special writer

With the unusually hot weather we have been sweating over lately, I can't imagine why anyone would want to spend an afternoon in the kitchen baking ples when refreshing alternatives like fridge and freezer ples take minutes to prepare, and bring raves from friends and family.

Contrary to popular belief, today's prepackaged ple shells aren't really as bad as momma said, and let's face it, on a hot, humid day, who wants to spend time making a pie shell anyway?

IN ALL honesty though, with a food processor and a package of Oreos, wonderful crusts can be prepared in seconds. The best thing about using Oreos is the old rule: "use one, eat one," which is half the fun. Add 2 tablespoons of chilled butter or margarine or for a more adult taste, a splash of liqueur and you can press a pie pan crust in 2 minutes flat. Even dieters can produce elegant and mouth-watering crusts using graham crackers (bread exchange) or those dietetic cookies that taste pretty cruddy by themselves, but made into a crust and frozen come out not half bad.

If you want to make the crusts as exciting as the filling, and you have central air conditioning, try adding some shredded coconut, finely chopped walnuts, chopped fruit or shaved chocolate to the crust mixture. While experimenting with the recipesfor this column, I took a prebaked, frozen ple crust and brushed it down with melted chocolate, then chilled it till the chocolate set. This not only made a flaky, fattening and fantastic crust, but the chocolate prevented the crust from getting "soggy" when filled with ice cream, pudding, mousse or whatever.

AS FAR as fillings are concerned, the simple addition of ice cream or the more complex mixtures of egg whites, gelatins and whipped cream top the charts as favorites. A simple crust filled with ice cream and then topped with fudge sauce, whipped cream and cherries can "chill out" the steamiest of summer desserts. Sure, homemade ice cream or those "premium" varieties that sell for $3 a quart are best, but when adding toppings, flavors, liqueurs, nuts and fruit, basic store bought simple flavors work best. Chuck the ice milk. Freezer ples with the creamlest textures are made with real ice cream. To soften ice cream or sherbet, let it stand at room temperature for about 15 minutes. If only using part of the ice cream, remove the amount needed from the container, return the container to the freezer and let the ice cream in the bowl soften. To speed the softening, break up the ice cream and stir. Under no circumstances should the ice cream melt or it will contain ice crystals after the ple is refrozen. Yours truly experimented with homemade ice cream, premium ice cream, cheap ice cream, sherbet and dietetic ice cream. Smoothest results came from homemade and premium varieties.

PLAIN, UNADORNED sherbets picked up the flavor of liqueurs and flavorings best while cheap ice cream and plain dietetic desserts made for plain tastes, that could easily have been spruced up with the addition of fresh fruit and toppings. But why top dietetic desserts with. toppings that far out-calorie their bases? This seems as silly as adding club soda to a glass of wine. Some people will do just about anything to reduce caloric

City slickers find fresh produce at community markets

By Larry Janes special writer

F YOU are looking for the freshest and finest vegetables this summer at a price that just can't be beat, you should be checking out the local farm market scene.

Anyone living in metropolitan Detroit can take a short drive to many community farm markets, with some being even a bike ride or jog away.

The granddaddy of all the community farm markets is the Eastern Market at I-75 and Gratiot, just north of downtown. If Saturdaymorning crowds are any indication of quantity and quality, this is it. Come early for the best quality, stay late for the best buys.

THE CHENE-FERRY Market and Royal Oak farm markets are also bursting at the seams with dozenfor-a-dollar corn, and bushels of tomatoes, cukes, and other summer vegetables. The Chene-Ferry Market is another oldie, but goodie, just off the I-94 freeway at Chene, northeast of downtown Detroit.

The Royal Oak farmers market is on 11 Mile Road, just east of Main, and is open Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays. Both are worth the drive, and are open all Getting a little more personal are the small community farm markets. Plymouth has a winner on its hands with a Saturday-morning market just across the street from the town square in what is known as "the Gathering." In addition to farm goods on the western front are wonderful cheesecakes, and some of the best homemade bread and muffins in town.

Westsiders can also enjoy the Livonia farmers' market now at the historic Wilson Barn on the corner of Middelbelt and West Chicago. This old homestead used to be the home of the Wilson Dairy Farm and residents who lived in the area for a few years remember when cows used to graze along Middelbelt Road. My, how times have changed.

My last visit to the Livonia farmers' market found a great selection of fresh herbs, most still in the pot for sunny windowsills, an abundance of corn, tomatoes, the ever-present zucchini, and some of the best local honey this side of town. Although this market is only open Saturdays, 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. May through Oct. 12, farm fresh produce is always in abundance. Come fall, the property is taken over with pumpkins, cider, and crisp apples.

THE CITY of Northville also operates a quaint farm market on Thursdays, right across the street from Northville Downs on Center Street at 7 Mile Road. Operating also from May through October, a recent visit found baskets of fresh berries, and the usual summer produce, all way below grocery store prices, and undoubtedly twice as

Why venture to a small local farmers market you ask? Anyone who has ever visited and browsed the stalls of the local farmers knows that those tomatoes weren't picked last week. bats at the grocers.

One of the nicetles of community farmers markets is that you'll probably run into a few neighbors toting field-fresh goodies in their wagons and string bags. Speaking of which, seasoned marketers know the importance of small wagons, plenty of tote bags and luggage carriers for added convenience. Save a tree and bring your own bag — that also helps keep the farmers' prices down.

Many communities sponsor farm markets in and around metropolitan Detroit.

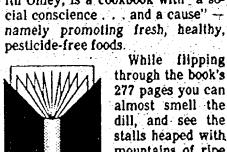

Nearby markets include the Lansing Muncipal Market, 333 N. edar, Lansing, open year-round

Tues., Thurs., and Sat. 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. May through October; and the Oakland County Farm Market, Pontiac Lake Road, west of Telegraph, open Tues., Thurs. and Saturdays, 6:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Some community markets operate only during harvest times. Call the local city hall for definitive hours and times of operation.

REVIEW

OLNEY VISITED one-third of the nation's 2,000 farm markets to write the book. It is a wonderful collection of reports on small-town and big-city markets and their trends; profiles and conversations with vendors and farmers; recipes and adaptations of the foods Olney sampled; and growing and cooking tips.

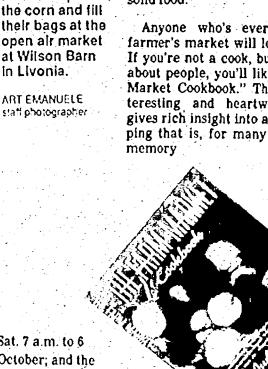

Two Michigan markets are featured - The Lansing Farm Market, and Eastern Market in Detroit.

As a child, Olney visited the Lansfive years later, the memories are still sweet.

"About the only thing really different," she writes, "was a covered ramp connecting the two buildings, and the fact that the point on the 500-pound scales under the ramp now gave swift confirmation of adulthood."

Of the Eastern Market she writes "It reminded me a bld of the old Les Halles district in Paris - lots of speclalty stores along the side streets that spun off from the market sheds, the beginning of a set of restaurants open long hours that served good, solid food."

Anyone who's ever been to a farmer's market will love this book. If you're not a cook, but are curious about people, you'll like "The Farm Market Cookbook." The book is interesting and heartwarming, and gives rich insight into a way of shopping that is, for many of us, just a

Use cookies for Alexander Valley wine is rich

Use of an American Viticultural Area on a wine label requires an 85percent varietal minimum in the bottled wine. An AVA is defined by the Bureau of Alcohol Tobacco and Firearms as "a grape-growing region with established boundaries, soil, climate, elevation, and/or other geographical features which distinguish it from the surrounding areas."

'Occasionally in this column, we'll' focus on AVAs and their importance to a wine consumer. We are beginning with Alexander Valley.

LOCATED IN northeast Sonoma County, Alexander Valley is an arm of the Russian River Valley extending northwest of Healdsburg to the Mendocino Countý line. The valley is named after Cyrus Alexander, who settled there in 1845 to raise cattle and sheep.

Since the beginning of the century, Alexander Valley has been renowned for grapes, prunes, pears, peaches, apples, oranges and lemons. A winegrowing revival began in the mid-

Blessed with deep, fertile soils, Alexander Valley is cooled in summer by fog that flows in from the Santa Rosa plain and is retained by a narrowing at either end of the valley. The fog and river influence account for a 20-degree Fahrenheit temperature difference between warmer Cloverdale in the north and cooler

Healdsburg to the south:

Cool climate varietals such as chardonnay, rlesling and gewurztraminer have been extremely successful in the southern end of the valley near Healdsburg, while the warmer reaches of the valley are able to ripen sauvignon blane and cabernet sauvignon.

EARLY RIPENING chardonnay, grown in Alexander Valley, tends to produce wines rich in ripe fruit flavors. Late-ripening cabernet sauvignon thrives in the valley warmth to produce soft wines that can stand on their own as 100 percent varietals.

"Chardonnay and cabernet sauvignon thrive side by side, partly because the Alexander Valley has a unique combination of soils, warmth, rainfall, and fog intrusion," said Bob Young, who made his first Alexander Valley plantings at Robert Young Vineyards in 1963.

"Most white grapes in Alexander Valley are planted on rich, valleyfloor soils. We monitor our crop loads carefully and when we think it is necessary, we bunch-thin to a level within the vine's ability to produce a good crop."

Red varieties are generally planted on the hillsides. Bob's son, Jim, explains, "Thinner hillside soils, which are quite rocky in places, are more suitable for cabernet sauvignon because they cause the vines to be less vigorous. Consequently, we get smaller berries, less canopy, and intensely-colored grapes."

RED WINES produced from Alexander Valley grapes are rich, blg, fruity and forward, with soft tanning providing a broad spectrum of flavors. Frequently, the wines show a chocolatey component with a hint of herbaceousness typical of the region.

Alexander Valley chardonnays are intense and forward with a pineapple-peach fruit perception. The wines have adequate acidity and are easy to drink.

Some of the best gewurztraminer comes from Alexander Valley. This Is due to the fact that the temperaWINE SELECTIONS OF THE WEEK

Sample the following Alexander Valley wines and discover the rare characters stemming from this American viticultural area.

1988 Clos du Bois Cabernet Sauvignon ($16) is blended with 16 percent cabernet franc and highlighted by coffee, chocolate and vanilla aromas and flavors. Impressive harmony of all elements makes this a likable wine.

1987 Ferrari-Carano Cabernet-Sauvignon ($19) is a blend of all five Bordeaux red varietals and accents ripe red current fruit with hints of spice. This wine has plenty of stuffing with well-extracted cherry flavors and is a wine for current drinking.

1989 Ferrari-Carano Chardonnay ($21) impresses with its floral, pineapple and tropical fruit aromas. This generously fruity style with a background of oak is.

Follow up-to-date methods for safe canning, freezing

Whether it's fresh picked from the garden, or bought at a farm market. there's nothing tastier than locally grown fruits and vegetables. You can't stop the temperatures from falling, but you can save some of the harvest for later by canning or freezing.

Home food preservation is again gaining popularity with consumers concerned about sugar, sait and additives. Canning is not a time to express your creativity, however. Strict methods and procedures must be followed to ensure a safe product.

The first step is to buy a new canning book. Don't use a book that is older than five years. If you're using grandma's 100-year-old pickle recipes use the same ingredients, but update the preserving method and FOODS FALL into two categories. high acid and low acid. High acid foods are generally all fruits plus tomatoes, sauerkraut, and pickeled vegetables. Acid in these food products guard against growth of bacteria, and can be safely canned using the hot water bath method.

Use any kettle large enough so the jars are completely immersed and surrounded by water. The jars should be held off the bottom of the kettle to prevent breakage and so the heat can thoroughly penetrate the product.

Low acid foods are all vegetables, meats, poultry, seafoods, soups or combination foods, These must be processed in a pressure canner. Harmful elements of certain bacterla thrive in low acid and cannot be destroyed at boiling temperature of 212 F. Low acid foods must be superheated to 240 F. Botulism is the deadly food poisoning caused by the clostridium botulinum. If the spore of the botulism is not killed by a high temperature, the risk of fatal food poisoning is very great.

MANY PEOPLE who do not want to deal with the pressure canner opt to freeze their produce. Freezing is probably the simplest and least time consuming way to preserve foods.

Freezing retards growth of microorganisms, slows down enzyme activity, and oxidation. However, there are some other food spoilers to be aware of in freezing.

Formation of ice crystals can be prevented by drying food better before freezing, and freezing food quicker. Freezer burn is caused by improperly packed foods. Packaging is very important for good results.

Blanching vegetables before freezing stops the enzyme action, locks in color, flavor and nutrients. Blanching does not mean cooking, it... means giving food a short heat treatment. It can be done in the microwave, just follow the directions in a microwave cookbook.

FOR TOP of the stove blanching, have a large kettle of water boiling, add the prepared vegetables, count the exact time of starting when the product hits the boiling water. When the time is up, quickly submerge the product into cold water to stop the boiling action. The quicker this can be done, the better product you'll have later.

Blanching times vary, depending on the amount you want to freeze. Follow the directions in your favor-

There are certain vegetables that are best completely cooked before freezing. These are beets, pumpkin, winter squash and sweet potatoes. Cook as you would to use; then cool, package, and freeze.

The keys to safe food preservation are to follow up-to-date canning and freezing procedures exactly. Don't waste your time, money and energy having to throw out food that has spoiled. Just think how good that food will taste when the snow is piled up to the windowsill.
