THE CITY'S public sérvices department has started its fall tree branch chipping, to be continued through Nov. 8.

Residents who want their branches chipped may call the DPS at 728-1770.

Branches to be picked up and chipped must be at least 6 feet long and no wider than 3 inches. They must also be stacked neatly with the butt end facing the curb.

The DPS will only pick up branches, not roots, stumps or trunks, the department said.

The city stressed that it will not perform the chipping service for people clearing land or when work is performed by a commercial company.

LOCAL RESIDENTS have a few more days to submit questions for possible use in an upcoming Westland city council candidates' forum, to be alred on the cable-TV system's governmental channel later this

The Observer wants your input in formulating questions for the candidates' program to be taped wednesday, Oct. 16, and aired throughout the next two weeks.

The Observer will consider all of the readers' submitted questions for the candidates.

Invited to take part in the program are council members Thomas Artley, Thomas Brown and Charles Pickering and challengers Glenn Anderson, David Cox. Sharon Scott. Dorothy Smith and William Ziemba.

The eight were nominated at the Sept, 10 primary and will seek four seats at the Nov. 5 general election.

The Observer wants your written suggestions for questions no later than 5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 11. They are to be submitted to the Westland Observer editorial department, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

The one-hour program will be aired on Channel 8 during the last two weeks of October.

For those who want to see the candidates in person, they will be the guests of the Westland Chamber of Commerce for a noon membership luncheon Tuesday at Leright's banquet hall, 626 S. Wayne Road. Make reservations by calling the chamber at 326-7222. The lunch is $9.

Each candidate will make prepared questions and then answer questions from the audlence.

School surplus fuels recall drive

By Darrell Clem staff writer

The leader of the campaign to recall three Wayne-Westland school board members said the drive received a major boost last week after reports of the district's $4.4-million surplus emerged, amid accusations that school officials lied earlier when they predicted a devastating budget crunch.

"That's probably the single biggest boost that we've had," recall committee Chairman Steven Lind said Thursday. "This has really added fuel to the recall. People are absolutely furlous."

Critics, continuing their attacks, accused school officials of deceiving taxpayers to win support for a 7.75mill tax increase that voters narrowly approved in June - after three failed tax-hike attempts.

The latest clash preceded a third attempt by recall leaders to win approval today of petition language for a special recall election. The Wayne County Elections Commission, which has twice rejected petitions, is scheduled to rule today on the latestrevised proposal.

members Kathleen Chorbagian, Andrew Spisak and Leonard Posey for supporting massive program cuts and simultaneously approving teacher pay raises of 11.9 percent over two years.

The three board members are Superintendent Dennis O'Neill's strongest supporters on the board. Lind has openly admitted that recall organizers want O'Neill fired.

After reports of the $4.4-million surplus surfaced, Lind said he received numerous telephone calls from district residents who were up-

Recall leaders want to oust board set over the latest controversy. Some of the inquiries came from taxpayers - including teachers - who supported the June 10 tax proposal,

"PEOPLE ARE angry," Lind said. They are not going to trust (school officials) anymore."

However, school officials drew support from a Wayne-Westland teachers union leader, who said the surplus didn't shock many teachers.

'We're not surprised," said Robert Kowalczyk, executive director of the Wayne-Westland Education Associa-

School officials implemented costcutting measures to conserve money - just in case the June 10 tax proposal failed, Kowalczyk said. He credited officials for planning ahead.

"We just view it as they were operating prudently and conservatively - not knowing which way the millage would go," Kowalczyk said.

Moreover, he added that the $4.4million surplus wouldn't have provided enough money to restore school programs slashed last year and to avert additional cuts that had

Cops are beefing up patrol

By Darrell Clem staff writer

Westland police have beefed up their post-football game patrols in the wake of racial violence that erupted Sept. 27 in the parking lot of the Burger King on Wayne Road, just north of Cherry Hill.

"We've made provisions to have extra patrols in that area," Police Chief Michael Frayer said Thursday, though he added that the incident "has been blown out of proportion."

A 35-year-old man told police he was beaten and kicked by a group of black youths after he tried to stop them from attacking a white teenager during a 10 p.m. Sept. 27 melee that broke out in a crowd of nearly 200 people in the Burger King parking lot.

A police report cited racial tensions in the violence that erupted at the popular teen hangout following John Glenn High School's homecoming football game against Plymouth Salem.

"We're aware of it (fighting) every "year," Frayer said. "They start it at the beginning of the football season."

Frayer attributed the violence to "youthful exuberance" and sald it tends to slack off once the teens see police officers beefing up their patrols around the Burger King and other local hangouts.

THE 35-YEAR-OLD man, bleeding badly from his left ear after the Sept. 27 altercation, told police the black youths turned on him when he tried to stop them from beating on a

Robbery tale false, man admits

By Darrell Clemstaff writer

A former Westland business manager accused of embezzling money from a Westland Center video arcade has pleaded guilty to a reduced charge, averting a trial in Detroit Recorder's Court.

Ted Daniel Gainer, 29, has confessed to a scheme in which he lied about being abducted and robbed at knifepoint to cover up his embezzling activities at the Pocket Change arcade, officials said Thursday.

"He basically threw himself at the mercy of the court," said Robert Stevens, an assistant Wayne County prosecutor.

Gainer, in an arrangement worked out by his attorney and the prosecutor's office, has pleaded guilty to attempted embezzlement and could face up to five years in prison. He could have been jailed 10 years on the earlier charge of embezzlement.

Gainer is scheduled for sentencing on Oct. 22 before Recorder's Court Judge Michael Sapala. The judge has requested a presentencing report from the Wayne County Probation Department before determining Gainer's punishment.

HE WAS arrested Sept. 3 following an investigation by the Westland Police Department and Michigan State Police. He initially claimed he had been abducted by two males, taken to Washtenaw County and robbed at knifepoint.

Gainer's story surfaced after he went to a house on Dixbore in Ypsilantl and asked for help. At that time, his hands were rope-tied behind his back, and police said he later confessed he paid a younger male $300 to tle him up.

In a confession, Gainer told police he had stashed some of the money from Pocket Change at his brother's apartment in Garden City. Authorities found $5,200 in the search, though they indicated he had stolen between $7,000 and $8,000.

UNDER THE plea agreement, Gainer will be expected to make restitution for the missing money, Stevens said, though he didn't disclose the exact amount.

'McRookie' learns tasty work lessons

By Sue Mason staff writer

I think I owe Paul Hammer a called me a kid. OK, so it was in my hands and the tops of my shoes.

'We're going to have fun today," Paul told me a few hours earlier. I: was a bit suspicious of that promise, especially when I found out my assignment was fries. But I had to admit at the height of the lunch rush, I was having McFun.

It helped having crew leader Mary Brooks there to coach me. "Better do some more smalls," she said, looking to the other side of the counter. The customers are knee deep and hands are grabbing up my neatly lined up containers of fries at a steady clip. "And don't be stingy."

IT'S MCDONALD'S and it's Founders Day, when corporate folks and anyone who has anything to do with the fast-food franchiser put on aprons and get back to ba-

Friday was the corporation's sixth annual observance, celebrating the business begun by Dick and Mac McDonald and nurtured by Ray Kroc. For the customers at Paul Hammer's store-in western Wayne County, there was cake and balloons to mark the occasion.

For McRookies like myself, there were hats and aprons and helpful employees like Brooks.

Like many "baby boomers" my employment record includes a stint in fast food-dom. Not with McDonald's. The closest I got to-Mickie D's was watching them build one acress the street from the local drive-in. Those two all beef patties, special sauce, lettuce, cheese, pickles, onion on a sesame seed bun folks definitely put a crimp on the foot-long business that summer.

So, the chance to update my resume was a welcome diversion . . . or so, I thought. My, how the fastfood business has changed.

These folks at McDonald's mean business when it comes to service. They have training videos for each of the food stations, including fries. Did you know they can cook a hamburger — both sides in 39 seconds?

AS A MCROOKIE, I didn't get to see the video, I got hands-on (or is that in?) training, kind of what they klss, or should I say McKiss. He / dish out at Hamburger University, according to Hammer, (Does that reference to the liberally salted, mean I can mention an advanced french fry station, not to mention degree in, say, technology, on my resume?)

The fry station is up front right where you can feel eyes watching your every move. A gleaming piece. of chrome that displays McDonald's pride and joy and reflects every false move and fumble by the novice french frier.

You feel the eyes watching as you fumble with those little paper bags for the small fries. John Candy's immortal words from "Summer Rental" come to mind as I position a scoop full of fries over the "Hot, hot, oh that's hot," my hand screams as the fries slide across them. I look at the empty scoop and the empty bag and try again. Brooks gives me pointers. It's easier, she says, to slide the bag on the scoop as she attacks the mound of fries, Slip, slide, dip and plop it in the holding rack. One quick motion ... for her, yes, for me . . . weeeeeeell.

How long have you worked for McDonald's?.". I ask, opening a large fry container.

"Five years," she said with a smile. "They want me to be a manager, but I let them talk me into being a crew-leader."

Brooks has a reason for holding off on her climb up the Mickie D ladder. This is her third job. She worked for Kresge's while in high school and then did 37 years, much of it as a supervisor at Western

As crew leader, Brooks answers her co-workers "questions, help when they need anything and holler :at them when they need to be hollered at."

"Mary's so wonderful," Hammer says later after I've wiped a coating of grease from my hands. "She sounds so gruff sometimes, but she has such a big heart."

THE TEMPO picks up. McMe thinks it's the lunch rush.

Someone asks how I'm doing. A wayward fry litters the holding tray. I pick it up as a voice from hot, discovers McRookie Sue Mason on Friday.

somewhere says "Use the scoop, we don't touch the product."

I cast an quick glance at the tray. How many of those little buggers slid down my arm, and I'm not suppose to touch the product?

One container sits forlornly as others are scooped up. Someone quietly points out it needs a few more fries. Hey, I'm not being stingy, I want to say, as I top off the container. It disappears soon after.

Amid the beeps of fryers and the rustling of paper bags, I gain a new appreciation for fast foods. As a customer, there are times when I wonder why it's taking so long. From the fryer side, I wonder why they have to be so fast.

After a few hours, it's time to call it a day. They load me up with Mighty Wings, a McBeverage and fries ("Are you afraid to eat your own cooking?" Brooks asks) - and balloons.

I get to leave. I can tell I'm no longer a McRookie. I have to use the back door.

I feel kind of funny: I can relate to the young man in the commercial who talks about his special friends at McDonald's. I think I just found some of those people.

Hey, I think I could grow to like the smell of McDonald's in the

Wine, cheese reception aids historic Nankin Mill

By Linda Ann Chomin special writer

The Friends of Nankin Mill host their third annual cheese and wine reception Thursday evening at the newly restored mill, on Ann Arbor Trail near Farmington Road in Westland.

The event will raise money for further restoration and preservation of historic Nankin Mill, once a part of Henry Ford's water-powered village industries. Admission is a $10 donation per person for the event, to be held from 5-8 p.m.

Harpist Carolyn Verbal of Southfield will provide soft background music as Mark Garmo of Marco's Wine and Deli adds an extra touch of class to the evening by presenting the wine. Tours of the mill's interior will be conducted throughout the

From 5-5:30 p.m., Wayne County and City of Westland officials such as Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara will greet guests at the

"It's a very exciting time for us," said Denise Mehelich, the group's internal vice president and the recep-tion's co-chair. "It's very beautiful now on the outside. When people approach they're going to see the mill as it should look." . Restoration work at Nankin Mill began two years ago with replacement of the roof. Last winter and spring, windows were restored, using as much of the original glass as possible. Paint was hand-scraped off the mill's exterior, and deteriorating wood replaced.

"I KNEW last Christmas we were in trouble when we were decorating the outside. I reached down and the wood crumbled in my hand," Mehelich said. The mill was then repainted and the lettering, Nankin Mill, returned to its rightful place.

Restoration was a cooperative cffort between Wayne County Parks Division and The Friends of Nankin Mill. Earlier this year, they achieved recognition for the restoration when Keep Michigan Beautiful, a private association dedicated to beautifying Michigan bestowed its top honor on them, the Hall of Fame award.

"On the tours of the inside, there are many things from Henry Ford's day that can still be seen, such as the generator, which was water-driven,"

Mehelich sald.

Nankin Mills will be the focus of a benefit Thursday to help pay for its restoration.

erator. Detroit Edison has expressed interest in getting it going again."

Nankin Mill's water-driven and diesel generators served as a testing ground for Henry Ford's Fairlane plant, which supplied electricity to his estate. The diesel generator is located on the lower level of Nankin

"WHEN FORD bought the mill in 1918 he restored it to top-notch condition. He used it as one of his water and fossil fuel-driven village industries," Mehelich said.

During the tours The Friends of Nankin Mill, to add flavor to the event, will be dressed in period clothing. For the last six months, Kathy Myers has worked untold hours, sewing replicas of dresses and men's waistcoats from the late 1800s.

"Kathy Myers has done the bulk of the work, cutting and assembling the period dress. In fact, she was the springboard for the period clothing project," Mehellch sald.

Henry Ford purchased Nankin Mill from Myers' grandfather, Floyd Bassett, in 1918. In 1988, The Friends of Nankin

Mill assembled a coalition of supporters to ensure preservation of the historic mill built in 1863.

"I grew up in Livonia when it was

Gary Stone of Plymouth said. "Now, we're raising money to restore the mill. One of our goals is to get it back to a nature center or at least like it was in the old days, when it was a flour mill."

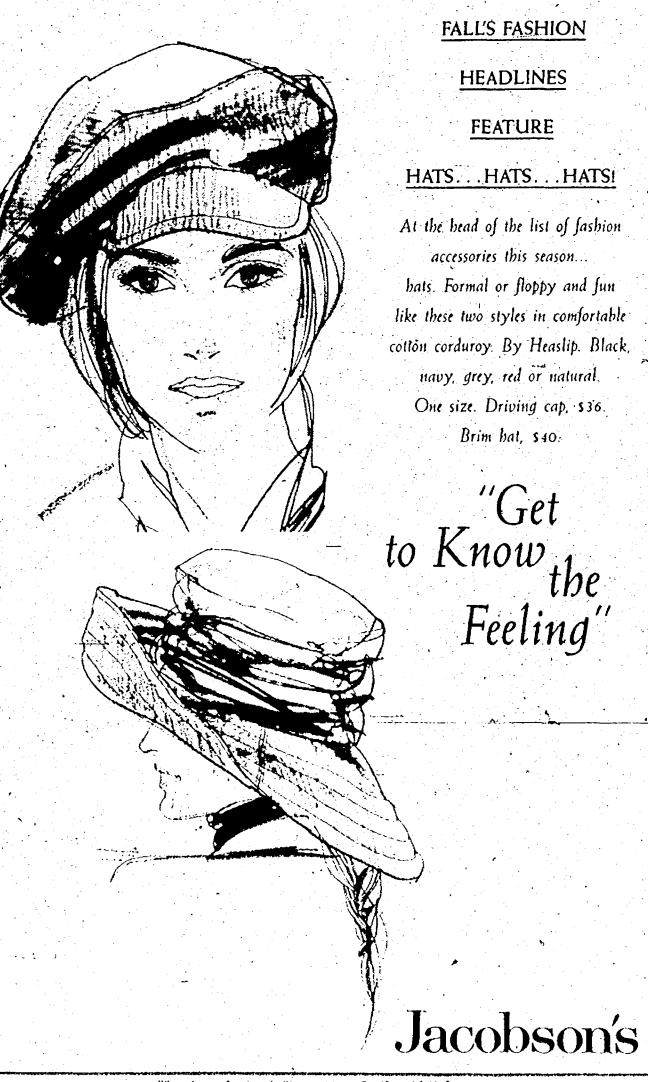

The Friends of Nankin Mill are tooking for new members to assist them in meeting those goals. They meet the second Tuesday of every month from September through May. Membership is free.

"We can always use another hand," Stone said. "Anybody's two cents is always worth something, any new ideas."

FROM 1958 to 1979, Nankin Mill's Nature Center, under the guidance of naturalist Mary Ellsworth, delighted and carned the love of children in western Wayne County school districts. But love was not enough to deter its demise.

Today, the raccoons are gone from Nankin Mill. The center closed after a Wayne County parks department budget cut and eventually became the parks' offices.

Tickets for the reception to restore the mill and nature center can be obtained by calling Joe Benyo at 467-3183. Tickets also will be available at the door the night of the nature center," event chairman of demotion, suspension

By Darrell Clem

staff writer Westland civil service officials acted properly in demoting firefighter Paul Bush and refusing to a judge has ruled.

City Attorney C. Charles Bokos, saying Bush's actions were "indicative of dishonesty," halled the decision by Wayne County Circuit Judge Claudia House-Morcom.

"I'm not surprised," Bokos said. "I didn't think there was any merit to (the appeal), and the court certainly agreed with us."

Bush's attorney, James Fowler, expects either to file a motion for reconsideration in circuit court or seek to have the ruling overturned in the appeals court.

"We're going to get together with Mr. Bush and discuss it," Fowler said Thursday.

the Westland Fire Department, was fired on Oct. 3, 1990, amid accusations he took personal property duting an eviction four months earlier at Hawthorne Club Apartments on pay him for a six-month suspension, Merriman, between Ann Arbor Trail and Warren Road.

Firefighter loses appeal

Bush appealed the firing to the local civil service commission, which reinstated him in March but gave. him a two-rank demotion and a sixmonth suspension without pay. Bush, who returned to work in April, sought to overturn that decision in circuit court.

THE CIVIL service commission accused Bush of unethical behavior for allegations that he took personal property belonging to Elaine Botz, who was not at her apartment during the eviction. She later filed a police report.

Bush received assistance during the eviction from former firefighter

Bush, a former battalion chief for Mark Wilhide, who also was fired and accused of stealing Botz's property. Unlike Bush, Wilhide chose to have his job appeal heard by an arbitrator, instead of the civil service commission.

Abltration hearings were concluded last month, and arbitrator Robert McCormick is expected to announce his decision on Wilhide's appeal in late November. Like Bush, Wilhide is seeking reinstatement and back pay:

In the aftermath of the eviction. Wilhide turned over some of Botz's property to Westland police, including a typewriter, a lawn chair, two footlockers, an air mattress and bed sheets.

Both firefighters have been cleared of criminal charges in circult court. However, civil service rules still permitted the city of Westland to seek the firefighters' dismiss-

New grant program unveiled

"An endowment is a gift that is hever spent," explained Alfred H. Taylor Jr., chairman of the Kresge Foundation, one of handful of executives who explained the program Thursday during a press conference the endowment program. in the Renaissance Center.

"These are difficult times" said "But the interest an endowment. Hudson: "But there are no better

The Kresge Foundation itself is an example of how endowments work, said Taylor. Established in 1924 with a $63 million endowment, its assets grew to $1.3 billion in 1966, he said, making it one of the 15 largest foundations in the United States.

The financial growth enabled the foundation to award challenge grants amounting to $57.5 million in 1990, according to Taylor, including $250,000 to the capital Improvement program of Oakland Family Services and $1 million to the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor,

The foundation has committed $16.4 million - $11.7 million in matching grants and $4.7 million in operating support - as incentive to raise $35 million for permanent endowments in seven counties in southeast Michigan. But the challenge grant is designed to change the area's mind-set as well as to stimulate fund drives, president of the Community Foundation for Southeastern Michigan.

IT IS DESIGNED to encourage agencies to think of fund drives for permanent endowments, rather than fund drives for ad hoc projects or services, according to Taylor, Hudson and Noland.

It's a matter of changing tradition, explained Taylor. The metro area has a tradition of giving generously - as illustrated by statistics showing Detroit area households give far more to charity than the national horm.

. But the money was generally spent as it was raised, not put into money generating endowments as it did in communities like Cleveland, Minneapolis-St. Paul and Chicago.

The challenge grant program named after the late Richard C. Van Dusen, noted Detroit attorney and Birmingham resident and philanthropist - is designed to change that historic pattern.

This is a tremendous opportunity," said Dian Wilkins, executive director of the Detroit area Chapter of the Alzheimers Association. "It's a very positive program for the area."

Wilkins is one of about 200 people from non-profit organizations, who attended a luncheon Thursday at which the challenge grant program was explained. Wilkins said she and presumably others at the meeting - are looking at the program to see how it could help her agency.

"This is an exciting program," said Brenda L. Brown, financial development manager of the Southeastern Michigan American Red Cross Chapter. "But_we must decide what to focus on . . . an existing program or something new."

Ford Museum, Madonna already seeking grants

Plans are tentative and very much erything is very tentative, but we'll in the discussion stages.

But according to their respective spokesmen, Madonna University in Livonia and the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn already have some good ideas about how they could benefit from the challenge grant endowment program unveiled Thursday by the Kresge Foundation and the Community Foundations for Southeastern Michigan.

Madonna University might use the money for scholarships, said Sister M. Lauriana, vice president for university advancement. "They could be minority scholarships or possibly for any students who need the mon-

"But we could use something like this for our community outreach program," he said.

That's a program that sponsors opera at sometimes unlikely locations around the state, he said. That includes the presentation of "Let's Play Mozart" in Westland in February and "Cheering Up a Princess" in West Bloomfield, he said.

"It presents an incentive : . . a reason to get going," said Archer, a member of the board of the Community Foundation.

Time to honor Native Americans

THE TIME has come to scrap Columbus Day as a holiday, Columbus, an Italian sailing under the Spanish flag, was lost when he ran into the Indians. And like with most occurrences, both went away with different versions. Columbus claimed he discovered America; the Indians didn't know they were missing.

And to add insult to injury, the Italians stole the tomato from the Indians for their pasta dishes. There would be no Prince spagnetti day without the tomato which was cultivated by the Indians and imported to Europe.

But the Italians can't take the total blame for ripping off the Indians. There's the Irish. Many came to American when there was a potato famine in the 19th century. The potato like the tomato, was imported to Europe after being cultivated by the American Indians.

and as for St. Patrick's Day? There probably wouldn't be enough Irish people around to hoist the flag, if it weren't for the potato. Perhaps it's time for the Irish to pay their debt to native Americans.

But it's not just the Irish or the Italians. It's all of us. We stole their land and their knowledge of how to use it and of the native plants that grew on it.

There was technology, too. We've been brainwashed by our pilgrim ancestors to believe Indians were on' the receiving end of European technology. That's only half the story. Indians gave us the canoe and the tepee. Without them early explorers would have been crashing around North America in cumbersome boats and sitting soaking wet in the woods.

They also give us a religion that was really a precursor to the environmental movement. Their vision of the world was that they were part of the earth.

So on Saturday, Columbus Day, instead of toasting that lost Italian, I plan to spend the day in quest of steelhead on the Jordan River in could do to honor my own Indian ancestors.

Our image of Indians is mostly. based on Hollywood. We don't acknowledge that many native Americans were farmers who taught the white settlers how to live on the

My own Indian ancestors were women who were midwives. One taught her husband the business of bringing children into the world. He went on to become a doctor and eventually served in the Confederate Army during the War Between the States,

Her daughters learned the trade and delivered black children in the South during an era when may blacks were unable to obtain medical treatment.

But that's only my story. There are thousands of stories out there about the dignity, strength and intelligence of native Americans. The only time we seem to hear those stories is when some Hollywood actor decides to make hay with the native American story like Kevin Costner did with "Dances With Wolves."

We'll hear about it for a while, but . Newspapers.

northern Michigan. It's the least I later the story will drift again into obscurity.

What native Americans need to do is tell their story on a national level and scrapping Columbus Day and calling it American Indian day would be a start.

We've done it for every ethnic group and we've even created greeting card holidays such as Sweetest Day, Mother's Day and Grandparent's Day.

We've established a holocaust museum for victims who died in Europe, but at the same time have ignored a similar program of eradication carried out against the native Americans by our government.

It's much easier to call Hitler a devil than Grant or other American presidents.

It's time to rid ourselves of Columbus Day. It's the least we can dofor a brave people who were exterminated to make way for Europeans to come over to this country and make money.

Give kids the best education we can

ONCE UPON A TIME, all school districts lived or died by the Fourth Friday count.

You know, that's the official. body count for each school system. taken on the fourth Friday of September - and used as the basis for, state aid.

Early on, students had to show up in school on that day to be counted. Notes went home encouraging parents to make sure their child was in school that day. No. they didn't go so far as to say send your child to school even if he/she was sick, but you get the idea.

Then, as the state became more flexible, so long as students were enrolled by that date, the school district could claim them.

As reporters and editors covering our communities, that Fourth Friday count was always an important story.

For most of our communities, that's no longer true. Now, the count is only important in that it indicates to the district itself whether it is growing - whether it has budgeted and planned correct-

And the district generally knows that earlier in the month and then doesn't know it for a fact, depending on the move-ins and move-outs during the rest of the year.

THAT'S PARTLY because most of the districts out our way have outgrown the state aid formula. And because in the last two years they have even lost their so-called "categorical" aid - which the state gave them, based on that Fourth Friday count, for statemandated programs.

Now, with the so-called "Robin Hood" act, the state has swoopedthose payments away to dole out to districts who need even more money than the state aid formula.

But even that is not enough. So

Judith Doner . Berne

ed to sign a bill that will require wealthier school districts to give up half of the yearly valuation, growth of commercial and industrial property within their borders.

To case the bite, the state will reduce the amount of money it takes away from high-spending districts for certain items such as transportation and Social Securitypayments for teachers.

MOST SUBURBAN legislators voted against that - to no avail. They thought they were politically correct.

They were protecting their mainly well-heeled communities. to the exclusion of the kids in the poorer communities who need the most education. And that's the labor-intensive education of today academics plus dealing with societal problems.

Maybe this bill is not the best way, but all of us have had our chances to come up with other solutions. The Legislature couldn't come up with a plan to change the property tax laws. The electorate turned down extra money for education through added sales taxes. And the Michigan Education Association is basically against anything that is proposed.

It's in all our best interests to give all kids the best education we can. In fact, Bloomfield Hills assistant superintendent Gary Doyle acknowleged that the bill "is a concept that is valid" for providing equity among school districts.

It would be wonderful if this were the last Fourth Friday sturecently the state Legislature dents in poor districts had to put passed and the governor is expect- up with a second-class education.

Maybe this bill is not the best way, but all of us have had our chances to come up with other solutions.

Reader backs 'fake' clinics

To the editor:

I read with great interest the article on the front page of the paper concerning "fake" abortion clinics, Sept. 23.

As I read through the article, I couldn't help but notice that all of the allegations against these "clinics" were made by Tracy O'Connor, who just happens to be employed by Northland Family Planning clinic.

I am quite familiar with what types of services AAA Crisis Pregnancy Center offers. You see, I'vedonated small amounts of money to centers like this, along with a baby crib that my last born outgrew. I am aware that just as the Yellow Pages state, AAA Crisis Pregnancy Center is an "abortion alternative." These centers tell women what abortion is really like in terms of death to the baby, complications from the surgery, etc., and offers free items of clothing, food and other items to encourage people not to choose abortion.

I've never heard of a case at the centers where women are harassed, mislead, or confused as the article states. They are simply given an alternative to a very serious operation. What are these senators trying to fight against? (In regards to the subcommittee hearing in the U.S. House of Representatives). It sounds like some are opposed to a woman's right to choose life, if she desires.

I strongly urge you to saunter into one of these pregnancy centers to see for yourself what they offer. My. experience is that they will offer women a free pregnancy test, a listening ear, a movie to show what the procedure of abortion really is like in regards to the fetus, and offer "alternatives" (just as the ads state).

Please tell me, is there anything "false" and "misleading" or "confusing" in that? If I were 16 and pregshare all the facts with me before I made the awesome decision before

Perhaps you would consider doing a positive article on these centers sometime. They offer many services, at no cost, to anyone who comes through their doors. Contrary to the slant of the Sept. 23rd article, they only receive donations and are not "heavily funded" by other prolife organizations. You can call "Right-to-Life" or "Lifespan" to confirm this, if you choose. These centers don't even get a tax deduction, nor do their contributors.

On the other hand, Tracy O'Connor is a paid employee at the Northland Clinic, who is criticizing something I don't think she fully understands. How can she slam free counseling, pregnancy testing and other assistnant and confused about my future, ance? Where does she get the idea in a hurry to "fix" my problem, I that she can say "they say they perwould hope that someone would form abortions, and they do not"?

Where do they say this? How can you give a crummy piece of writing like this front page space? This is a charitable activity at these centers, for God's sake! No one is even being paid a salary, in most cases. They can't even remain open five days a week because of lack of funds and volun-

If you had a teen age daughter who found herself carrying your grandchild, wouldn't you want her to get all the facts before making a decision as serious as annihilating the unborn child within her?

These are confusing times, I know. Lots of crime, lawlessness, lack of ethics, etc. . . . These centers are trying to do what they believe is the right thing, providing "alternatives" in a trying situation. Are you seriously in favor of passing laws to make their very existence illegal?

I spent a good part of the anniversary weekend running around the 43 square miles of the World looking for the Kerby sisters, as well as other Michigan honorees like Deborah Walker of the Chrysler Corp. and the Volunteers of the World of Work Program from Detroit.

Beth Kerby started it when she was finishing sixth grade at St. Hugo's. "One of the nuns asked for volunteers to work for the summer at the Wing Lake Developmental Center for the multiplyimpaired," she said.

"I went for the interview with my two sisters. After they interviewed me, they asked Megan and Kerry if they wanted to volunteer too."

The three sisters have spent the past three summers working as teachers' aides at the school. "We help the teachers play games with children, to help them use their senses," Beth said.

The girls came to the attention of the White House after Beth wrote an essay on volunteerism that won an award. Strangely enough, the Kerby family was vacationing at Walt Disney World in January 1990 when the White House chose the three girls for their 50th Point of Light award.

Laura Kerby called home from Orlando and her mother said "has the White House found you yet?" Apparently the White House called the school, learned that the girls were at Disney World and began chasing them around the Magie Kingdom.

"We came back to the hotel and there were messages all over the door," Mrs. Kerby said.

I couldn't get anywhere near the ceremonies, but I watched them on television monitors in the China Pavilion, at World Showcase in EPCOT, one of Walt Disney World's three theme parks.

I heard Michael Eisner say that people like the Kerby sisters were "perfect examples of the kinds, of private deeds that solve public problems."

And I was proud as punch to be within 100 yards of the Kerby sisters, even if I couldn't get past the Secret Service.

Relive the old South in Charleston

By Irls Sanderson Jones special writer

Our carriage is moving with a rhythmic clop-clop down the brick streets of Charleston, S.C., pulled by mules called Katherine and Josephine. It is just the right pace to see a city laid out three centuries ago on a narrow peninsula between two rivers.

Our guide, David, is talking about the families that came down the rivers every Sunday in the 18th century from their grand rice plantations. "They would go to church, visit friends and return home with the tides. We still have a church called the "church of the tides."

His next line is a clue to the Charleston state of mind, then and now: "The Ashley and the Cooper rivers meet at Charleston to form the Atlantic Ocean."

They make a lot of jokes like that in Charleston, whether you are buying rice spoons at Geo. C. Birlant and Co. on King Street, or following a tour guide through the Edmonston-Alston House.

"Charlestonians are like the ancient Chinese. They eat rice and worship their ancestors."

The economy of the great rice plantations had declined by 1840, killed by competition from the East Indies, but the incredibly luxurious social life of Charleston continued until the Civil War.

Charlestonians sat on the "plazzas" of their high, narrow "single houses" - one room wide and three rooms deep - and watched the Confederates fire the first shots of the Civil War on the federal troops at Fort Sumter, just offshore in Charleston Harbor.

Union soldiers burned most of the old plantation houses to the ground and slavery ended, but that old southern life still draws the tourists to this gracious city set between the Ashley and the Cooper rivers.

Tourists stay at the Omni Hotel at Charleston Place or at one of the bed-and-breakfast inns built into commercial buildings in the old city. They come to enjoy the!__ echoes of antebellum life and to relive the old South.

Most people see Charleston for the first time as I did, aboard a mule-drawn carriage, with a guide who tells the history of the city spiced with stories:

"This church has a cemetery on one side of the road where born-and-bred Charlestonians were buried, and a cemetery on the other side of the road for strangers.

"One of our governors was buried on the 'stranger' side. The Yankees moved his body across the street into the good cemetery when they occupied Charleston. As soon as the Yankees left, the Charlestonians moved him

Glenn falls on gamble

North stops late 2-pointer

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

North Farmington was the last football team other than Westland Division in the Western Lakes Activities Association championship

But the Raiders are on track for a return engagement later this month after they snapped a streak of four straight losses to Glenn with a 21-20 victory Saturday afternoon at North.

In so doing, the Raiders might have ended Glenn's domination of the Lakes title as well.

North has wins over Plymouth Salem and the Rockets (for the first time since 1986) with division games remaining against Farmington and Livonia Stevenson. The Raiders, who have won their last four, are 3-0 in the division and 4-1 overall. Glenn is 1-2 and 3-2.

North, Glenn and Stevenson were Lakes tri-champions in 1986 and '87, but the Raiders won the tiebreaker in '86 and played for the WLAA crown.

"WE HAVE two division games left and we're going to play them. the same way we did against Glenn," North senior tackle Eric Porter said. "This win has lifted this team off its feet.

"Some people had doubts at the beginning, but we've totally picked ble at the Rocket 17. Todd Anderit up. We're an average football son, who carried 28 times and for team with a lot of heart."

time, used a potent running game to control the ball and take the lead in the second half, but needed a big defensive stop to win the game. After the Raiders went ahead 21-John Glenn to represent the Lakes 14 early in the fourth quarter, Glenn had a long drive that culminated in quarterback Terry Hewer's 1-yard bootleg run on fourth down.

With 2:56 left to play, the Rockets attempted a two-point conversion and a victory in regulation time. Glenn coach Chuck Gordon said a strong wind (cutting northeast as the Rockets faced the south goal) had nothing to do with the decision.

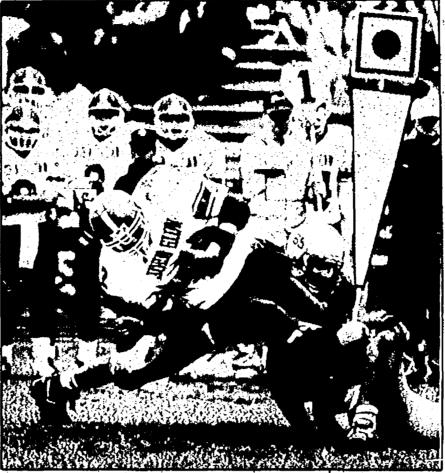

Hewer rolled out, showed run and then tried to hit tight end Mike Bint with a pass at the goal line, but it was incomplete. North proceeded to run out the clock.

"We talked it over as a staff, we asked the captains what they wanted to do and we decided we were going for it then and there," Glenn coach Chuck Gordon said.

"The consensus on our sideline was to go for it right now. If it works, it's a heck of a call; if it doesn't, you have to live with it."

NORTH BEGAN the second half powering the ball at the Rockets. but its first possession ended with a fumble at the Glenn 5-yard line.

The Raiders got the ball back when Jon Sturtz recovered a fum-143 yards, ran 3 yards for the TD North, which trailed 14-6 at half- and added the two-point conversion to tie the score late in the third period.

"I thought the kids showed a lot of poise after (the fumble)," North coach Jim O'Leary said. "It was the same scenario as Salem. We've been down but come back. The kids play under adversity and they win.

"Porter and (senior guard Vern) Ratliff should have been on the bench. Both were hurt. Neither one could hardly walk, but they said 'No way, coach, we're playing.' "

North scored again (21-14) following an interception by Mike Hamill at midfield. The Raiders ran nine straight running plays, with Anderson scoring from 12

Glenn moved the ball through the air on its next possession, Hewer (five of eight for 91 yards) finding Jon Schuster for a 25-yard gain to the North 7. Hewer passed 38 yards to Rick Bennett in the first half, putting the ball on the North 2 and setting up John Ward's TD run for a 14-6 lead with 48 seconds left.

"WE HIT A couple big plays, but it would have helped if we had been a little more consistent," Gordon said. "We got into a situation where the game was either tied or we were behind and had to get something going."

Glenn scored first as Ed Jeannin broke loose for a 61-yard run in the first quarter, but the Raiders answered with Temple's 5-yard keep er after a 31-yard reception by Brian Lee. But the extra-point kick was blocked and Glenn led 7-6.

Patriots, Facione beat Chiefs in OT

stall writer

Livonia Franklin rolled the dice for the second straight week, but this time the numbers were more favor-

The Patriots, minus their starting quarterback, delighted their homecoming crowd with a 6-3 overtime victory over a stunned Plymouth Canton squad.

Jason Facione, a 6-foot-2, 185pound senior, crashed in from the 1 on fourth down to beat the Chiefs.

It was only a week earlier that the Patriots were stopped on fourth-and-1 in a 23-16 OT loss at Northville. (The Patriots, who squandered a 16point fourth quarter lead in that game, also lost starting QB David Little to a shoulder injury.)

Facione, who normally plays tight end, lined up deep in the backfield during OT, carrying the ball down to the 2 on an 8-yard run.

Fullback Aaron Shakarian (92 yards on 15 carries) was then thrown for a 1-yard loss and Facione was met just short of the goal line on third down.

"They (the officials) my knee was down, but I told coach (Armand Vigna) I could get it in right over Shakarlan, or give it to Shakarlan and let me block because he was running great," Facione said. "I just took on the linebacker inside."

CANTON NOSE GUARD Jim Hanna met Facione head on, but the Franklin back crossed the plane of the goal on a second effort.

"Hanna hit him good, but we just didn't hold on," said Canton coach Bob Khoenle, whose team fell to 1-4 overall. "It was a pretty good goalline stand by our kids. We had a chance to win. I'm sure we're down and demoralized, but we just didn't tackle or sustain our blocks. We just didn't do it well."

After a 0-0 deadlock through four quarters, each team was given four football

downs, starting from the 10, to score

Franklin won the toss and elected to start on defense.

Canton's Steve Hohl (87 yards on 19 carries) ran to the Franklin 5 on first down, but Facione, playing middle linebacker, threw Jeff Nafe for a 3 yard loss on the next play.

Canton quarterback Keyin Shankle then fired an incomplete pass and Nafe booted a 26-yard field goal into a gusty wind, giving the Chiefs a short-lived 3-0 lead.

"DEFENSE WON the game," Facione said. "Give credit to our line. They stopped the run throughout the game so I was free to scrape off the blockers and make the hits." Although Canton doubled the Patriots in total yardage, 208-104, the Franklin defense, paced by Facione, linebacker Richard Koons and tackle Dan Awad, kept the Chiefs out of the end zone. (Facione and James Sewruk each had second-quarter interceptions.) "Defense won it," said Franklin coach Armand Vigna, whose team is 3-2 overall. "Our coaches, Jim Karoub and Ken Fry, did an excellent job. Defense kept us in the game." Vigna used two quarterbacks, starting with senior defensive back Keith Roberts, who gave way in the second quarter to sophomore Dennis Madden, a call-up from the JV squad.

Roberts, however, was back in during the OT.

"On the goal line it was just a super team effort," Franklin coach Armand Vigna said. "We used Aaron as a blocker and just gave it to the biggest kid we've got.

"At least the kids now can have a happy homecoming."

CC marches to 21-6 victory

Yoakam's run came on third down and five and Mach used a timeout before deciding to give the ball to his fastest player.

"At that point in the game I wasn't sure if we wanted to quick pitch because if we fumble we give them the ball at our 40," Mach said. "But we decided we've got a good athlete and as a result it ended up being a good call, although it's not an easy one to call."

The loss dropped DePorres, ranked No. 1 in Class CC, to 3-2 overall. The Eagles led early after a 71yard TD run by tailback Charles Winters, but gained only 72 total yards in the second half and failed to complete a pass.

CC's defense, led by linebackers Gary Stegall and Joe Herman and defensive end Jason Krueger, stopped DePorres on four fourth down tries - including two times in the Shamrocks' territory.

With DePorres ahead, 6-0, and driving in the first quarter, CC's defensive line stopped Ronnie Austion on a fourth-and-seven play from the Shamrocks' 10-yard line.

"The key to the game was when our defense stopped them early because we were in a bad situation," Mach said.

Livonia Franklin trailed briefly, but took control quickly on Thursday, defeating host Walled Lake Western in a Western Lakes Activities Association girls basketball game, 58-39.

The Patriots enjoyed a 30-17 halftime lead and 44-27 advantage after three quarters before coasting home.

The Patriots, now 8-1 overall and 2-1 in the WLAA, were led by senior guard Dawn Warner, who scored 22 points and grabbed 12 rebounds. She also had six assists and four block shots.

Senior guard Wendy Rynkiewicz contributed 10 points and five rebounds, while senior guard Patty Shea added eight points, 10 steals and five assists.

Jenny Gross and Dawn Godfrey each tallied eight for

"The difference was defense," Franklin coach Dan Freeman sald, "And our guards took over the game." STEVENSON 61, W.L. CENTRAL 57: Four Livenia Stevenson players scored in double figures Thursday, lifting the host Spartans to the WLAA win over Walled Lake Central.

Stevenson is now 7-1 overall and 3-0 in the WLAA, while Central fell to 4.4 and 1-2.

Senlor center Teresa Sarno was Stevenson's high scorer with 15 points, while junior guard Lori Shingledecker nearly had the triple-double, tallying 14 points, to go along with 10 assists and eight rebounds.

Junior guard Jenn Turbiak and junior forward Karen Groulx added 12 and 11 points, respectively.

Stevenson led 38-23 at intermission and 54-41 after three quarters before Central made a late rush, pulling to within two, 59-57 before Groulx iced it with a layup with only 34 seconds left.

The Vikings' Jenny Czach scored a game-high 23 points. Bridgette Norris and Kerri Kobus added 11 and 10, respectively. Robus had eight of her points in the final period as Central outscored Stevenson, 16-7

C'ville's McKenzie a shining light

ARK CLOUDS hovered over late Friday afternoon as the Livonia Clarenceville football team went through the paces in preparation for Saturday's battle with Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook.

Ironically, interim coach Russ McKenzie was wearing an Operation Desert Storm sweatshirt, given to him by one of his former players.

On the surface, the 27-year-old McKenzie might as well be fighting fires in Kuwait. He's battling survival at a small Class C school with only 20 varsity players.

McKenzie, a line coach, inherited an 0-4 team last week after his friend Mark Ladd accepted an offerhe couldn't refuse:

A substitute teacher with an unemployed wife, two kids and no benefits, Ladd resigned as Clarenceville's coach after barely 11/2 seasons and a 5-8 record to take a teaching/coaching job at a brand new high school in suburban Atlanta, Ga.

"The kids were very understanding of the situation, some were very sad to see Mark go," McKenzie sald. "In football we talk a lot about life, and we told them that this was a step Mark had to take. I knew he was looking for a job. It was a hurry-up thing."

Also very understanding was Clarenceville athletic director Leo Kinsella, who got the bomb dropped on him nearly a week prior to the Trojans' 40-14 loss (Sept. 27) against Detroit Lutheran West.

No Bo Schembechler-Bill Frieder episode here, Ladd coached in that "lameduck."

Clarenceville concession stand the lic Central-Warren DeLaSalle game, and stuck around for practices the following week, while McKenzle began to build his base. Kinsella, you could say, is a nice guy lamong nice guys in the A.D.'s business. I just hope the Clarenceville A.D. is as compassionate and patient with his interim coach, who is working under very difficult circumstances;

McKenzle currently has only one varsity assistant, Tony Jarana.

"Hopefully I'll prove I belong here by myself," McKenzle said. "I look at it as a golden opportunity. All I can do is do the best I can as interim coach and interview at the end of the season. I'm in no hurry to leave. I like the kids and the neighborhood."

McKenzle wears three different hats in life.

By morning he is a physical education major, one year away from graduating at Eastern Michigan. By afternoon, McKenzie changes into his coaches garb. By night he is a bartender, working his way through school.

His father Mel coached at East Detroit High for nearly 31 years, including a long stint as varsity baseball coach.

At Madison Heights Lamphere, game even though he was labled a - McKenzie played for George Jesko, ultimately going into part-time coaching there where he spent six LADD EVEN worked in the years tutoring lineman.

IN NINE YEARS, McKenzie's next night during the Redford Catho- been a JV coach and varsity assistant in football, head wrestling coach. He's also been a high school softball and baseball coach.

McKenzie, in fact, thinks so high of Jesko that he employed a new offensive scheme. ?

"We're going with the Wing-T instead of throwing it so much," McKenzle said. "It's easier to change offensively when you've only scored a couple of touchdowns. When it was broke like that, somebody has to fix

Ladd, a former army vet, was more laid back, cutting jokes to keep the team loose, according to McKen-

The interim coach, meanwhile promises to hold a tight rein on discipline, while toughening up his troops

"I love those "Trench Warfare' Tshirts those CC players wear," McKenzle said. "That's me all the way, and that's the way I want our kids to be."

With a week of "Intense hitting." McKenzle said his players responded beautifully.

"The attitude has been great, it's been a great week of practice," he said. "I don't think we missed a beat ! in the changeover."

JARANA, his assistant, felt the same way.

"These kids are mature, they understood and accepted that Mark was leaving," he said. "This is a very resilient group."

McKenzie must also adjust to his added administrative duties, now that he is the head coach.

"There's a lot more you have to do. behind the scenes," McKenzie said. "I don't have a clue about what is. going to happen, but I know I love challenges and I love competition." Somehow, the sky had brightened just a little bit late Friday afternoon.

Calhoun lifts Wayne; Spartans win

Wayne Memorial snapped a two-game losing skid, gaining 231 yards total offense Friday en route to a 21-6 Wolverine A Conference football win over visiting

The Zebras rushed for 163 yards, sparked by Bruce Calhoun's 146 yards on 21 carries.

Wayne led 8-6 at halftime, thanks to Calhoun's 45yard touchdown run in the second quarter. Belleville (1-4, 0-4) tallied its lone touchdown in the

Busy cooks: Don't stew over dinner

Invited some good friends over last weekend, and while on the phone extending the invite, was asked the usual "What are you preparing?" When I responded "stew," the phone went silent for what seemed to be forever. Let's face it, most folks don't go to a chef's house to slosh stew.

Recently, however, the stewing rage is resurfacing. Personally, I can't say I remember it sinking. The Janes Gang was raised on stew. Later on, in cooking school, stew was called ragout, paprikash and goulash. Now again, "stew" seems to be the proper colloquial term to identify a savory blend of potatoes, vegetables and the most tender meat you can sink your mouth

THINK ABOUT it . . . what else can be made ahead, reheated mistreated and still come out tasting lovely? Most folks think that just because stew is so... reliable that it doesn't belong on the tables of the food connoisseur. To them I say, "Let them eat liver!"

Mama Janes used to get out the old pressure cooker and precook an English blade cut roast. She'd add a few vegetables and potatoes, and some of the best bread-soakin' gravy ever - a hearty meal was offered to all.

Some nights we dined "fancy style" and served the stew over rice or noodles,

THE FRENCH are noted for their excellence in stew making. Their process utilizes two main French ingredients that have fallen by the wayside in this day of microwaves and boxed cake mixes; namely, wine and time.

While interesting herbs and spices, fresh vegetables, and the discreet use of wine can make a fabulous stew, the true success lies solely in the method of cooking. A stew that has boiled on high power with as much agitation as a washing machine will cook no faster than one gently urged on the simmer.

Everyone knows that boiled meat will prove to be tough and stringy, and the gravy will be muddy with the flavors "boiled out."

Always simmer with wine for 'several hours so that the true taste of the vino can "marry" the remaining flavors into a rich, happy family. Of course, other liquids can be used for braising, such as beer, cider, broth and fresh vegetable juices.

Now, I'm not talking crock-pot cookery here folks; however, such an electrical contraption is acceptable when you just can't get your hands on a big, old, heavy cast iron dutch oven. Le Creuset makes an affordable enameled cast iron dutch oven that not only makes the best stews, but can double for just about anything from a casserole to a soup pot.

IT IS recommended that the "skin" that forms on the top of pot while cooking be removed. Allowing a large pot to simmer for hours will not only produce this so-called "skin" but also will surface an oil or grease slick. A gravy ladle or bent oversized kitchen spoon works best to remove this without the overmixing that could easily turn a tender pot of stew into barbecue helper. When it comes to thickening, I personally don't feel the need to make everything as thick as 20W 50 motor oll. Some people like a substantial sauce and use a roux to accomplish this.

Mama sufficed with dissolving flour in milk and whisking through a sieve so as not to get any lumps. I guess if it was truly necessary, I would thicken with some cooked, pureed vegetables or incorporate the silky rich taste of cream and egg yolks.

Whatever your preference, fork-tender meat and vegetables in a luscious sauce can be an easy accomplishment to a busy cook. In the stewpot, if not in mathematics, the whole is often more than the sum of its parts.

Simply good... Simply Russian

By Keely Wygonik staff writer

HEN OLGA Stevens of Troy talks about Russian cooking, she makes a distinction between food that was served by royalty, and food of the people.

"The food served by royalty was often French," said Stevens, the daughter of Russian immigrants. "Catherine the Great corresponded with a lot of French philosophers, as did Peter the Great. You could say Peter the Great was the first Mikhail Gorbachev. He went out of the country and realized Russia needed ideas from the outside world.

"The food of the people was simpler, lots of vegetables and soup, kasha, buckwheat, and pickles which carried some of the freshness of summer into winter."

JANE BARNA, who has traveled to Russia with her husband, the Rt. Rev. Michael Barna of St. Michael's Orthodox Church in Redford, said the Russian and Slavic people are great for soup. (See her recipe for Shchi (sauerkraut soup) inside.)

Stevens has visited Russia four times, the last in 1988, and extensively studied Russian history, culture and foods. "With the changes in Russia, people aren't afraid to say they're of Russian descent," she

In "Please to the Table," a Russian cookbook, authors Anya von Breinzen and John Welchman explain the role geography has played.

"CENTURIES OF invasion and occupation by the Mongols, Tatars, and Ottoman Turks brought a whole shopping list of delicious foods that are now considered to be Slavic staples — noodles and dumplings (which the Turkic people had in their turn picked up from the Chinese), stuffed vegetables, tea, (introduced as late as the 17th century) and that great symbol of Russian heart and home, the samovar."

A luncheon menu for some visiting nobility before the Russian Revolution might have included craylish soup, pirozkhi-(filled pockets), Finnish trout, lamb with mushrooms, cold chicken consume, salad, artichokes with peas, and ice cream.

The foods Stevens grew up with weren't as fancy. "My mother had hot soup every day. She made all different kinds, we always had chicken soup on Sunday.'

Tea, not coffee was the preferred drink.

Olga Stevens, wearing a copy of an' 18th century Russian court costume that would be worn by the nobility, serves tea from a samovar.

Hearty fare from Latvia with love

With all the changes in the Soviet Union at the forefront of the news these days, it seemed timely and appropriate to feature a typically Russian meal, submitted by this week's Winner Dinner Winner, Bella Makarenko, of Farmington Hills.

Featuring recipes for Borshch, a delicious soup made with beets, Piroshkis, small filled turnovers, and fresh fruit compote, this meal comes to you and your family from Russia . . . with love.

Recent immigrants from Riga, Latvia, Makarenko, her husband, Slav and their daughter, Ellina, have lived in the Detroit area for almost two years. The story of how they finally arrived in America is a touching one, a journey that encompassed five months, and included short stays in small hotels and private homes in three countries before finally arriving in the United

The Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society helped them find an apartment that was conveniently located right next to the school their daughter would be attending.

Upon their arrival in Detroit, Makarenko and her husband attended school for four months to learn English. She then spent two months taking classes at a local beauty college, and is now working as a manicurist at Bitonti Salon in Birmingham.

Her husband, who was a dermatologist in Latvia, is now working as a salesman at a pawn shop in Detroit. Both enjoy their jobs and feel that their English is improving daily. Daughter Ellina has fit right into the swing of high school, earning excellent grades and having fun with her many new American friends.

They are so thrilled and happy to be here as they love this country, enjoying especially the tremendous sense of freedom and independence

Recipes

1 pound piece of veal or beef, with a bone

1-2 additional yeal or beef soup bones, optional

I large onion, diced and divided 2 medium-sized carrots, scrapped and shredded 1/2 green or red pepper, seeded and chopped finely

2 cups cabbage, shredded 2-3 beets, cooked until fork tender, peeled and grated on medium side of grater (canned beets may be used) 4 potatoes, peeled and cut up 1 potato, peeled, cooked and mashed 3-4 garlic cloves, chopped finely

I can tomato sauce, 15-ounce size 2 tablespoons ketchup 2 tablespoons margarine fresh parsley, chopped 4 quarts water Sour Cream

Using a large soup pot, cook meat with one half of the large onion, diced, in salted water for 1 hour. In a separate sauce pan, cook 2-3 washed beets with the ends trimmed off, in water for about 30 minutes or until the beets are fork tender. In another sauce pan, boil one peeled, quartered potato until fork tender and then mash it with a potato masher or a blender.

Next, saute the other diced half of the onion in 2 tablespoons margarine. When the onions are translucent, add the shredded carrots and chopped green pepper. Continue cooking until softened, about 5-8 minutes.

When the meat has cooked for an hour, add the sautced vegetables, the shredded cabbage, the four cut-up potatoes and, when done, the peeled and grated beets to the soup pot and stir to combine. Mix in the can of tomato sauce and two tablespoons of ketchup. Allow to simmer, removing the meat, trimming offany fat and cutting it into bitesized chunks, and return it to the soup pot. Chop the garlic cloves finely and combine well with the one mashed potato. Season to taste and add to the soup.

Ladle into bowls, add a dollop of sour cream.

PIROSHKIS

This recipe makes 20-piroshkis. 4 tablespoons olive oil, divided 8 ounce box of mushrooms, washed and sliced I medium onion, chopped finely 5 medium-sized potatoes, peeled, quartered and cooked until fork-tender

2 tubes of ready-to-bake buttermilk biscuits

Saute in two tablespoons of olive oil the sliced mushrooms and chopped onions in a large frying pan. Cook until the onlons are slightly crispy, about 10 min-

When the potatoes are fork-tender, drain them and mash with a potato masher or blender until they are of a smooth consistency. Add the sauteed mushrooms and onlons and mix in well with the potatoes. Season to taste, :

Open the tube and separate the biscuits. Take each biscuit and stretch it so that it almost doubles in size. Take a spoonful of the potato mixture and place it in the center of the biscuit dough. Then, folding the dough around the filling, pinch the edges closed and pat with your hands to mold into a circular or oval shape.

Place the piroshkis in a preheated frying pan with the remaining 2 tablespoons of olive oil. Cook each side of the piroshki until it is golden brown, or place the piroshkis on a cookle sheet, brush each of them with beaten egg and bake at 425 degrees for about 10 minutes or until they are golden brown.

Versatile vodka: the toast of Eastern Europe

Vodka, the diminutive of voda (water), originated in Russia if you're Russian, and in Poland if you're Polish. As the argument continues, far be it from us to take sides. Not all vodka is made in Russia, Poland or Sweden. American vodka has been produced since the 1930s.

The history of vodka's rise to popularity in the United States can be traced to the Russian Revolution. When fighting reached Moscow, home of the Smirnoff distilleries since 1818, the family was devastated. Vladimir, the only family member to escape, soon found that his only remaining asset was his family's recipe for making vodka.

SMIRNOFF'S FORMULA was eventually brought to America and became the first vodka to be produced in the United States.

·Vodka has always been made from the most inexpensive materials available to the distiller — potatoes and grains. Premium imported vodkas and American-made bottlings are made from grain, principally corn, wheat and rye.

Vodka, like whisky, is distilled from a fermented mash. It is made neutral in character, odor and taste by distilling to a very high proof, diluting with crystal clear water and filtering the colorless spirit through activated charcoal.

Having no flavor of its own, vodka is a versatile mixer and combines especially well with fresh fruit juices. The Screwdriver uses vodka with orange juice while the Bloody Mary incorporates tomato juice. Traditionally, vodka was drunk straight, ice cold, in small glasses accompanied by sharp flavored appetizers like smoked fish and caviar.

AMERICANS HAVE also come to enjoy vodka straight, directly from the freezer, on the rocks or straight up in a chilled snifter. Premium vodka is for sipping, not quaffing. The best are clean, perfectly neutral spirits with an elevated viscosity that promotes a silky mouthfeel.

The following premium vodkas are listed in increasing order of our taste preference. Wyborowa (Veeba-rova, Polish) neutral aromas, thin mouthfeel, slightly alcoholic aftertaste; Stolichnaya (Russian) perfume and citrus zest aromas, clean, viscous, tastes like it smells; Tangueray Sterling (English) perfectly neutral, viscous, clean, refined, elegant finish; Stolichnaya Cristall delicate lemon, citrus aromas with complementary - flavors, balanced,

focus on wine

smooth finish, vanilla-caramel aftertaste; Absolut (Swedish) delicate bramble bush aromas, viscous, glycerine-like textures, coffee-toffee finish, very sophisticated.

TRADITIONAL HORS d'oeuvres of caviar, smoked salmon, ham, anchovies and salt herring still make the best food accompaniments to an icy glass of your favorite vodka.

The U.S. fashion of drinking vodka began after World War II when a Hollywood restaurateur "got stuck" with a large unsalable stock of ginger beer. Desperate to find a way to sell it, he experimented with sev eral alcoholic beverages. He found success when he mixed the ginger beer with vodka and lime juice, served it in a copper mug, and called it a Moscow Mule.

Easy pizza entree

An easy-to-prepare combination of pizza and meat loaf created by Grace Crispo of Norwell, Mass., was selected as the grand prize winner from over 4,000 entries in the Kellogg's All-Bran Healthy Life recipe contest:

While trying to increase the dietary fiber in her family's diet, Grace developed "Branizza" using her family's favorite meal - pizza. A simple combination of pizza sauce, lean ground beef, vegetables, mozzarella cheese and All-Bran cereal makes this pizza-style meat loaf a tasty, quick supper for hungry crowds.

Busy chefs can make this dish when they have a few minutes during the weekend, then freeze it for later use.

BRANIZZA 11/4 cups Kellogg's All-Bran cereal

132 pounds lean ground beef 1 egg, slightly beaten

14 cup low-fat milk

1 cup chopped onions

New feature has ethnic flavor

This is a week of firsts. On the first page of Taste we're introducing a new feature - "A Taste of ... which spotlights the cuisine of an dthnic group.

People are hungry for news about the changes in the Soviet Union. To. field satisfy reader appetites, we're serving up an appetizing sample of food from the "Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic."

A different ethnic group will be featured every month. In November, look for "A Taste of Malta."

! In addition to information about food, the articles will list coming events, and ethnic organizations for people interested in rediscovering their roots. Suggestions are welcome, call me at 953-2105. If I'm away on assignment, my voice mail will answer for me. Don't hang up, leave a message:

INSIDE TASTE is another first this column which will include tidbits of information, and comments from readers. Your calls are appreciated; they help me develop ideas for stories that you want to read.

Now on to the main course. Look for "Winner Dinner" on the bottom of the front page of the Taste section every other week. Lots of readers have called, and wondered what happened to it, especially after the column appeared, minus the recipes in some editions on Monday, Sept. 9.

I've been getting calls from readers who want to know where to pick fall raspberries. The pickings are good at Makielski Berry Farm, 7130 Platt Road, Ypsilanti, (1 mile south of U.S. 12, ½ mile west of US-23), 434-3673 or 572-0060. I called there last week. They cover the berry plants when the temperature drops to 22 degrees to protect them from frost. Berries should be available until the middle of October.

Blakes on North Avenue, just north of 33 Mile Road in Armada, has very few raspberries, but they do have apples, pumpkins, free wag-on rides on weekends, cider, doughnuts, and a haunted barn. Call 784-9710 for information.

IF YOU'RE the kind of person who likes to read the back of the cereal box while eating breakfast, or won't throw away a can without checking the label for a recipe, here's a cookbook for you - "The Back of the Box Gourmet" by Michael Laughlin.

Published by Simon & Schuster. the book is a collection of "productbased" recipes from labels, cans, bottles, and cartons. If you lost your recipes for Chex Party Mix, Milky Way Bar Swirl Cake, Rice Krispies Treats or Mock Apple Pie, this is the place to look. The hardcover book with black and white photos retails at $14.95. It's available locally at Border's Book Store in Novi, Birmingham, and Ann Arbor.

A blow tube clinched between her teeth, Denise Ostoin uses a hand torch to splice an electrode on a section of glass tubing, the first step in making a neon sign or art atter the pattern been SSSSSSSS IT CAN BE A grate-on-yournerves sound, if you're not use to it. But for Denise Ostoin, it's the sound of art . . . her art. . . in the making.

"The thing I enjoy is that, granted it takes artistic skill to a point, but it's not monotonous," said Denise Ostoln, a glass-blowing tube clinched between her teeth. "It's something different all the time."

* The 25-year-old Farmington resident's world is neon. bright and rightly so. It's her job. Ostoin is, so to speak, Alternative Visions Neon of Redford, a small shop that specializes in neon signs and art.

A neon green cactus in the window, flanked by a simplistic neon red heart, tells you you're at the right place. It's a no-frills operation. In fact, the frilliest thing in the shop is her pet poodle, which sports hot pink toenails and a matching hair bow.

She opened the shop on a shoestring — "There was $75 in the bank account." — three years ago, and while people aren't beating down her door for her work, she is, she said "doing OK." Hers is one of a few shops in the metro area that deals strictly in neon.

Ostoin was working in an office — "I moved paper around." — when she decided to stuff it all and enroll in a school in Windsor that specialized in making neon

LACKING THE tuition up front, she was able to wrangled a payment schedule out of the instructor and spent eight hours a day for next two months learning to work with the glass tubes and gas.

"I figured the worse that could happen was that I'd come out with a trade and make the same amount of money I was making, working in an office," she said.

"It turned out that I enjoyed it." After school, she spent two years at Unique Neon in Roseville, honing her skills. Once she began feeling competent and was able to "look at something and dread not being able to do it," she struck out on her own, doing freelance work for a sign shop in Troy while getting her Redford shop in order.

'The best analogy I can think of is typing," she said, heating a glass tube in the blue flame that blackens a green grease pencil mark. "They can teach you where the keys are, but it's up to you to work up to speed."

Without missing a question, she pulls the tube from the flame and bends it checking it against a heatresistant pattern on a long workbench. The finished piece will look more like a pale purple wiggle mark, but will jazz up a somber black and white poster.

AN OPEN sign lays face down on a table, waiting for a session with the bombarder, a 60,000-volt machine that removes impurities from the tube and creates a vacuum before either argon or neon gas is added. The bombarder also "excites" the gas, creating the recognizable neon effect.

But the process isn't as simple as that. Neon patterns are done backwards, and Ostoin has learned to look at a pattern bend by bend rather than as a whole piece.

Ostoin doesn't she herself as an artistic. As she sees it, she has a bit more ability than the average person. Her training was a basic art class in high school, of which she said she never had the discipline to make up drawings, although she could be forced to. She did take drafting in school and enjoyed it. She has incorporated that into her neon work.

"I guess that makes me more of a mechanical

And she has learned a lot since finishing school. She has learned to manipulate the glass and to be patient, letting the glass cool before going on to the next bend. She also finds it ironic that she does such delicate work.

"I'm the biggest klutz in the world," she said. "I've broken things but I'm amazed I haven't damaged anything with all my tripping and falling."

SHE ALSO has learned that if she does something wrong with a piece, it generally can be fixed, although starting over laves on time, frustration and wasted

"I have bad days where I walk in and can't do anything," she said. "And on those days where everything you do is breaking it's best to walk away from it because when you get frustrated you end up wasting glass."

Jon Reeves nods his head in agreement. Reeves worked with Ostoin at Unique Neon and now is her "right-hand man," getting supplies, answering the telephone and doing those things that Ostoin doesn't have time to.

Like Ostoin, he got into neon work because he was looking for something different to do.

Neon patterns are enjoying a resurgence in popularity and Ostoin hopes to capitalize on it. A majority of her business is in signs, although, istemthe times does have some artistic pokers on the fire.

Neon art:

A sign of

She created neon pieces that sit behind glass blocks as an accent over a bar in West Bloomfield, and supplied a neon backdrop that followed the etched pattern on frosted glass for another company.

HER WORK also includes three-dimensional pieces; in which the pattern can be seen from all angles.

Three-dimensional pieces are "very expensive and kind of nightmarish to do," but look very nice when done, she said. "People think neon and they think of a hot pink hotel sign. I'm trying to take it to a different plane.

"There are so many applications that people don't realize that it's neon half the time."

Neon art isn't cheap. Her neon cactus, anchored in stone-filled pot and decorated with rubber cement spines, costs $180. The neon heart is $150. Neonaccented posters can cost $350-400, since special framing is required.

And posters need not be limited to somber poses of James Dean or Elvis. It can be used to to accent poster-size portraits and the like.

Neon pieces do have staying power. A well-cared for neon piece should last in excess of 10 years, and some neon pieces have lasted as long as 45 years, Ostoin

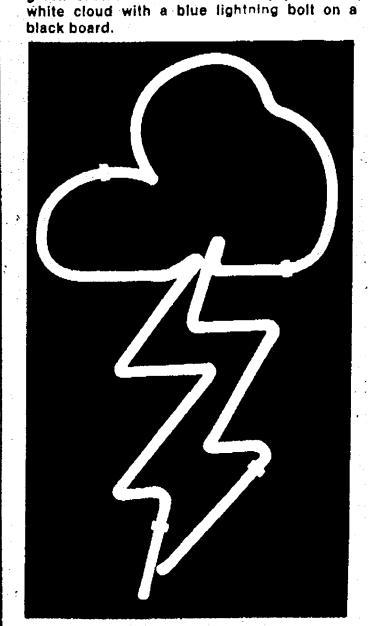

But there is a question about the staying-power of the interest in neon, especially with the influx of massproduced neon posters from California. Ostoin frets that the lack of quality in those pieces could well spell then end of the new neon art craze. But'she doesn't worry too much.

"Neon is used in so many applications that if the custom work fades out, I'll still be able to use my trade one way or another," she said:

STREET BEATS

He injects life into his words

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Chris Smither's craft has always been known among his songwriting peers. But a billboard with neon lights is needed to trumpet his talents to the general public.

His voice is resonant, conveying a variety of blues-inspired emotion and reflective timber. Smither's genius, though, lies in the seemingly effortless finger-picking style of gui-

His lyrics are injected with life amid the jaunty inflections suppliedby guitar. The words to his songs almost seem to bounce when Smither performs.

"I do like to think the two (guitar and lyrics) are well mixed," said Smither, who performs Saturday, Oct. 12, at Birmingham Unitarian Church as part of the La Casa Folk Music Series. "Guitar comes easier to me. I usually have the guitar orchestration down well before the lyrics ... I agonize over the lyrics for the most part.

"In a way, the guitar is a smooth way to lure you into that, sort of a way to slip you into the song. In a way, the songs sound similar in the beginning . . . It's a seduction."

IN ADDITION to folk audiences around the country, Smither's music has seduced people like Bonnie Raitt who recorded both "Love You Like a Man" and "I Feel the Same." He's garnered respect mainly through the grassroots efforts of live performances and from his peers.

The arduous songwriting process Smither endures could help explain a recording career that has only included five albums since 1970. He also did an album that was never re-

The 18-song effort reveals all the hallmarks of Smither's ability to convey contradiction and desolation so eloquently. "A Song for Susan" is one of the most wrought with emotion, dedicated to his common-law wife Susan Metzger who died two Smither pours out his soul in the tender acoustic number, chronicling all of its confusion and disillusionment. The first few verses of the number were written when he first met her. The latter part was penned six months after her death.

The concluding lyrics leave a lump in a person's throat.

"I believe in plenty of nothing/ Nothing is always in this room, but I don't need nothing/I've got nothing here without you.'

Many of Smither's numbers are from personal experiences. Early in his career, he moved from New Orleans to the primming folk scene on the East Coast.

The transplanted Southern singer stayed in touch with his roots, even if he didn't realize it.

"IT'S ONLY recently that I became aware of how much New Orleans has affected me," he said. "I always had people tell me before they could hear it in my work.

"I think it's been in the last four or five years. New Orleans music and musicians have received so much attention recently. I listen to the music like the Subdudes and say, 'Yealt, that's the way to do it."

On his next album, Smither said he'd like to' work with rhythm section in order to develop a bigger sound. "I would like to do an acoustic album that will make me sound 10 feet tall."

Also, like many singer/ songwriters, Smither wouldn't mind a little more in the way of commercial success. A major label deal would help in that pursuit, but he's very realistic.

They tend to shy away from solo guitarists for some reasons," he said. "I know the reason: Radio won't play

Bryan Harvey and Johnny Holl, who founded the House of Freaks five years ago, decided to add guitarist Steve McCarthey and bassist Bob Rupe to their lineup.

House of Freaks add 2 occupants

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Then there were four.

Of course, this tried-and-true formula is hardly a milestone in the annals of rock'n'roll. But this is the House of Freaks we're talking about

The Richmond, Va., outfit made a symphony of racket with just a guitarist and a drummer and gathered a legion of followers along the way. Those familiar with the band know guitarist/vocalist Bryan Harvey and percussionist Johnny Hott have never been too content with anything for any extended period of

And five years of just being a twosome grew kind of gruelsome.

"It almost became a parody," said Harvey, who's group rolls into Industry in Pontiac Thursday, Oct. 10, to support of their major label release debut, "Cakewalk" (Giant). "We felt people were making a bigger deal of that (being a two-man band) than the music. We'd hear things like, 'Oh, you're not bad for a two-man

Rest assured, though, the House of Freaks didn't add gultarist Steve McCarthey, formerly of the Long Ryders, and bassist Bob Rupe, formerly of the Silos, just because of a few off-handed remarks made by members of the record-buying public. This outfit has been more about sound manipulation than commercial capitulation.

Evidenced by three cracking LPs, two of which were distributed by Rhino Records "Monkey on a Chain Gang" and "Tantilla." And, of course, the recently released "Cakewalk" on the Warner Bros. subsidiary Giant.

BOREDOM HAS always been the catalyst for Harvey and Hott, who attack-all the previously held theories of what-a rock'n'roll band should be. Using an odd variety of percussion - in this case a gear shift and garbage can lids - along with quirky rhythms, House of Freaks present an aural plethora of musical styles such as rock, folk, blues and country.

As a duo, the House of Freaks could sound bigger than life. But "Cakewalk" realizes the full potential of a musical foundation laid five years ago when Harvey and Hott moved to Los Angeles and began kicking up a ruckus.

New members McCarthey and Rupe, both from Richmond, have helped make that possible.

You definitely sort of fall into the four-man band cliche," Harvey said. "Now we know we can take it down to the two-man thing. We have a lot more range this way.'

In the process, House of Freaks veered away from a growing trend of two-member bands with Flat Duo Jets, Chickasaw Mudd Puppies and Timbuk 3. Though Timbuk 3 has forsaken their boom box and is touring as a foursome.

"Oddly enough, all these bands are different," Harvey said. "Maybe you have to be really imaginative when there's only two of you.'

Such could be said for House of Freaks. Banter can be heard between members between cuts on "Catwalk" and the various noises

"When I'm really fed up with it, I'd probably go back to school and teach history," he said. "I think why we keep going is it's like driving on a country road and you want to see
