Judge rules smoke shop owner was entrapped

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A former Westland smoke shop owner has been cleared of allegations he used the Internet to arrange for sex with a supposed 15-year-old girl.

Jonathan Nunoo, 39, spent nearly five months in jail awaiting trial for criminal charges that a Wayne County judge has now dismissed, saying police entrapped him.

Circuit Judge Patricia Fresard dropped the charges earlier this month, ruling that police entrapped Nunoo by sending a 17-year-old girl into All-Star Smoke Shop to engage him in conversation.

The girl told Nunoo that she was 15 and obtained e-mail addresses from him. She turned them over to authorities, and Wayne County Sheriff Cpl. William Liczbinski testified during an April 6 court hearing that he posed as a girl who chatted with Nunoo online about sex, movies, school and other topics.

Police arrested Nunoo on March 15 when authorities said he went to Town & Country Lanes bowling alley on Wayne Road to meet a girl.

Fresard dismissed charges against Nunoo on Sept. 14 following an unusually long, four-day evidentiary hearing.

"The judge ruled that the police were involved in entrapment activity and dismissed the case," Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Keith Clark said Monday.

The prosecutor's office is reviewing the judge's decision and may seek to have it overturned, he said.

"I believe there will be an appeal," Clark said.

During an April 6 preliminary hearing in Westland District Court, Liczbinski testified that Nunoo invited what he believed was a 15-year-old girl to his house for dinner and sex.

Police had sent a girl to Nunoo's now-closed business, on Wayne Road south of Marquette, to investigate whether he was giving or selling cigarettes to minors and possibly asking for sexual favors, according to police.

Liczbinski's testimony against Nunoo prompted Westland 18th District Judge C. Charles Bokos to order the defendant to stand trial on two counts of using the Internet to commit a crime and one count of child sexually abusive activity.

In his ruling, Bokos said that "there's no doubt in my mind that Mr. Nunoo thought he was dealing with a minor all along."

Nunoo was a Westland resident who came to the United States from Ghana a decade ago with a green card. He had no known criminal history.

Defense attorney Bertram Johnson argued in April that Nunoo shouldn't be charged as an Internet sex predator because Liczbinski - not Nunoo - initiated the online contact.

"I don't think a jury could ever find that there were any elements (of criminal wrongdoing)," Johnson said at the time.

Nunoo had been jailed from March 15 until he finally was able to post a bond on Aug. 8 for his release. If convicted, he could have faced penalties ranging up to 20 years in prison.

This week, prosecutor Clark said it wasn't known when a possible appeal of Judge Fresard's ruling might be formally filed.

Helping out: Return trip to Nigeria is family affair

BY DARRELL CLEM

Kelley Fulkerson will leave the comfort of her Westland home Sunday to provide health care for rural Africans.

Her two-week trip will be much like one she took last year. She'll be working in mobile health clinics, treating rural villagers, and providing medicine for everything from hypertension to malaria.

But, Fulkerson's trip to the southeastern Nigeria state of Abia will be significantly different this year. She's taking her 17-year-old son Troy, a Livonia Franklin High School senior.

"I want him to learn that the world is a very big place outside of what we know and see each day," said Fulkerson, 49.

Troy Fulkerson didn't hesitate to go, no matter how far removed Nigeria is for a high school cellist who also sings in the metal band Gomorra and who hopes to study animation at the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit.

"I jumped all over the chance to go," he said. "It's a chance to go to a different country and help people."

The Fulkersons will go with a small contingent from Silver Cross Medical Ministries, started by Kelley Fulkerson's friend Flora Smith, a California resident formerly of the Detroit area.

Police look for suspects in 2 recent home invasions

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Westland police believe the same suspects may be involved in two home invasions at gunpoint that occurred within six days on the city's northwest side.

The latest incident occurred about 2:15 a.m. Monday at Fountain Park Apartments, on Newburgh south of Joy. It followed a similar home invasion five days earlier at Westwood Village Apartments at Joy and Hix roads.

"They're very similar," police Lt. James Ridener said.

In the Fountain Park incident, a 72-year-old man told police he was awakened about 2:15 a.m. Monday and found four men in his bedroom. One suspect armed with a handgun forced the victim to stand up and face a wall.

The intruders ransacked the apartment and took the victim's money and other personal property. They also took his car keys and fled in his 2005 Saturn, which was later found at nearby Scotsdale Apartments, according to police reports.

The victim told police that he believes the intruders entered his apartment through a sliding door that he admitted leaving unlocked.

He described the intruders as black males, 5-foot-9 to 6 feet tall, their weight proportionate to their height. He said they wore scarves or bandanas over their faces and wore dark clothing.

The earlier incident happened about 2 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 20, at Westwood Village Apartments, where a 46-year-old tenant said a black male armed with a semiautomatic handgun came through the doorwall.

The intruder ordered the victim to the floor at gunpoint, put the gun to the back of his head and ordered him not to move, according to reports. The victim told police that at least two other suspects accompanied the gunman.

As he lay face down on the floor with a gun to his head, the victim told police that he could hear the other intruders rustling through papers, drawers and cupboards.

The victim reported that he was robbed of several guns, his wallet and other personal items. The intruders also took his car keys and fled in his 2005 Monte Carlo, according to police reports.

Canton police found the car a short time later near Joy and Haggerty roads.

Anyone who has information about the incidents is urged to call the Westland Police Department at (734) 722-9600.

Lounge Lizards win M*A*S*H* Olympics

A fund-raiser dubbed the M*A*S*H Olympics, patterned after the old television show and movie, has raised more than $600 for charity.

The event was sponsored Sept. 9 by the Bova VFW Post 9885 in Westland to benefit the Wayne-Westland Special Olympics and World Medical Relief, a Detroit-based organization that helps impoverished veterans.

The money was raised even though Mother Nature dumped rain on the party.

"It poured," said Joseph L. "Larry" Tebor, Bova post commander.

Still, four teams rounded up enough members to compete in such events as races with hospital gurneys and crutches.

Coming in first place was the Limpin' Lounge Lizards, whose members were identified by Tebor as Brad Combs, Veronia Beauvais, Erin B., Rodney Bowman, LauRen Szpara and Holly Poteracki.

Other teams were the Westland Warriors, Potter's Porkers and Special Ones. Event organizers also sold

Judge delays Peer trial until Oct. 23

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Westland teenager Jeremy Peer's trial has been delayed on charges he fled the scene after he drove off a Florida road in a Jeep Commander, killing a woman and injuring her husband.

Peer, 18, had been scheduled for trial Monday in Bay County Circuit Court for a spring break accident that killed Colleen Martin, 33, and injured her husband, Montey, 42.

But, Florida state attorney spokesman Joe Grammer confirmed Tuesday that the trial has been delayed until Oct. 23.

Peer

Grammer couldn't immediately confirm whether the trial was postponed to give prosecuting and defense attorneys time to reach a possible plea agreement.

Peer, a 2006 Livonia Franklin graduate, also has a court date scheduled five days before his trial is set to begin.

Attempts have been unsuccessful to discuss the case on the record with friends and family members of the Martins.

Similarly, Peer's mother, Janet, has said her family has been advised by an attorney not to comment. She made a brief statement in April, saying that her son "is doing the only thing that he can do right now, and that's wait."

Janet Peer also asked for prayers for her son and the victims of the April 17 accident.

Peer, a former Franklin athlete, is listed as being a defensive back on the Adrian College football team. Some people who are following the case have e-mailed the Observer to ask why he is being allowed to go on with his life with the criminal charges pending against him.

According to Florida authorities, Peer's family posted a $175,000 bond for his release from jail after the accident, allowing him to finish his senior year at Livonia Franklin and move on to Adrian College.

An attempt was made Tuesday to contact the college to determine its policy on students who have criminal charges pending against them. A spokeswoman said she was looking into the policy, but she hadn't called back as of Wednesday morning.

MHS looks into staffer's comments about squirrel

BY SUE MASON
STAFF WRITER

Gary Locke's recent experience at the Michigan Humane Society's Berman Center for Animal Care has left him wondering why the organization doesn't know where to take a wild animal for care and rehabilitation.

So much so that he planned on delivering a printout of the home Web page for Ann Arbor-based Friends of Wildlife to the facility.

He was hoping a baby squirrel he found last week in the parking lot of a CVS store in Farmington Hills would go to that type of organization. But a woman at the counter told him the center euthanizes baby squirrels, he said.

Shocked by the statement, Locke said he told the woman he wanted the animal to be taken care of, not killed, and told her the animal should be taken to someone that can care for him.

"I did not want him to be put to sleep. I wanted him to at least have a chance," Locke said. "And by this attitude of the humane society, I was positive that he had no chance there."

What Locke was told is alarming for the MHS, which does take in wild animals — 613 in 2004, and 655 in 2005 — and does work with animal rehabili-tators, said Jan Cantle, MHS marketing program manager.

In fact, Locke's baby squirrel was one of five squirrels brought to the Berman center last week.

"We're concerned about what was said and if we have a problem with customer service," Cantle said. "We work with rehabilitators, we work with them closely, but we don't place animals with them that can't be released back into the wild. We're concerned we may have a problem with the staff."

Locke speculated that the animal may have been blown from its nest during last week's rainstorms and may have found refuge under a car, dropping off while it was in the CVS parking lot.

He used a work glove to pick up the animal and put it in a box. When he put his hand in the box, the squirrel would climb in it and grab on to his finger.

"I checked first to see if it was bleeding," he said. "Its eyes were open and it was cold, but once he climbed in my hand, he calmed down."

Like Locke, the animal evaluator who looked at the squirrel determined that it most likely fell from its nest.

According to Cantle, the evaluator also determined that the squirrel had "neurological damage and would not be able to fend for itself in the wild."

"It had a bump on its head that it wasn't going to come back from," she said. "It's important that we do what is right for the squirrel. Putting it back into the wild when it can't fend for itself would have been cruel."

Cantle added that if Locke "was able to pick up the squirrel, it was one that needed help."

She is hoping to talk with Locke about what happened and correct any misinformation he was given.

While the MHS' primary focus is companion animals, it does help with injured wild animals, abandoned exotic animals, or birds and livestock.

Resources, however, determine the extent to which it can help in those situations. It does "try to provide helpful information and assistance as it can."

"We'd like to let him know about what we do," she said, adding that if the incident is a problem with staff, it will be addressed.

Locke said he has lost confidence in what MHS does. He has donated to MHS in past, but may not in the future.

"Euthanizing shouldn't be the first thing they do, it should be last resort," he said. "That's not the right way to be treated. Taking that baby squirrel there was the worst thing I could have done."

Patriot, Spartan bands snare 2nd-place trophies

BY DIANE HANSON
CORRESPONDENT

Franklin and Stevenson high schools both marched off with second-place trophies at the Woodhaven Invitational in Brownstown Township on Saturday.

The Franklin Patriots took second place in Flight II, following first-place Southgate Anderson. Farmington came in third.

"This is the second show of our season and they're doing very, very well," said a pleased Kristi Jasin, director of bands at Franklin. "We're really proud of them."

This year's program, "Kaleidoscope," also brought home a third-place trophy for the 75-member band at last-week's competition in Novi.

"The program was one our drill writer and music arranger, Tom Weidner, came up with," said Jasin. "We really liked the concepts of light, color and shape and decided on the name 'Kaleidoscope.'"

"I really like this year's show a lot," said flutist and junior drum major, Rachel Wood, a Franklin junior. "I think it's really put together well and our drill is amazing."

Senior drum major Justin Johnson is happy with how far the band has progressed this early in the season.

"I think our band is amazing," he said. "From the very first time the kids even looked at the music until now is so much of an improvement. I would have never thought they would have come this far so fast."

It was the season opener for the Stevenson Marching Spartans.

tion of the season," said David Booker, in his 20th year as band and orchestra director at Stevenson. "The students did very well. We chose this show because the level of difficulty is right for this year's marching band, the tunes are recognizable and popular and the students enjoy playing them."

This year's approximately 10-minute competition piece is entitled, "Motown," and includes selections from "Ain't No Mountain High Enough," "Love Child," "My Girl," "Get Ready," and "Never Can Say Goodbye."

"This year's program is really fun," said senior color guard member Emily Fortner. "It's allowed us to be more creative with costumes, like using boas, and with the dancing. We incorporated moves from the 1950s and '60s, the era the songs are from."

The 79-member band captured the second-place trophy in Flight I. Flights I - IV are determined by the student enrollment with Flight I comprised of the largest schools. First place in Flight I went to Plymouth-Canton.

Next up for the Livonia marchers is the John Glenn Invitational in Westland Sept. 30 and Franklin's own invitational on Oct. 7.

Give pint, get pizza benefits Red Cross

BY DARRELL CLEM

Nothing goes better with pizza than a pint, right?

But Jeri Stollings isn't talking about beer.

Stollings, owner of Porky's Pizza 'N' Bar-b-cue in Westland, will offer a free small cheese pizza for those who donate a pint of blood to help the American Red Cross battle a critical shortage.

Stollings already offered a pint for a pint — ice cream for blood, that is — at the King Kone business she and her husband, Gene, own in Garden City. "We thought we'd try it at the pizzeria, too," she said.

Porky's will offer a pizza for a pint from 1-7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 10. The Red Cross will bring a mobile unit to the business, located at 1409 S. Merriman between Avondale and Palmer.

Donors may sign up by stopping by the pizzeria or, if they're in a hurry, simply by using the next-door drive-through service at The Pit Stop, a family owned convenience store.

Those who don't reserve a time slot may walk in the day of the blood drive, Stollings said. For more information, she said, call (734) 728-7470.

Stollings, a Garden City resident, has sponsored blood drives for six years at King Kone. She helps the Red Cross because her late mother, Gertrude Stollings, depended on the blood supply before she died years ago after losing a battle with myeloma, a cancer that affects the blood and bones.

Entries sought for VFW competitions

Area high school students have an opportunity to participate in this year's Voice of Democracy scholarship competition, according to VFW Post 6896 Commander John Welchman and Ladies Auxiliary President Barbara Gucwa.

The annual audio essay brings winning participants thousands of dollars in scholarships and a free trip to Washington, D.C., as well as dozens of other awards.

Students begin by competing in the local VFW post level, with a deadline of Nov. 1. Local winners will advance to district and potentially state competitions.

The state winner will get a four-day tour of the nation's capital, along with winners from every state and some other countries.

In the last 60 years, more than seven million students have participated by writing and then recording a three-to-five-minute essay about this year's theme, "Freedom's Challenge."

State winners will receive at least $1,000 and will be in competition for a $30,000 award.

The Patriot Pen Essay Competition is for students in grades six through eight.

Students may compete in a local essay contest and, if they advance, they also could win thousands of dollars in U.S. savings bonds and a free trip.

Students begin by competing at the post level, and winners advance to district and state competitions.

State winners compete for more than $75,000 in U.S. savings bonds and an all-expenses-paid trip to Washington, D.C.

Each year, more than 130,000 students compete. Participants are invited to write an essay between 300 and 400 words long. This year's theme is "Citizenship in America." Deadline for entry is Nov. 1.

Interested students and teachers should contact the VFW Post 6896 by calling (734) 525-9454 or by writing to Sgt. Stanley Romanowski VFW Post 6896, 28945 Joy, Westland, MI 48185.

Man accosts teen on way to school

Accosting scare

A 16-year-old girl told police that a stranger tried to get her in his car as she was walking to Wayne Memorial High School about 7:30 a.m. Monday.

The girl, a 10th-grader, told police the incident happened near the corner of Norene and Steiber when two men drove by in what was possibly a Ford Focus. She reported that a passenger got out of the car, threw a $20 bill at her and ordered her to get in the vehicle. She said she refused and began walking up a nearby driveway of a home.

The girl told police the man picked up the $20, returned to the car and left traveling north on Norene. She said she had never seen him before. She described him as a black male, about 19 years old, 5-foot-7 and 200 pounds with cornrows.

Camcorder, car stolen

A 29-year-old woman told police that someone entered her unlocked doorwall at Point West Apartments, on Palmer Road between Newburgh and Wayne, between 7:30 p.m. and 11 p.m. Saturday. The woman reported that a camcorder was taken from a bedroom. She said the intruder also got her car keys from a coffee table and stole her vehicle.

Break-in

A 33-year-old woman told police that someone broke into her home on Julius Boulevard, but she didn't notice anything missing.

She said the incident happened between 9 a.m. last Friday and 12:45 p.m. Sunday.

The woman said she is in the process of moving. She said most of her belongings were packed. She said someone broke in the back door and that an alarm could have scared off the intruder.

Finding your next home just got easier.

Week to honor 4-H Struggle leads to man's stabbing

The Wayne County 4-H - its more than 12,000 club members, and the parents, volunteers and community members who support them - are ready to celebrate National 4-H Week Sunday-Saturday, Oct. 1-7.

During National 4-H Week, 4-Hers share their accomplishments with their communities.

Club members will be wearing green and white or their Club T-shirts on Oct. 2 to make it easy for community members to recognize them and ask them questions about their 4-H experiences.

The 4-H colors of green and white represent the ideals of the 4-H program.

The white symbolizes purity and high ideas. Green is nature's most common color and is symbolic of youth, life and growth.

Also during National 4-H Week, a Club Development and Prospective New Leader Training will be held 1-4 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 4, and Saturday, Oct. 7, sixth floor office, at the 640 Temple St. in Detroit.

Adults from the Westland community interested in learning more about 4-H and the development of a club are welcome to attend one of these sessions.

Michigan's only youth development program directly connected to the technological advances and latest research of Michigan State University, 4-H helps members learn leadership, citizenship and life skills through hands-on projects in science, engineering and technology, healthy living, or citizenship.

Topics are as varied as animal science, public speaking, gardening, photography, nutrition, and community service.

It also helps young people reach their full potential. Recent studies show youth who participate in 4-H do better in school, are more motivated to help others, feel safe to try new things, achieve a sense of self-esteem, and develop lasting friendships.

For more information on the 4-H program or to register for the Club Development and Prospective New Leader Training, call Laurie Rivetto, 4-H Youth Educator, at (734) 727-7236 or by e-mail at rivetto@msu.edu.

A 49-year-old Westland man was in police custody Wednesday, awaiting to be formally charged on allegations he stabbed an acquaintance at a home in Livonia's Eight Mile-Middlebelt area Tuesday afternoon.

"This appears to be the result of a fight between two men who knew each other," said Livonia police Lt. Greg Winn. "We don't know exactly what happened yet, but this was not a random incident."

The 48-year-old victim continued to receive critical care at Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills on Wednesday. Winn said the man was conscious and doctors expect him to recover.

Problems began at the victim's home on Beatrice Street shortly before 3 p.m. A verbal exchange escalated, Winn said, when the 49-year-old man stabbed the other man twice, once in the abdomen and once in the arm.

The victim was able to walk to a nearby business at the corner of Beatrice and Eight Mile to seek help. Workers there called police and took the man to the hospital. Investigators found the Westland man at his brother's home in Detroit.

CENTER

Canton resident. "But literally before my eyes, I'm seeing improvement and it allows me to have a positive attitude. I make a conscious effort to remain positive."

The center is housed in the hospital's Sports Rehab Center on Central City Parkway next to Dick's Sporting Goods in Westland. It's a one-of-a-kind facility in Wayne County, offering one-stop wound healing and hyperbaric oxygen therapy.

It took 15 months to bring the project to fruition. Dr. David Connett, the hospital's chief medical officer, was the key administrator that initiated it. Referred to as the Thomas Edison of the center, he saw the need for a hyperbaric facility while a U.S. Air Force flight surgeon based in Denver. That wound care center had a four-state catchment area.

"We talked about doing it for four-five years, we had ongoing discussion, but couldn't seem to get it over the hump," said hospital President and CEO Gary Lay. "Dave was the energy and the push at the hospital to do it, and we appreciate that."

DEVELOPING THE CENTER

Connett worked with Kenneth Locklear, president of the American Baromedical Corp., on developing the center which cost an estimated $500,000. Locklear recommended what would be needed to open the center.

"It's one of the fastest-growing fields in health care today," said Locklear, whose company is sharing the risk with the hospital.

Locklear provided the "must-have rules and covered the Medicare guidelines." He determined the design and how much square footage was needed and left the set up to be determined by center director Scott Figlio.

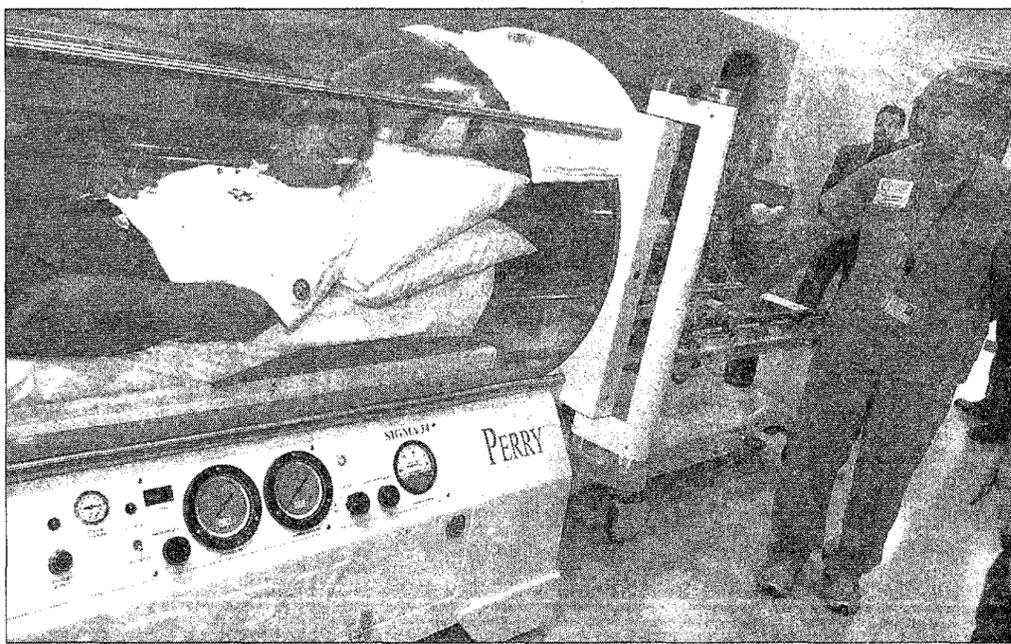

"One of the things I like about being off-site is the parking-to-treatment ratio, the distance from the parking lot to the center," Figlio said. "It's a short distance, one reason we picked being here."

Any physician can refer a patient to the center for treatment in one of the center's two hyperbaric chambers.

Figlio anticipated having 11 patients make use of the chambers when the center opened in September, but it was more like 83, he said.

"That's how great the need is in the area," he said. "We knew it was needed, but we didn't expect it to be that much."

A treatment generally lasts about 90 minutes. According to hyperbaric technologist Mark Brown, 100 percent oxygen is circulated in the chamber at a certain rate and as it is compressed, the temperature increase, about 4 degrees.

"When you come in to use the chamber, you come in clean — no makeup, no hair products — you come in the way God made you," he said. "The hydrocarbons could cause a spark."

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Vroman said she "makes the best out of what God dishes out." She is a second-time breast cancer survivor. She was originally diagnosed at age 35, only to have the disease return seven years later. She also is a diabetic and vascular patient.

"If you can use lucky and cancer in the same sentence, that's me," she said. "Both times the cancer was found very early. It was very small and no lymph nodes were involved."

She has a standing 8 a.m. appointment at the center five days a week.

It's helping clear up two wounds, one the size of quarter on her back and one on her breast, a complication from surgery.

Her doctor sent her to the center because she would be a challenge. After 2½ weeks, she's already seen remarkable results. The breast wound that was 3-by-2 centimeters is now 2½-by-1½ centimeters in size and has gone from a depth of 2½ centimeters to close to 1 centimeter.

She can't say enough about the center from the positive impact it's having on the wounds to such things as the privacy, including providing two gowns that "are huge and cover every part of you."

"It's all done with a great deal of dignity," she said. Admittedly, the first day is the scariest and the hardest, but she said it's worst to think about it than to do it.

"Personally, I'm very happy that there's a place out here that can help me," she said. "For a while I wasn't holding out much hope that someone out there could help me. I've done 10 dives and two chemos with no problem."

medications, handing out reading glasses and delivering school supplies.

"It's for people who live in villages who can't get to the cities," Kelley Fulkerson said.

The volunteers will buy most of what they need in Nigerian cities and take the supplies to rural areas where villagers live in grass-and-mud huts.

"With my faith and my prayers, I think we will be shielded from any violence."

However, they'll deliver reading glasses and school supplies — even some Beanie Babies — from the United States.

The Fulkersons said they will not be deterred by reports of oil-related kidnappings and killings in Nigeria.

"With my faith and my prayers, I think we will be shielded from any violence," Kelley Fulkerson said.

Her husband Doug, a Ford Motor Co. engineer, and her mother, Angie Watson of Livonia, are supportive of what she and her son will be doing, but they have implored them to be safe.

"My mother made me promise we will come home safely, especially with her grandson going," Kelley Fulkerson said, smiling.

The Fulkersons have had their share of immunizations and other precautionary measures for their trip.

"I've had plenty of shots," Troy Fulkerson said.

His friends and teachers are excited that he will be receiving such an experience at a young age.

"Some of them didn't believe me when I told them," he said.

Kelley Fulkerson simply wants to teach her son what it means to have a passion for helping others — far beyond Westland, Livonia, Michigan and the United States.

Although she is mindful that she is helping others, she said, "I think I receive a lot more than I give."

They always tell us how early detection can save our life. But we don't listen because we never believe we'll be a statistic.

At Beaumont, we think you should make the time for an annual physical. A complete, head-to-toe examination by a Beaumont doctor that could be — just in time.

So, if you haven't had a physical in over a year, please take a minute and make a phone call. Because if you don't take the time for this, you may not have the time for anything else.

Now it's easier than ever to have a Beaumont doctor. Drs. Ajluni and Demeri are Internal Medicine specialists. And, best of all, they're right here in Livonia.

OUR VIEWS

1 step up, 1 needed for board ethics

Livonia school board members took one step forward recently in talking about board ethics. We hope they consider another one.

The positive step was an agreement that they should rewrite a board "vision" policy item to remove what some had called a "gag order." The policy draws a line between a board member being an advocate for the board versus acting as a spokesperson for the board. It tells board members that only the superintendent and board president will act as spokespersons, and that only a spokesperson "addresses items and issues that have not yet been formally addressed by the board."

Based on that definition, it can be read that the board's new community conversations with small groups of board members could violate the policy if anyone but the board president answered a question or talked about something that had not previously been "formally addressed by the board." Of course, this is a literal interpretation, but it carries a symbolism of secrecy that the board can ill-afford in these post-recall attempt times. Board members realized this when they agreed a few weeks ago to clarify the language.

Less positive — in terms of community perception, anyway — was the discussion at that same meeting that focused on the ethics of school board members voting on contracts for employees or other issues that provide personal or family gain.

Tom Bailey's apology and explanation were understandable — he said he never realized he should have abstained from voting on a contract that affected his wife, a part-time paraprofessional. The issue of ethics in such votes isn't something that board members regularly discuss publicly.

Two other board members defended Bailey's right to vote, even encouraging it. The Michigan Association of School Boards says it's not a problem because these are large groups and board members don't actually do negotiating, Trustee Cynthia Markarian said.

There certainly are limits to the "personal gain" issue. However, board members should also clarify a specific board policy on contracts or pay raise votes.

If they agree that board members should be allowed to vote on such contracts, the policy should at least require board members to announce their personal connections or family conflicts publicly each and every time they vote on such contracts or similar issues. That should be a minimum.

Tigers roar lifts ball happy city

Go get 'em, Detroit Tigers!

In the grand scheme of things, 19 years isn't that long a time period. The 1987 season was the last one the Detroit Tigers made it into the Major League Baseball playoffs. It's only been 22 years since the roar of the 1984 Tigers sent a chill through every baseball fan as the team marched triumphantly to a World Series championship, in first place from beginning to end.

That's a short time compared to the long stretches endured by last year's champion Chicago White Sox, who had last won a World Series in 1917, or the 2004 champion Boston Red Sox, who last won in 1918. And the north side of Chicago has waited since 1908 to see their beloved and bedeviled Cubs ascend to the pinnacle of baseball.

But what a long and sorry 19 years it has been since the homer hankies of the wildcard Minnesota Twins waved good-bye to the Bengals in a first-round playoff exit.

Year after year, the Tigers have struggled to even be in the game. Manager after manager failed to bring glory back to the Motor City. Hope always springs eternal. When Alan Trammell, the quiet, effective, level-headed shortstop of that magical 1984 team, took over as manager, it seemed like a perfect match. But in 2003, the Tigers plunged to a new low with 119 losses and prospects for the future looking dim.

A new manager, a new mix of players and a better pitching staff have made the Tigers the surprise team of 2006 and their success has been a boon to the city and all of Michigan. Wherever you go, people are talking about the Tigers, watching the Tigers or listening to the Tigers on the radio.

We've had professional championships recently in basketball and hockey. Those sports have intense followings. But the Tigers have always drawn a wider audience and their success seems to reach beyond the realm of sports into a shared communal experience.

As they prepare to enter the playoffs against either Oakland or New York, we wish Jim Leyland, Pudge Rodriguez and all the Detroit Tigers a long October of baseball toward another World Series championship.

"Does this seem like a good idea to you?"

Hard to take sides

Those who have been in Westland long enough will surely remember the old stone house at the corner of Hix and Cherry Hill, complete with huge mature tree in the front yard. I used to walk through the field behind the house as a teenager to get from home to my best friend's house.

If you've driven past this corner lately, you'd probably have a hard time picturing the old house anymore. Instead you will see a strip mall and an entire new neighborhood full of condominiums and houses. This new neighborhood brought me back to Westland. I now live on the same field I used to walk through 20 years ago.

Working in the construction industry for the past decade makes it more difficult for me to take a side in the debate over keeping treed areas as vacant land and preserving wetlands or building new developments. Building new developments has fed my family for many years, yet the sight of all those trees being cut down always tugs at my heart just a bit.

I have also always wondered where all the animals went after their "home" was built on top of. Apparently, they wonder the same thing as they dart in between cars while crossing busy roads to find a new place to live, or a safe place to hang out for the night.

For the developer, builders and the city, the bottom line is money. For those of us living through the construction and the congestion and the loss of greenery, we may focus more on what more homes or more stores in our area would do to our everyday lives. Thinking of more traffic, or looking at another house instead of the trees that you have seen out your window for years would probably make me less excited at the prospect of a new development in my area.

It seems like the easiest solution to hopefully make everyone happy would be to say build half the houses and keep half the trees, but that drives costs up. I came back to Westland because it was affordable. I was able to purchase a brand new condo, yet still be able to afford to eat and drive a nice car. Not many cities have that option anymore in this area.

Hopefully in the end, city officials, the Westside Westland Homeowners Action Committee and the developer will all have a little bit of a say in the final outcome.

Vote Democratic on Nov. 7

Thank you for a good selection of editorials and letters recently. Obviously, our hometown paper has its finger on the pulse of the issues concerning our citizens. With so much going on these days, there seems to be no shortage of opinions.

For those people who think this country is moving in a positive direction, I have to wonder if they've been paying attention to the headlines in Michigan. For those who think the only important election impacting our livelihood is a presidential election, they haven't been reading beyond the headlines.

There is an election coming up on Tuesday, Nov. 7, and I challenge voters to change their habit of only voting in presidential elections and begin a new habit of voting in every election, starting this November.

Our family has become very involved in campaigning over the years and for good reason. Our future is at stake and we feel it is in our best interest to hold our elected officials, at all levels, accountable. To vote the good ones in, and vote the bad ones out.

I understand the partisan games that can be played and I know first hand, that when it comes to politics, being the member of the minority means your voice doesn't count for much.

In Lansing, Gov. Jennifer Granholm, a Democrat, is outnumbered with a majority of state senators, state representatives, attorney general and secretary of state all Republican — all with a Republican agenda that I don't view as being one for the average middle-class person.

My husband is an autoworker and is facing a job loss in 2007. We face unfair trade practices, resulting in job placement overseas due to cheap labor or up in Canada, where the government provides healthcare. We are not witnessing a system unraveling at the seams, but a systematic dismantling of the American Dream. It began beyond Michigan's state line and long before Granholm took office.

In Washington, Republicans make up the majority, from the top down. The minority of Democrats are fighting daily to protect American jobs, protect Social Security, protect the rights of labor, protect pensions, protect the environment, protect our public education system and yes, protect the security of our borders.

Whenever I hear Republican candidates say things like, "there is enough blame to go around" or "we don't need to be finger-pointing," that is a clear indication that they want the spotlight off of themselves. Why? Because it's their party that is controlling the ship. And it's sinking!

You may be OK with the current state of affairs, but for the sake of my family, I am not!

This November, I am voting straight Democratic. I can personally vouch for my favorite candidates — Glenn Anderson for State Senate, Richard LeBlanc for State House of Representatives and newcomer Tony Trupiano for Congress from our 11th Congressional District. I know them to be men of integrity and tenacity. They are honest, trustworthy and extremely dedicated to working on behalf of Michigan's middle class.

Help tip the scales to allow true representation this year, vote Nov. 7.

Cheryl Graunstadt
Westland

Vote out the failures

The current Republican Party has followed a striking form since the rise during Newt Gingrich era. They have been slowly changing our government to benefit business, corporate America and moved the burden of operating the government to the middle class and poor.

The wealthy have gained significantly both economically and in power of the government. Maybe if government was thought to be only to benefit the corrupt it has been exceedingly successful. But there is one problem.

The government of the UNITED States was put forth to benefit all people of this country. It was not created to allow more powerful people to take advantage of others. This nation's government is to serve the good of all its people.

The United States' democratic government is not to serve only a small group of individuals. That is a fascist government. As an administration within a democracy, Mr. Bush and his comrades have failed America completely.

From his start on the campaign trail, Mr. Bush had used a line that he was going to unite this country in his bid for election in 2000. He has done nothing but to divide it, separate people into supporters or accuse his detractors of his own faults.

He also claimed he would operate a responsible government, closely controlling spending. The corruption within the walls of the White House has never been so excessive before. The deficit has grown higher in proportion than any administration before from the greatest surplus in history.

The reorganization of the intelligence and security administration has resulted in appointments of unqualified political hacks further draining the resources of the government. The ongoing war in Iraq, the response to Katrina, the covert subversion of the democratic process with spying on Americans are all complete failures of government serving the people in a democracy.

The latest failure is the plane crash in Lexington, Ky. The association of air traffic controller studies required two controllers, the FAA regulations required two controllers, but the new Republican hacks serving as management of the FAA felt they could reduce the number of controllers to one, based on cost reductions.

The Republican Party celebrates failure, embraces it as a foundation of their platform. A recent vote in Congress made it illegal to escort or aid a minor across state lines to obtain an abortion. The party members replied it was necessary to have their pregnant girls at home where they could be taken care of at home.

What part of failure did these Republicans miss? Any underaged teenage girl having sex without protection, without an understanding of sex is a failure. Did these Republican parents forget to love those girls and make them feel needed, or maybe explain the facts of life and how to be safe, or maybe explain the burdens of parenthood?

There are not enough pages in this paper to list the complete failures of Bush and his party in this American government and perhaps one corner of one page to celebrate the successes.

Michigananders need to vote for success and vote out the failures in the coming election and until the current and hopeful Republicans speak out against the administration, they will not be representatives of the citizens of Michigan.

Keep lawmakers far away from new science curriculum

As if we didn't need one more reason to sigh ... the state Board of Education voted 6-2 to delay adopting the science portion of Michigan's new high school graduation requirements.

What's this all about? You guessed it. Evolution, again. The delay was requested by the chairs of the House and Senate Education Committees to placate state Reps. Jack Hoogendyk (R-Portage) and John Moolenaar (R-Midland).

They want language jammed into the standards that would legitimize teaching creationism and so-called "intelligent design."

The standards now direct science teachers to show how fossils, comparative anatomy and other evidence "may" demonstrate evolution. Hoogendyk and Moolenaar want "may or may not" language which allows teaching of creationism or intelligent design as alternative explanations and, thus, credible science.

Here's something that is really credible: If Michigan becomes known as a place with schools unwilling to teach accepted scientific reality, high-tech businesses will avoid us like a new Ice Age. And we can forget about evolving into a prosperous high-tech economy.

There may be better news soon. Topsiders in the Department of Education say the board's delay in adopting standards was a tactical maneuver. It did that to help out legislative leaders who want some time to calm down some of the crazier members of their caucus. The state board also wants to develop a method for lawmakers to provide "legislative input" in the design of teaching standards. That may sound silly, but that's far less intrusive than a now-sidetracked House bill that would have dictated entire standards.

We'll see. The state board meets next Oct. 10. Board members tell me the votes are there to adopt a clear teaching standard that rules out creationism. We better hope so.

Throwing a bone to legislative leaders may be good politics. But opening the door to teaching wacky "science" is the worst possible thing Michigan could do at this moment in our economic crisis.

Come to think of it, though, Hoogendyk and Moolenaar may be rather more acute than we may realize.

We might even extend their healthy skepticism about prevailing theories to all manner of things previously viewed as certain.

The teaching standards for math could be revised to indicate that two plus two "may or may not" equal four, as appears to be the case in some alternative universes.

The Bible "may or may not" represent literal truth. The allies "may or may not" have won World War II; if so, the curriculum standards for history could stand some revision.

Even the prevailing notion that reducing business taxes automatically leads to economic growth could be subjected to the "may or may not" skepticism test.

But there's no "may or may not" in considering Michigan's economic crisis. We're in a lot of trouble. GM is cutting 30,000 jobs and closing plants. Ford just last week announced 44,000 cuts plus several more plants to be shuttered. DaimlerChrysler says it will lose $1.5 billion this summer, and that may be just the start.

Things are bad now, and they're going to get much worse.

Michigan is going to prosper — if it prospers — by attracting high value added companies like Pfizer and Google that need a highly educated work force. The highly productive and profitable Chrysler engine plant in Dundee requires even its workers on the line to have at least a community college degree.

Dithering over inserting "may or may not" into the Michigan curriculum with respect to evolution is the easiest way to drive off any companies that need a skilled and educated work force.

The state Board of Education must not fold in the wrong way at what, for our state, would be the worst possible time.

■ Footnote: I'd like to correct last week's column, which attacked the so-called K-16 proposal to increase at no less than the rate of inflation state appropriations for schools, community colleges and universities. Because fully two-thirds of the extra money will go to shift the costs of teacher and school employee pensions from local school districts to the state, I called K-16 a cynical sham.

The measure does relatively little to improve education for kids, regardless of what the nice TV ads supporting it might say.

That is still the case, but I want to correct an incorrect assertion I made in my column. I said there were things local school districts could do to reduce the cost of school employee pensions.

That's just not so. The Legislature is in full control of these matters, and I should have known so.

LETTERS

McCotter extremely helpful

It has become obvious to me that the Observer newspapers have become a tool to smear the good name of my Congressman Thaddeus McCotter. I have had many dealings with the Congressman and his staff over the past couple years and I have found them both to be extremely helpful, especially in my application process to become an officer in the U.S. Navy. I believe quite the opposite of what has been painted by previous letter writers, who obviously have never had any interaction with Congressman McCotter or his staff. They are likely just supporters of his opponent, and I am disappointed to see such a bias projected from my hometown newspaper.

College finance plan a win-win

Representative Glenn Anderson recently made a proposal that provides Michigan families with a means to send their kids to college without having to go to the poor house.

With the high percentage of our high school graduates in Livonia attending colleges and universities, I see this as a great incentive for Livonians. Not only that, but the proposal would encourage our overall economic growth by providing incentive for new cutting-edge companies to come to our state and create jobs. This is a win-win situation, and I am proud that Anderson is representing our best interests. Interest-free loans for our kids are just one of many great things that would come from more forward-thinking people like Anderson in the Legislature.

Politics, school vouchers

It was gratifying to read Hugh Gallagher's editorial on politics and school vouchers. Dick DeVos has cleverly distanced himself during this campaign from the failed attempt for school vouchers. In addition, he fails to mention Amway Corp., from which his fortune came, or that his wife is the former state Republican chair. All the while claiming not to be a politician. Go figure!

The funds for public schools would most certainly be negatively affected by vouchers, one of Mr. DeVos' top priorities. As you pointed out, the public schools, which must accept and educate all children, are the backbone of the democracy and must be supported by the populace.

It is important for the state's electorate to realize the hidden agenda of his candidacy for governor. You have served this purpose well with your editorial.

Courage commended

I commend and thank the Montes family for their courage and community concern in sharing their loss with us. As a community, we need to understand that drug use and abuse has no boundaries, and as such Livonia and Livonians are not exempt from this terrible scourge. We can sit back and take the attitude that "it really isn't that big of a problem" or "it won't happen to anyone in my family" or we can be proactive and adopt an attitude that together we can work to educate families in the hope that it won't happen to them.

That African adage that "it takes a village to raise a child" could not be more true than in this case. If enough concerned citizens are informed and take an active role in the lives of our young people, we can minimize the effects of peer pressure and drug influence. Mentoring our young people is one way to make a difference. Joining the anti-drug task force in Livonia is another way. It is my hope that the leadership in the city of Livonia and the Livonia Public Schools will promote and assist the anti-drug task force in its formation and implementation. We all belong to this "village."

Prop. 5 isn't correct solution

After reading Phil Power's editorial piece from Sept. 14 on the K-16 Initiative, which will be otherwise known as Proposal 5 on the Nov. 7 ballot, it is necessary to make sure all voters understand what the dire consequences of voting yes for this ballot proposal really means to you and I ... the taxpayers. Proposal 5 guarantees that the taxpayers will fund exponentially increasing educational pension and benefit expenditures at the cost of services such as public safety and health care.

These costs come directly from the same general fund which is targeted by Proposal 5 to guarantee one industry what they desire, but leave all of the others to suffer the consequences. It would be negligent to think that cuts in all other critical services will not happen if Proposal 5 passes on Nov. 7. They will. They have to. There is just no way around it. And the plain fact is that the state budgets cannot carry the additional loads, so cuts will have to be made. If Proposal 5 passes, you will see municipalities, counties and the state making cuts in police, fire, health care, and other essential services to offset the cost of Proposal 5. The alternative is to pass new taxes onto the citizens and businesses of Michigan to cover these costs, but in our current economy that is not a viable alternative either.

I urge everyone to do your homework, study the proposal carefully, look at who supports and who opposes this ballot issue, and make an informed decision based on facts ... do not be swayed by the "it's for the kids" rhetoric. It's not for the kids, it's all about guaranteeing pensions and benefits, nothing more. Go to the following Web site, www.crcmich.org/election/index.html#04 and view the nonpartisan, objective data that clearly defines how Proposal 5 will cause more harm than good. Then go to the polls and vote no on Proposal 5 on Nov. 7.

Siemens awarded airport baggage design contract

Siemens announced Tuesday it was awarded a $19.1 million design and build contract from Walbridge/Barton Malow LLC for an inline baggage handling system as a part of the new Detroit North Terminal redevelopment project.

The $418 million North Terminal project includes the razing of the older Davey Terminal and the construction of a new, two-level terminal with 26 gates and approximately 685,000 square feet of space. The new terminal is expected to open in 2008 and will accommodate the airlines currently operating out of the Smith and Berry terminals.

Siemens will design, build and integrate the baggage handling system, which includes 9,577 feet of conveyor and 23 patented high-speed diverters to route all checked baggage through explosive detection systems before loading onto departing aircraft. The system will provide automatic and unobtrusive 100 percent screening of checked baggage. Siemens will also supply six baggage claim units. Additionally, the contract includes Siemens' integrated software solution that will monitor, control and report on all system activity.

"With Siemens design/build and total life-cycle cost approach, we hope to recognize the great potential for cost savings and a smooth, on-time opening of the new North Terminal," said Lester Robinson, CEO of Wayne County Airport Authority.

"Siemens is committed to providing world class technology and performance to Detroit Metro Airport," said Art Kostaras, vice president, Airport Logistics Division, Siemens Energy & Automation Inc. "The new system will make check-in noticeably easier on passengers and enable the airport to maintain a comfortable flow of traffic throughout the terminal's public spaces."

The Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport served more than 36 million passengers in 2005, representing a 3.2 percent increase from 2004. The airport handles approximately 1,320 arriving and departing flights per day.

Forget the flowers ...

Edible Arrangements are a fresh alternative

BY SUE BUCK
STAFF WRITER

Brian Dougherty was looking for a way to thank a client who sent his business his way.

After looking on-line for suggestions, Dougherty, manager of an Extended Stay America Hotel, located in Southfield, came to Edible Arrangements, a new store located in the Village Commons Mall in downtown Farmington.

The store is at 32730 Grand River between Orchard Lake and Farmington Road.

"I wanted to thank the lady who sent us the business," Dougherty said.

He ordered an edible bouquet. It was a fresh fruit design overflowing with juicy strawberries, pineapple, grapes, cantaloupe, honeydew and oranges - some specially cut in unique shapes.

"All of the arrangements are made the same day," said owner Vikki Hardy Brown.

Brown owns the independent franchise with her husband, Jason. The Troy couple plans to move into the Farmington area.

Brown, who worked as a senior vice president in advertising for BBDO Detroit, focused on business for DaimlerChrysler for 10 years before she decided that it was time for a change. She also wanted to spend more time with Jason, their son, who is 18 months. Her husband, Jason, works in medical device sales.

"I was always on the plane because it is a global company," she said. "We started looking around for something we could put our hearts and souls in but still have family time."

Edible Arrangements, which is headquartered in Connecticut, started in 1999. The first franchises began in 2001.

"Inc. Magazine has ranked it number four in its top 500 companies as a company which had the largest growth," Brown said.

Edible arrangements are edible bouquets. They are made from a fresh fruit design overflowing with juicy strawberries, pineapple, grapes, cantaloupe, honeydew and oranges - some specially cut in unique shapes.

"You probably have not seen anything like it," said owner Vikki Hardy Brown. "It is healthy and good for you."

"We were looking for a community that was strong, stable and had good people," Brown said. "We have a lot of friends who live in this area."

The Farmington franchise, which opened Aug. 28, is located in what Brown calls "a delightfully modest 1,200 square foot space."

Edible Arrangements offers a unique collection of fresh fruit bouquets that can be presented for any holiday, celebration or business occasion.

"This is an alternative to flowers. It's a beautifully designed arrangement that you can eat," Brown said. "It's made fresh every day. Nobody gets it the day before and we don't recommend that."

No preservatives are used. "Our fruits are all natural," she said. "They last as long as a strawberry lasts. If it has chocolate on it, probably not longer than two days."

If you are picking up an arrangement but you are not going home right away, a reusable cooler can be purchased to store the arrangement for about four hours, she said.

Because the arrangements are so fresh and handmade every day, Brown appreciates about a couple hours notice to prepare the product.

Ficano appoints Land Bank board members

Wayne County Executive Robert A. Ficano recently appointed three board members to the Wayne County Land Bank Corporation. The board consists of five members including County Treasurer Raymond Wojtowicz and County Commissioner Keith Williams. The executive's appointees are: Phillip Cavanagh, George Barnes and Bella Marshall.

Cavanagh has been a member of the Wayne County Commission since January 2001. Cavanagh represents the communities of Redford Township, Dearborn Heights and Garden City.

George Barnes has a long history of owning and operating businesses within the City of Detroit. Most notably, Barnes opened Heritage Optical in the City of Detroit in 1975 when it became Michigan's first African-American-owned full service optometric dispensary. Barnes also owns the Traverse Group, a highly successful environmental engineering firm in Southeast Michigan. In addition to Mr. Barnes' success in business, he has been a very active member of the Detroit community.

Bella Marshall currently serves as the chief operating officer for Wayne County. Prior to this assignment, Marshall held numerous public sector positions in Michigan including chief financial officer for both Wayne County and the City of Detroit, and director of the Detroit Area Office for MSHDA.

Because the first franchise in Michigan was already located in Troy, their hometown, the Browns decided to look further to start their business.

Church's 60th anniversary kickoff a runaway hit

When Bonnie Danic suggested her Redford Township church hold a fun run to mark its 60th anniversary, then volunteered fellow parishioner Jim Soter to help organize it, the longtime runner, well, took it in stride.

"She put an elbow into my side and said, 'Jim could help me,'" said Soter, of Plymouth, remembering a meeting of St. Valentine Catholic Church's anniversary committee.

Excited about doing something different, the committee adopted the idea, and co-directors Danic and Soter, their spouses and other volunteers spent weeks planning the event. A spaghetti dinner for about 300 people, cooked by John Cubba, a parish member and Redford's finance director, followed the run/walk.

Sunday's 5-kilometer (3.1 miles) fun run and walk brought about 170 people to the tree-lined streets around the church and attracted veteran racers, fitness walkers and runners and those out for fellowship and an afternoon stroll.

"That was the idea, just to keep it in the neighborhood," said Danic, a Plymouth resident and secretary in the parish's faith formation department. "It just made the nice community feel for St. Valentine."

Participants included students from the parish school, their parents, school graduates and longtime church members. "We ran the whole gamut of age groups, so that was wonderful," Danic said.

Soter, who is planning to run his 28th Detroit Free Press Marathon next month, said the event allowed him to see a race from an organizer's perspective.

"It also gave me a better respect for race directors and all the stuff they have to go through," he said. The event's sponsors included Runner's World magazine, St. Mary Mercy Hospital, plus FamilyMeds Pharmacy and other local businesses.

The run/walk was the first in a series of events planned to mark the parish's 60th anniversary, which is next year.

The winners in the men's category were Neal Martinuzzi, 20 minutes, 20 seconds; the Rev. Tim Laboe, St. Valentine's pastor, 21 minutes, 15 seconds; and 13-year-old Mike Ryan, 22 minutes 8 seconds. All are from Redford.

In the women's category,

St. Valentine parishioners Stephanie and Larry Toth dressed up to work the fun run's pirate-themed aid station at about the 1.5-mile mark.

the winners were Lindsay Parsell of Troy, 21 minutes, 34 seconds; Marybeth Dillon of Livonia, 22 minutes, 33 seconds; and 15-year-old Clare Meernick of Redford, 25 minutes, 19 seconds.

Soter said it was gratifying to see so many people enjoying the event. "That was more pleasing to me than anything else," he said.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND WESTLAND ZONING ORDINANCE 248, ARTICLE III, SECTIONS 3:4.1, 3:4.2, 3:5.1, 3:5.2, 3:11.3, AND 3:12.5, ARTICLE VII, SECTIONS 7:2.1, 7:2.2, 7:2.3 AND 7:3.1, ARTICLE VIII, SECTIONS 8:3.1, 8:4.1, AND 8:5.1, ARTICLE XII, SECTION 12:2.6 AND 12:3.3, AND ARTICLE XIII, SECTIONS 13:2.6 AND 13:2.8, AND TO ADD ARTICLE XII, SECTION 12:3.3 TO COMPLY WITH LEGISLATIVE CHANGES TO THE MICHIGAN ZONING ENABLING ACT

Section 1. That Article III, Section 3:4.1 of Westland Zoning Ordinance 248 is hereby amended to provide as follows:

Creation

A Zoning Board of Appeals consisting of nine (9) members is hereby established having powers and duties in accordance with Section 5, Act 207, Public Acts of 1921, as amended. Hereinafter, the word "Board" shall mean the Zoning Board of Appeals.

That Article III, Section 3:4.2 of Westland Zoning Ordinance 248 is hereby amended to provide as follows:

Membership

The Zoning Board of Appeals shall consist of nine members appointed by the City Council to serve three year terms. One of the nine members of the Board shall also be a member of the City of Westland Planning Commission and one may be a member of the City Council. In addition to the nine members of the Board, the City Council may appoint one alternate member to serve a three year term. The alternate member may be a member of the Planning Commission or the City Council provided that a regular member does not hold such a position. The alternate member shall attend all Zoning Board of Appeals meetings.

Section 2. That Article III, Section 3:5.1 of Westland Zoning Ordinance 248 is hereby amended to provide as follows:

Creation

That the City Planning Commission, as established under the provisions of Act 285, 1931, as amended, is the Planning Commission referred to in this Ordinance. The Planning Commission shall also have the powers of a Zoning Commission as set forth in Section 301 of Public Act 110 of 2006. A Zoning Commission is thereby established by this Ordinance.

Section 3. That Article III, Section 3:5.2 of Westland Zoning Ordinance is hereby amended to provide as follows:

Membership

The Planning Commission shall consist of nine members who shall represent insofar as is possible different professions or occupations, and who shall be appointed by the Mayor subject to the approval by a majority vote of the members elect of the City Council. All members of the Planning Commission shall serve as such with compensation and shall hold no other municipal office except that one of such members shall be a member of the Zoning Board of Appeals. The term of each member shall be three years. All members shall hold office until their successors are appointed. Members, after public hearing, may be removed by the Mayor with concurrence of the council for inefficiency, neglect of duty, or malfeasance in office. Vacancies occurring otherwise than through the expiration of term shall be filled for the unexpired term as set forth herein.

Section 4. That Article III, Section 3:11.3 of Westland Zoning Ordinance 248 is hereby amended to provide as follows:

3:11.3 Public Hearing

- a. Notice of the hearing shall be published in the official city newspaper, or a newspaper of general circulation within the City of Westland. Notice shall also be sent by mail or personal delivery to the owners of property for which approval is being considered. Notice shall also be sent to all persons to whom real property is assessed within 300 feet of the property and to the occupants of all structures within 300 feet of the property regardless of whether the property or occupant is located in the City of Westland.
b. The notice shall be given not less than 15 days before the date the application will be considered for approval. If the name of the occupant is not known, the term "occupant" may be used in making notification under this subsection. The notice shall do all of the following:

- i. Describe the nature of the request;
ii. Indicate the property that is the subject of the request. The notice shall include a listing of all existing street addresses within the property. Street addresses do not need to be created and listed if no such addresses currently exist within the property. If there are not street addresses, other means of identification may be used.
iii. State when and where the request will be considered.
iv. Indicate when and where written comments will be received concerning the request.

(State law ref, Public Act 110, Sec. 103)

Section 5. That Article III, Section 3:12.5 of Westland Zoning Ordinance 248 is hereby amended to provide as follows:

3:12.5 Notice of Hearing

- a. Notice of the hearing shall be published in the official city newspaper, or a newspaper of general circulation within the City of Westland. Notice shall also be sent by mail or personal delivery to the owners of property for which approval is being considered. Notice shall also be sent to all persons to whom real property is assessed within 300 feet of the property and to the occupants of all structures within 300 feet of the property regardless of whether the property or occupant is located in the City of Westland.
b. The notice shall be given not less than 15 days before the date the application will be considered for approval. If the name of the occupant is not known, the term "occupant" may be used in making notification under this subsection. The notice shall do all of the following:

- i. Describe the nature of the request;
ii. Indicate the property that is the subject of the request. The notice shall include a listing of all existing street addresses within the property. Street addresses do not need to be created and listed if no such addresses currently exist within the property. If there are not street addresses, other means of identification may be used.
iii. State when and where the request will be considered.
iv. Indicate when and where written comments will be received concerning the request.

Affirmative action ballot proposal debate on tap

BY ALEX LUNDBERG
STAFF WRITER

Activists on both sides of the debate over civil rights in Michigan will gather in Bloomfield Hills next week to lay out their cases for and against Proposal 2.

The Women Officials' Network, a group founded to help women develop leadership skills, will host a debate on the Michigan Civil Rights Initiative at 7:30 a.m. Oct. 6 at the Radisson-Bloomfield Hills, 39475 Woodward.

Proposal 2 is the Michigan Civil Rights Initiative which would amend the Michigan Constitution to ban affirmative action programs that give preferential treatment to groups or individuals based on their race, gender, color, ethnicity or national origin for public employment, education or contracting purposes.

MCRI Media Relations Director Max McPhail said the issue before Michigan voters is simple: to reaffirm residents' commitment to the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

"There should be no discrimination based on race or gender," he said. "The Grand Rapids schools give their contracts out 90 percent based on price and merit and 10 percent on race. I don't think the voters of Michigan are going to move toward a colorblind society when they base their decisions on race."

McPhail, however, won't be the one to defend the MCRI at the Radisson. That duty will fall to MCRI Executive Director Jennifer Gratz, who sued the University of Michigan after being denied enrollment. The Supreme Court struck down the school's admissions policy in 2003.

Former state Rep. Maxine Berman, the governor's director of special projects, said she's been working with One United Michigan to defeat the MCRI. The people with the most to lose if Proposal 2 passes, she said, are women.

"I remember what it was like before affirmative action, I don't want to roll back the clock," Berman said. "When I went to the University of Michigan in the '60s I had two choices — teacher or nurse."

She said the jobs of the future are going to be science-based and women are already underrepresented in those fields by a margin of four to one. In the corporate world, the numbers are even more stark.

"There is a minute level of women and minorities in corporate America. They represent 50 percent of middle management and 3 percent of upper management," Berman said. "By not providing a level playing field, we'll deny the country brain power and opportunity."

WON Administrator Barbara Moorhouse said the organization has always had guest speakers, but lately has tried to add contemporary politics to the discussion.

"We wanted to do something on a ballot proposal," she said. "We're not taking a position on the MCRI, but we'd like to hear how the MCRI would affect women."

In the past few years, the organization has dipped its feet into the political waters by hosting a candidates night in the Secretary of State race two years ago. It's always looking for a speaker or topic that will draw a crowd, but it's also interested in discussing topics it considers underreported in regular channels.

Reservations for the event are being taken through Oct. 3. Tickets are $25 and checks can be sent to the WON, P.O. Box 404, Birmingham, MI 48012.

Plymouth man is Wayne State vice president of development

David W. Ripple has been named associate vice president of development and alumni affairs for Wayne State University.

A Certified Fund Raising Executive, Ripple has more than a decade of broad fund-raising experience. Most recently, he served as executive director for Community Counselling Service, directing nonprofit clients on multi-million dollar campaigns, including Saint Joseph Mercy Health System, Lutheran Social Services of Michigan and the Michigan Opera Theatre.

Earlier in his career, Ripple served on the fund-raising staffs of Saint Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, the American Red Cross Southeastern Chapter and Angela Hospice in Livonia. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Association of Fundraising Professionals (AFP) Greater Detroit Chapter and has served on numerous AFP committees. Ripple is also an adjunct assistant professor in the English and Communications Arts departments at Madonna University in Livonia.

"David Ripple's extensive fund-raising experience will be of significant assistance to the university as we work to complete the Wayne State Capital Campaign on schedule," said Susan Burns, vice president for Development and Alumni Affairs. "The Campaign is of critical importance to the urban mission of the university and we are fortunate to have someone of David Ripple's caliber in this key position."

Ripple earned a bachelor's degree from Madonna University and a master's degree from Eastern Michigan University. He resides in Plymouth with his wife and two daughters.

Wayne State University is a premier institution of higher education offering more than 350 academic programs through 11 schools and colleges to more than 33,000 students.

Teen journalists: The Observer is looking for you

The Observer Newspapers is looking for students (ages 13-18) who are interested in producing local newspaper pages and online material for teens by teens.

Teens will report, write, edit and take photographs for the hometownLIFE.com print and online sections which will appear periodically in Sunday editions of the Observer.

The first pages and online stories are scheduled to appear in November.

To participate, email a brief resume and at least two short writing samples to hgal-lagher@hometownlife.com. Make sure you include a phone number and email address.

"We want teens to take ownership of the section both in print and online," said Susan Rosiek, executive editor of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

"Teens will decide what to cover, what to write about - what's important to them. They'll be mentored by reporters, editors and photographers at the O&E," added Rosiek.

Deadline to apply is Wednesday, Oct. 4.

Focus:HOPE walk stresses diversity, unity

Focus:HOPE's annual WALK for Diversity, which for 32 years has been bringing together people of all races and religions from the city and suburbs, will head in a new direction on Sunday, Oct. 8, with a shorter walk route and extensive on-campus festivities designed to encourage camaraderie.

Thousands of people who are committed to Focus:HOPE's civil rights mission are expected to walk together for three miles starting at 1 p.m. The route will pass a senior housing site under construction and travel through an established, historic neighborhood. Leading the WALK will be the Calico Troop of the Buffalo Soldiers, a group that raises awareness of the contribution of black soldiers to peacekeeping in the United States.

"Our WALK reminds our supporters of what we can accomplish when we work together in a spirit of respect and harmony," said Eleanor Josaitis, who co-founded Focus:HOPE with the late Rev. William Cunningham in 1968. "Father Cunningham loved to look around the crowd to see thousands of people of all ages, races and backgrounds coming together in support of civil rights. Each year we do this, we are reminded of the importance of our mission and the work that still needs to be done."

The WALK theme of "Unite, Educate, Elevate" emphasizes the importance of education in opening career opportunities, in particular for minorities and the economically-disadvantaged. Proceeds from the event will be used for scholarships for students who have serious financial challenges.

"Focus:HOPE's education and training programs were created to help people overcome poverty," said Keith Cooley, Focus:HOPE CEO. "We have thousands of graduates who came to Focus:HOPE seeking a better life. They are now successful professionals providing a comfortable living for themselves and their families. Our WALK celebrates those successes and the impact Focus:HOPE has had on our community."

Before and after the WALK, there will be entertainment, tours of Focus:HOPE's education and training programs, and extensive children's activities, including a moonwalk, magician, pony rides and a petting farm. The Arts & Scraps mobile will work with children on a special art project.

WALK emcee Foolish, a WLJB-FM morning radio personality and award-winning comedian, will begin introducing special guests at 12:30 p.m. The WALK starts at 1 p.m. and then walkers will return to the Focus:HOPE campus on Oakman Boulevard to enjoy freshly grilled foods and music provided by the Jerry Ross Band.

Another new aspect of this year's event is an emphasis on teams. More than 40 teams have registered to date. Awards will be presented to the team that raises the most money, and those that demonstrate the most team spirit. A Samaritan Award will be presented to the individual who raises the most money.

Miscellaneous activities include the Henry Ford Health Screening Mobile Unit which will offer blood pressure checks and information on health issues. Microsoft will provide a futuristic technology demonstration and Ford Motor, General Motors and DaimlerChrysler will have automobiles on display.

Major sponsors for WALK 2006 are LaSalle Bank, Dow Automotive, DENSO International America, Inc., DTE Energy, and DaimlerChrysler Corp., and Microsoft.

To register, go to www.focushope.edu or call (313) 494-5500.

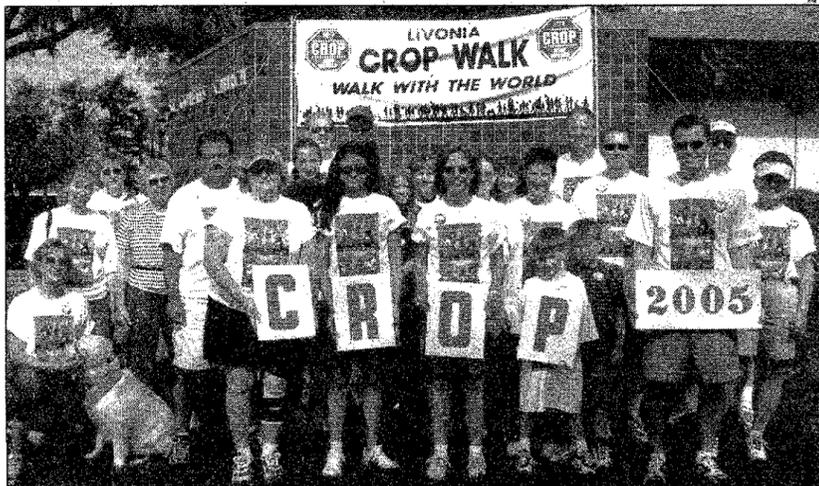

Interfaith Crop Walk takes place in Livonia

With football season and beautiful fall weather beckoning many area residents are gearing up to join in the Livonia Area Crop Walk which will begin 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 1, at St. Edith Catholic Church, 15089 Newburgh.

Crop Walk co-chairperson John Hirtzel states that a goal of $25,000 has been set to help stop hunger here in our community and around the world. Funds are also used for self-help initiative and disaster relief. A portion of funds raised will go locally to Metropolitan Christian Council (meals for shut-ins in the Cass Corridor), Redford Interfaith Relief (food bank), St. Christine Parish (food bank in old Redford), and St. Edith Parish (food bank for Livonia area).

Last year more than 250 walkers from 20 Livonia and Garden City churches raised $19,308. Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, Livonia, led all churches with more than 75 walkers.

This year Livonia and some 2,000 cities and towns nationwide are joining together in interfaith community Crop Walks to combat hunger. This year Livonia Area Crop Walkers will be wearing bold maroon T-shirts that state, We Walk Because We Care, proclaiming our solidarity with millions of neighbors around the world who have to walk to live.

As well as food relief, Church World Service assists many communities especially in Africa to develop clean water and sanitation. Crop Walks are also making a big difference along the U.S. Gulf Coast as communities continue their recovery from Hurricane Katrina, in northern Pakistan where recovery efforts continue in quake-affected areas, and in our response to the developing humanitarian crisis in Lebanon.

Churches of all faiths and organizations are invited to join in the event. For more information, call John Hirtzel at (734) 422-0841.

Market-goers gather their fresh produce at the Farmington Farmers & Artisans Market, which is open every Saturday 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. through the end of October at the pavilion in downtown Farmington.

It's harvest time in Farmington

Farmers & Artisan Market beams with season's glory

Autumn harvest has arrived at the Walter E. Sundquist pavilion in downtown Farmington.

A special two-day Harvest Moon Weekend Celebration is scheduled for 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 7, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 8.

The market will continue every Saturday through October.

Special activities for all ages include a scarecrow contest in Riley Park, a Harvest Breakfast Café by Penny White from the Breakfast Club restaurant, chef demonstrations, games, face painting and a minstrel storyteller.

The farmers and artisans are regular attractions at the market.

A Harvest Moon Dance will be held 5:30-9:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 7, at the pavilion located on Grand River, east of Farmington, for adults 21 and over. Tickets are $5 and can be purchased in advance at Farmington City Hall, John Cowley & Sons, the Downtown Development Authority office at 33314 Grand River or the Farmers Market Information booth from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturdays.

The Farmington Downtown Development Authority and Farmington Farmers & Artisans market committee once again will host a scarecrow building competition with cash prizes as a way to welcome the harvest season and decorate the town in a unique and fun way.

Entry forms can be found at the Saturday Farmers Market information booth, the DDA office and online at www.DowntownFarmington.org. Judging will take place at noon Oct. 7. Winners will be announced at noon Sunday, Oct. 8.

Official categories include 9 years and younger; ages 10-17 and 18 years and above.

Winners in each category will receive $150 for first place, $50 for second place; and a Civic Theatre Movie Basket for third place. Additional non-cash awards will go to "Mayor's Choice," "Best Merchant Entry," "Best Group Entry" and "Harvest Mooner's Choice," as voted on during the Harvest Moon Dance event.

The scarecrows will be mounted in Riley Park and throughout the downtown for public viewing for the remainder of October. The winning scarecrows will be displayed Oct. 10 during "Hay Days" at Heritage Park. For more information, call the DDA at (248) 473-7276 or contact Mary Burck, scarecrow chairwoman, at (248) 471-0144.

A horse-drawn Harvest History Tour to the historic Governor Warner Mansion includes carriage rides, a mansion tour and cider and doughnuts. The $3 round trip will be narrated by Brian Golden of Pastways Inc. Boarding begins at the pavilion.

The tours will run from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. during festivities Sunday, Oct. 8.

Strolling minstrel and storyteller Genot Picor will again bring his talents to the market from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 8. Last year, Picor delighted children and parents alike with his stories and songs about nature and Native Americans, American exploration and the great frontier.

The Farmers Market is sponsored by the Williams Family Sports & Medical Center of Farmington.

JUDY M. SCHWARTZ

(July 4, 1941 - September 21, 2006). Judy (Young) Schwartz was the eldest child of Emmet and Catherine Young. She passed away on September 21, 2006 after an eight year battle with breast cancer. On the Fourth of July, 1941, John McHale, future general manager of the Detroit Tigers and an active player on the 1943 World Series team, was told during a game that he had just become an uncle for the first time. Upon hearing the news, he stepped up to the plate and hit a home-run on his next at bat. So with fireworks and a homerun, Judy (Young) Schwartz was born a true Yankee Doodle Dandy. Judy, along with her siblings Jack, Joe and Jane, grew up in Detroit in a duplex her family shared with her beloved Grandma and Grandpa McHale. Her family later moved to Birmingham where she attended Holy Name for grade school (the same school that several of her grandchildren would later attend) and Shrine High School. She loved to cruise Woodward with her friends and visit her favorite hangouts like Ted's and the Totem Pole. She next attended Marygrove for college and received a degree in Spanish. She earned all A's but always joked that she never knew a word of the language. Greg and Judy Schwartz were married in 1963. In 1964, their first child Gregory J. Schwartz, Jr. was born. He was followed by brothers Walter, Joseph, Edward and Peter. Each son would marry and return to work with their father in the investment firm he had founded in 1976 with Judy's support and guidance. With a loving, caring and humorous personality, she became like a second mother to "her girls." However, she was quick to point out to each (Chris, Molly, Nancy and Stephanie) that "you only have one mom." In 1991, she and Greg became grandparents for the first time. Alexandra, the first grandbaby, was then followed by ten more; Mimi, Greg III, William (J), Tatum, Joe Jr., T.J., Tommy, Sam, Patrick and Mia. Perhaps her greatest accomplishment, though, was the ability to counsel, humor and teach all who came in contact with her. In 1976, she found the strength to quit drinking and entered an Alcoholics Anonymous program in order to save herself and her family. After conquering her addiction, she went on to counsel hundreds of people that she would meet from every walk of life. Her ability to meet someone once and have that person think she was Judy's best friend was uncanny. She treated the waitress at her favorite restaurant the same as she treated the presidents of GM, Ford or Chrysler. It seemed that she truly knew everyone. In 1998, she was diagnosed with breast cancer that had spread to twenty-four lymph nodes. With a huge outpouring of support, she rallied against the disease like one of Knute Rockne's underdog football teams. Despite the odds, she lasted eight more years. In those years, she continued to give strength and love to her family and friends who seemed to always need it more than her. Funeral Mass was Monday, Sept. 25, at St. Regis Catholic Church, Bloomfield Hills, with Reverend Joseph Grimaldi officiating. For information call A. J. Desmond & Sons (248-362-2500). In lieu of flowers, donations can be made in her memory to: Loyola High School in Detroit (one of only two Catholic High Schools that remain open in the city), 15325 Pinehurst, Detroit, MI 48238 -- 313-861-2407.
