County ready to seek park cleanup bids

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A request for bids could go out by tomorrow, opening the door for the remediation and redevelopment of a portion of Westland's Central City Park this year.

"We're on target to post it by week's end," said Assistant County Executive Alan Helmkamp, who has worked closely with Westland Mayor William Wild and his staff in the cleanup of the contaminated park. "We spent a couple of months doing extensive drafting of the bid document and now the county's Office of Procurement is tweaking it."

The announcement that bids would be solicited was made by Wild at his Town Hall meeting at the Holliday Park townhouses last week.

"The park will be more family-friendly," said an upbeat Wild. "Phase one has been approved by the DEQ (Michigan Department of Natural Resources and Environment) and the work plan has been completely cleared through Wayne County Stormwater Management."

The bid package will be put out for 30 days, after which the responses will be reviewed and the contract awarded. Once the contract is signed, work can begin on the close to 13 acres in the southeastern section of the park.

"If we get a qualifying bid, we'll be able to do the work," said Helmkamp. "Hopefully we can break ground and have them out there doing the work while the weather is still good."

The plan includes a soccer complex, outdoor bathrooms, new pavilion and walking path. There also will be a concession stand to service the soccer complex, outdoor pool, H2O Zone and Play Planet. It also calls for the installation of a geotextile membrane to cover the contaminated area, then adding 12 inches of soil to deal with the lead contamination.

A sea of navy blue T-shirts took over restaurants in Westland Tuesday evening as 300 hungry diners crisscrossed the city for the Westland Chamber of Commerce's Restaurant Rally.

In its seventh year, the rally featured 13 establishments that served everything from buffalo wing bites and potato skins to specialty beverages and chocolate chip cookies.

"Everyone seemed to have a good time," said Chamber

President and CEO Brookellen Swope. "Wherever I stopped, people were talking about where they had been and where they were going. They were having fun."

Sitting in a booth a Logan's Steak House, Westland City Council President Jim Godbout loudly announced, "I'm cooking dinner tonight," drawing a laugh and smile from his wife, Sande.

"We've been doing this for seven years," said Godbout. "We'll get to six-10 restaurants, we have plenty of time."

"We look to see what's interesting and go to those we like," he added.

Police question suspect in TCF Bank robbery

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A woman being held for a robbery in Wyandotte is facing similar charges in Westland after a holdup at the TCF Bank.

Westland police detectives interviewed the woman Wednesday about the robbery. Her name is not being released pending charges in the holdup, which happened Saturday, July 24.

The woman also is a suspect in robberies in at least four cities, including Westland, Ferndale, Allen Park and Wyandotte.

In the Westland robbery, a woman in her mid-20s reportedly entered the bank on Warren Road and gave a teller an envelope with "Do not call police, give me $100, $50, $20" written on it. The teller reportedly gave the woman

$1,710, including a $50 bait bill.

The teller told police the woman said she was sorry and told the teller to wait until she left before calling police. The teller, however, pressed the alarm button as the woman left the bank. A landscaper working in the area said he possibly saw a woman, possibly the suspect, run eastbound after crossing Warren Road.

The robbery occurred at 2:50 p.m. and two other customers and another teller told police they neither saw nor heard anything.

A video showed the suspect come from the north side of the building and enter the bank. She kept her hands in the cuffs of gray fleece jacket and never appeared to touch anything with her skin. Police were unable to locate any fingerprints.

Mayor fills vacant DPS superintendent job

A former Novi facilities and operations director has been joined the City of Westland as a superintendent in the Westland Department of Public Service.

William "Benny" McCusker was appointed to the position by Mayor William Wild.

McCusker has almost 40 years experience in managing water and sewer systems, construction and maintenance, roads and fleet management. He was the public works director for both Novi and Wixom and previously worked for the City of Inkster.

"Westland is fortunate to be able to hire someone with the depth of experience Benny brings to the position and I look forward to his contributions in managing one of the City's largest departments during these challenging economic times," said Wild.

McCusker started with the city on July 1. Working under DPS Director Kevin Buford, McCusker will be responsible for department operations, including managing the staff of some 50 employees and supervising the delivery of services to the community.

Buford will continue his focus on the regional matters affecting DPS operations, including services provided by the City of Detroit and

Group works to get women out of sex industry

BY SUE BUCK
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A Westland resident with roots in Garden City is organizing a fund-raiser to help women get out of the sex industry.

Laura Urenda, who graduated from Garden City West High School, has joined with Margie Kelly, a Garden City resident, and Meredith Wallace, of Livonia, all of whom have had some experience with the demons of the sex industry. Lisa Beier, a teacher who lives in Westland is also interested in the cause because she teaches impressionable adolescent females.

"Young girls get pulled in and it is very difficult to get out," said Beier who does not have a history in the sex industry.

Urenda recently founded My Sister Song, an outreach program based at Connection Church in Canton Township.

"We know the tremendous change that God can do in a life," said Kelly, 58, who has been out of the industry for 30 years.

The fund-raiser will feature LDA (Last Days Alliance), a coalition of faith-based bands that play for a cause which was created by Steven Urenda of the group called MEDISIN WHEEL.

The fund-raiser for My Sister Song will be held at 9 p.m. Friday, July 30, at the Token Lounge at 28949 Joy, east of Middlebelt in Westland. The cost is $5.

"More women are employed by the sex industry than at any other time in history," Urenda said. "There are more strip clubs in the United States than any other nation in the world."

Urenda maintains that between 66-90 percent of women in the sex industry were sexually abused as children.

"Many people are under the impression that girls get into this industry for easy money, but there is nothing easy about the money they make and there is usually a story behind what lands them there," Urenda said.

Compared to the general population, women in the sex industry experience higher rates of substance abuse, rape and violent assault, sexually transmitted diseases, domestic violence, depression and post traumatic stress disorder, she said.

"My Sister Song is committed to helping women in the sex industry to conquer these issues and we want them to know they are valued, 'purposed,' and loved beyond measure," Urenda said.

Her small team visits strip clubs and takes gifts with the simple message that the women in these clubs have a story that matters.

"Barking at them won't do them any good, but loving them does," Kelly said. "We want to help."

The gift bags are given to every woman working at every establishment and contains little things like earrings, a candle, some candy, lipstick and an eye liner with a contact card.

The women who work in this industry soon learn that no knight in shining armor will come to rescue them, Wallace said. That type of thing may have happened in the movie Pretty Woman but not in real life, she said.

The contact card will connect them to resources, such as counseling, mentoring, education and a variety of support as they desire.

"The encounters with the girls are precious," Urenda said. "So, the bands at the Token are going to rock hard for our cause and we'll have an information table there in order for people to learn more about us."

T-shirts will be available for $20, and treats will also be offered.

"We also accept product donations and financial donations," Urenda said.

The team is willing to do their all to help, according to Lisa Beier (in back, from left), Margie Kelly, Meredith Wallace and Laura Urenda want to help women with jobs in the sex industry in metro Detroit find a way out with My Sister Song.

"Only God can change a heart," she said.

A prayer team of 15 people in the church also helps.

Checks can be made out to Connection Church with My Sister Song clearly marked and mailed to 3855 Sheldon, Canton, MI 48188 or made directly online through Connection Church at www.connectionchurch.info/via My Sister Song.

finance capital improvements. He also will continue to represent the department with business owners, residents, the city council and other federal, state and county officials.

"Hiring Benny also affords DPS Director Buford the ability to concentrate in other areas of the department, including financial oversight and leveraging regional partners for the betterment of city services," the mayor said.

Tulppo the ropes.

"It's fun, it's good food and it's a girls night out," said Roby. "We're going to try and do all 12-13. We just take a bite here and a bite there."

Anthony Fall of Dearborn was following that technique at Beaver Creek where he tried the harvest salad and a chocolate cookie.

"The salad was OK, but I don't care for the feta (cheese)," he said.

Fall was among a large group from the Parkside Credit Union's Westland and Livonia branches. Many of them continued a tradition of customizing their T-shirts which serve as the ticket to the event. With navy as the color, the shirts sported stars and bars, an anchor and many of the ladies wore sailor hats. In the past, they've tie-dyed the shirts, dressed them up to be butterflies and one year shredded them to look like they'd been mauled by a tiger.

"The best year was whose your tiger, the tie-dyed shirt was the worst experience," said Tina Strasser, the head teller at the Livonia branch who credited CEO Dave Bickley with providing tickets to the event. "It's fun to do, our boss laughs at us."

Beaver Creek general manager Misty Lindquist was keeping the buffet table that included the restaurant's signature barbecue ribs.

"It's our own blend — Jack Daniel's, jalapenos, it's a secret sauce," she said. "People love them, that and the cookies. You can purchase them to go or get one free, if you eat lunch here."

At Ashley's Bar and Grill, rally participants were sampling buffalo bites, pizza, potato skins and a chocolate mousse.

"We're going to hit 12 restaurants this year," said Gina Richard of Westland. "We've been to two already, we've got it down pat."

"We pick and chose where we want to go," added David Niedermeyer of Rockwood. "So far, everything has been good."

The group included Richard's husband, Chris, and Lisa Langston, also of Westland, Doug Johnson of Birmingham and Niedermeyer's wife, Debbie.

Garden City Hospital employees, the group tries to take in both the Westland Restaurant Rally and the Garden City Dine and Dash event held in September.

"We like to eat," said Richard.

Setting a speed record was another group of diners. By 7:30 p.m., they were on their fifth establishment — Biggby Coffee — sipping frozen hot chocolates.

"We grab and go," said Sandy Kollinger.

"We try to go to all of them so we can go back to the ones we liked best," added Robin Clarke, who was there with her mother, Robin Clarke, and brother Doug. Rounding out the group was Kollinger's father, Dave Debash.

"It's awesome, we enjoy it and look forward to it," said the younger Robin Clarke.

This is the second year Biggby has been a stop on the rally and owner Mo Elfakir decided to switch from serving coffees to serving his specialty beverages.

While the rally failed to sell out this year, Swope still is happy with the results. The chamber board already has begun talking about the need to do something different.

"We're looking to refine it and make it more interactive so the diners can feel they're a part of the event," she said.

There also will be a passive ventilation trench, the installation of a slab vapor barrier for the concession stand, and several probes to monitor methane gas. Any restricted area outside of the park will be blocked off by an eight-foot high fence.

The project costs some $2.4 million. The county will use parks millage money and $1 million in brownfield development funds, while the city has pulled together a number of grants and even did fund raising to cover its share of the costs.

According to Helmkamp, this is the second time bids will be put out the project. A bid request was put out several months ago but the responses showed gaps in the proposal, forcing the request to be withdrawn so more work could be done. The city used the time to add the pavilion and additional parking to the plan and was able to get some additional grants, Helmkamp said.

"We weren't able to start this in the spring, but I think we have a better plan," he said.

The bid award will have to go before the Wayne County Commission for approval and Wild has called on County Commissioner Joan Gebhardt, D-Livonia, to help get quick approval.

"She has assured me that she will work to make it as expedient as possible," he said.

City officials also are keeping a close eye on Washington, D.C., where Sen. Carl Levin, D-Michigan, is guiding a $1.5 million joint city-county request for federal assistance through the Appropriations Committee. The money would be used for the second phase.

"We're waiting to hear," Wild said. "Appropriations can be a lengthy process, and I'm confident the senator will do everything he can for us."

The park has been closed to the public since November 2006 when news broke that city and county officials had known for several years that it had high levels of lead contamination, and Wild ordered the park fenced off when he took office in January 2007. Since then, city and county officials have been working with the state environmental agency to clean up portions of the park. The redevelopment encompasses 33 of the park's 64 acres.

'Dominator' contestant hosts premiere party

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

For Matt Sysol, the premiere party he's holding at Kicker's Bar on Plymouth Road in Livonia tomorrow evening is more in honor of his biggest fan — his mother, Wanda — than about his appearance on The DIY Dominator, a new DIY Network series that pits three of the country's top rough carpenters against each other in a showdown for one grand prize.

Wanda Sysol died July 12 from a heart attack, devastating Sysol, who was ready to cancel plans for the celebration when friends stopped him in his tracks.

"They told me this is what my mom would have wanted," the Westland resident said. "She was my best friend, my biggest fan."

Sysol grew up in Canton Township and his mother tracked his successes, even calling him to tell him he had turned up as the top three hottest boyfriends in Detroit on 106.7 radio earlier this year.

"She was all excited about that," Sysol said. "It was 200 girls who nominated their boyfriends."

However, his mother never got to see a commercial for the show which airs on the DIY cable channel at 10 p.m. Friday, July 30. The commercials, video clips and promos can be found in his Facebook

The DIY Dominator features three carpenters who have four hours to construct a small wooden building that they have designed themselves. Sysol has no clue who won the contest. He'll find out with his friends and fans at the premiere party, which starts at 9 p.m.

Sysol is a third-generation carpenter and credits his grandfather for inspiring him to take it up.

"My grandfather got me into carpentry and I took off like a champ, I pretty much represent the MRCC," said Sysol. "He's a residential carpenter, I've been blessed with his talent."

A union carpenter — he is a member of the Michigan Regional Council of Carpenters and Millwrights — Sysol has "done some really cool work" on such projects as Asian Village and Westin Book Cadillac Hotel Detroit in Detroit along with several high-end homes, including multifamily projects.

He also has started his own company, BBD (Build By Design) Carpentry, figuring that if he goes out and does his best, he'll be able to provide jobs for carpenters who are out of work in Michigan.

But the biggest project be The DIY Dominator. Sysol was in Denver, Colo., in April to spend three days competing for the Dominator title. The winner receives a $10,000 grand prize.

Carpenter Matt Sysol is ready to see how well he did on 'The DIY Dominator' reality TV show. He's competing against two other carpenters on the show which airs at 10 p.m. today on the DIY cable channel.

Sysol has 13 years' experience as a carpenter and has taken course in set carpentry at the Center for Film Studies. He credits CFS in helping him land a spot on the reality TV show.

"There were thousands of applicants for this, with the Center For Film Studies training and their good reputation is what helped me get on this show," he said.

Sysol believes his mother is probably smiling down on him. He truly misses her, but he knows he's doing what she would have wanted him to do.

"This is supposed to be the best month, the best year of my life and it's the worst," he said. "I wish she could be here for this."

GARDEN CITY CHAMBER CHAT

The 5 Star Business Group is sponsoring a Business 2 Business and Community Expo beginning at 11 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 10. The event will be held at Roma Banquets on Cherry Hill Road east of Venoy in Garden City. The chambers involved include Dearborn Heights, Garden City, Wayne, Westland and Redford.

Participants will begin their day at 10:30 a.m. with registration and set-up of their booths. At 11 a.m. a networking luncheon will take place followed by the business expo. The public will be invited to attend 2-6 p.m.

The cost to participate is $60 for a eight-foot skirted table or $15 per person for lunch only.

The directors of the 5 Star Business group are very pleased with the business that have signed up to get the most from participating in the Expo. They realize that while most businesses are slashing their advertising budgets, they are taking themselves out of the race. The Business 2 Business and Community Expo is their chance to give chamber member businesses a competitive edge in today's marketing economy.

For the participating businesses, the Expo is their opportunity to promote their products and services to a diverse group of expo goers, ranging from potential customers, fellow chamber members, business and community leaders, decision makers and government officials to the general public.

The Expo is a great networking resource and affordable venue to advertise a company.

A few tips for a successful Expo Booth include:

- Give your business a little WOW! Factor. Try for an eye catching focal point along with your signage. Try using an item that excites the senses, like popcorn machine, flowers or bright flamboyant artwork.
- Have an informed personable and outgoing representative at your booth, someone who knows your product inside and out.

- Make contact with every visitor.
- Opening a conversation with "are you familiar with (name your product)" is good. Because if they say "yes" you can ask what their experience has been, if they say "no" you can introduce them to something new.
- Collect a business card from visitors, write notes on the back of the card, so that follow up can be direct and personable.
- Do a drawing. This gives a business the opportunity to create a marketing list for future use.
- Most important, follow up with all leads within two days of the event.

NOW is the time to sign up for the Expo, limited spots available. To register, call (734) 422-4448.

Goodwill taps Canton for retail store

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

In its fight against unemployment, Goodwill Industries of Greater Detroit chose Canton for its first metro-area retail store in a decade.

Jeff Ukraineec, the nonprofit agency's director of donated goods, cited several reasons why Goodwill decided to move into a 17,000-square-foot building at 41905 Ford Road, near Haggerty, with an expected opening in October.

Canton has a comparatively high income level, and residents are likely to donate new or gently used clothing, furniture, pots and pans, lamps and other household items Goodwill can sell to provide education and job-training for a growing number of unemployed people.

The flagship retail store's location near I-275 will make it accessible to donors — and shoppers — not only from Canton but also from neighboring communities such as Westland and Plymouth Township.

Goodwill hopes to draw customers from as far away as Canada and other Midwest states — customers who already are in Canton to visit the IKEA store, just across Ford Road.

The new store, near high-density population areas, faces a stretch of Ford Road that ranks among the state's most heavily traveled thoroughfares.

Goodwill officials believe it's realistic they can generate $1 million in revenue in the first year, alone, due to the store's location.

Canton seemed a good fit for Goodwill, which hasn't had an area retail store in a decade, and township officials are pleased the organization chose Canton's key commercial corridor.

"We welcome them to the community," Supervisor Phil LaJoy said. "We look forward to having them as part of the community."

The new store will be modeled after Goodwill's two most successful retail locations in Indianapolis and Portland, Ore.

"It's not going to have the look of a traditional, old-fashioned thrift store," Ukraineec said. "The atmosphere is going to be more like a department store."

Goodwill, with a nearly 90-year history, has a Detroit headquarters but targets a broader area to help people with disabilities or other employment challenges by placing them in jobs or helping them with services ranging from job-training to resume-writing to GED help. Clients can receive training in fields ranging from retail hospitality to skilled trades.

"We have 830 employers who hire our people," Mark Lane, director of public relations and special events, said. "Last year, we touched over 28,600 individuals. It could be people with disabilities. It could be someone who worked in the steel mills or someone who was a mortgage broker."

Goodwill Industries last year also had 1,132 direct job placements, but the Canton store will allow the nonprofit agency to help a growing number of people who need help because of a still-ailing economy.

Moreover, the Canton store itself will employ an estimated 23 people to start.

"Our return to retail is about more than just opening a store. It's about creating Metro Detroit jobs," said Lindsay Chalmers, Goodwill Industries of Greater Detroit's vice president, who oversees business development for the organization.

"As we lead the charge through the Detroit area's current unemployment crisis," Chalmers said, "it's crucial not just to help local people earn jobs, but to create the businesses that will create those jobs."

Four teens compete in Detroit pageant

Four local girls have been selected to participate in Nationals Inc. pageants in Detroit this weekend.

Alexa Andries of Westland is participating in Nationals' 2010 Miss Junior Teen Detroit pageant on Sunday, Aug. 1, while Madison Nabozny and Emma Jimenez, both of Garden City, will compete in the Miss Pre-Teen Detroit competition and Latia Harrison of Westland in the Miss Teen Detroit Pageant.

The girls found out about their selection earlier this month after submitting and application and taking part in an interview session with this year's Detroit Pageant coordinator.

They will be competing for a share of thousands of dollars in prizes and specialty gifts that will be distributed to contestants. There are four divisions for young ladies between ages 7-19. They will compete in modeling routines, including casual wear and formal wear, and display their personality and interviewing skills while interviewing with this year's Detroit judging panel. Personality is the number one aspect that each contestant is judged on during all phases of competition.

The winners will represent Detroit and the surrounding communities at the Cities of America National Competition that will take place in Orlando, Florida. More than $60,000 in prizes and awards will be presented at the national competition. Each winner will receive expense paid trip of five nights and six days in Orlando.

Community businesses, organizations, and private individuals are helping the girls participate in the competition by becoming an official sponsor. Through sponsorship, each

OUR VIEWS

Good news Park cleanup will be sooner, not later

For several years, Mayor William Wild has talked about the redevelopment of Central City Park. On more than one occasion he expressed optimism that work on cleaning up a portion of the contaminated site would start by year's end.

He was right that the work would start, he was just a little off on which year. It looks like 2010 may be it, especially if bids on the proposed cleanup and redevelopment of 15 acres in the southeastern portion of the park go out this week.

The park has been a black eye for the city since November 2006 when a story broke about its widespread lead contamination. Built on a former county landfill, it was devastating news for the people who had frequented it. The news created a panic and a lot of anger when residents learned that city officials had known about the problem for years, but nothing had been done about it.

Wild has had the task of dealing with the problem since he took over as mayor in 2007. From illegal dumping on the site to the fear of methane gas, he and his staff and Wayne County officials have shown leadership and creativity in finding a way to get the park back online. Thirty-three acres of the park will be restored in several phases. The first phase will provide, among other things, a soccer complex, outdoor bathrooms, concession stand, new walking path and pavilion.

In talking about the development at his Town Hall meeting last week, the mayor called the new and improved park site "much more family-friendly" which goes well with the new and improved kid magnet the city has created at nearby Tattan Park with its Play Planet playscape and H2O Zone splash park.

It's clear to see that the mayor has made lemonade with the lemons that were handed to him when he took office. We are glad to hear that redevelopment will come sooner rather than later and look forward to the first shovelful of contaminated dirt being removed from the site.

We know it will be awhile before sounds of families resonating from that area of the park are heard, but we now know they're coming. For us and for the residents of Westland, that's good news indeed.

Angelo Plakas will be missed

Earlier this month, City of Westland lost a special individual with the passing of City Attorney Angelo Plakas.

Mr. Plakas

Those who knew him remember his big smile, his kind words, his caring demeanor. He was wise. He was experienced. He was practical. He had a way of making you feel you were a longtime friend, even if it was your first time meeting him. He was a master storyteller.

Mr. Plakas was Westland's city attorney for more than 20 years and looked out for the city and its elected officials.

He kept them on the straight and narrow. Some may not have agreed with his legal opinions, but they, first and foremost, were fair and honest.

The quality of the man was reflected in those whom he worked with over the years — Wayne County Executive Robert Ficano, retired District Judge C. Charles Bokus and current District Judge Mark McConnell, to name a few. It will take some time to get used to, but we know the mayor and council will find a city attorney who will be up to filling his shoes.

We, too, will miss Angelo Plakas. We offer our condolences to his family and to the City of Westland. This corner of the world is a better place because of him.

The issue: Killing of police officer

There is no such thing as "early release" from prison. A person can get paroled at their earliest out date but not just let go. If a person is sentenced to 2-5 years they can be paroled anytime within that five years but not until they have served at least 2 years. The guy that murdered this officer is a career criminal. He knew he had a gun, he knew he was a felon, and he knew he was going to get searched and sentenced to a flat 5 years (no chance of parole. He would have to serve exactly 5 years for the possession of a gun by a felon.) He chose to murder the officer rather than go back to prison.

There are no words to describe my anger at this guy and quite honestly I think prison is too easy on the prisoners and under certain circumstances I think the death penalty is appropriate. This is one of those cases.

Friend and colleague

I just want to add my congratulations to Darrell Clem for his recognition from the City of Westland. I just saw him at Angelo Plakas' wake, and it was so good to see an old friend after my absence in Florida.

Darrell always conducted himself professionally and empathetically in his coverage of Westland's Youth Assistance Program. I consider him to be a friend as well as a colleague, and I am so proud and happy for him for this award.

WAY TO GO, DARRELL.

Well-deserved tribute

A well-deserved tribute was paid to Darrell Clem, former Westland Observer journalist, at a Town Hall meeting recently held at Holiday Park in Westland. Personally, I would love to have heard comments from his former bosses — Westland Observer editors Leonard Poger who was there when he began his reporting days, and Sue Mason who was there when he was transferred to a neighboring community.

Darrell was with the newspaper for 18 years until June of 2009.

Some of the subjects he wrote about that are near and dear to my heart were:

1. Fund-raising projects for historical events.
2. Articles on local historic buildings.
3. Vandalism to headstones in our historic

4. Complete coverage on Annapolis Park sub in our quest for the National Register and the State Historical Marker. A particular article he wrote in February 2005, "Annapolis Park seeks historic designation," was about a phone call he made to Lansing to check on the status of the project that Edna Parker and myself had mailed there a year before. Even after his call that lit a spark, it took a year to complete all of the requirements needed to be considered for the National Register. It was worth the time and effort for Annapolis Park is the first and only historic district and National Register listing in Westland.

5. Darrell wrote an awesome article on the 1856 one-room Perrinsville Schoolhouse titled, "Restored school opens door to history." It was huge and filled with photos by staff photographer Tom Hawley. It told about the upcoming Open House Ceremony and State Historical Marker dedication.

6. He wrote an award-winning article on Rosa Parks.

7. Another article was on Thomas H. Brown, elder statesman mourned.

8. An lastly, his outstanding coverage of Central City Park contamination. Two of the first pieces he wrote on it were titled "Parents blast officials for silence on lead — soil tests as early as 1999 indicated problems" and "Old pictures capture dump site that became Central City Park."

9. Any articles on Cooper School — the fourth school built in 1966 being demolished, or reporting on redevelopment of the site Darrell told me more than once that he tried to tell both sides of a story. He did just that for he was always objective and unbiased in his reporting. And I can truly call him a great journalist, my friend, and my fellow Kentuckian.

GUEST OPINION

Protecting sources: protecting the public

During the course of its investigation into the current Gulf of Mexico oil spill, The Associated Press was given information from the then-office of Mineral Management Services that was not making a lot of sense.

Kevin Smith

As millions of gallons of crude spewed into the gulf waters and the oversight by MMS officials on BP's well was being called into question, an anonymous source in that office told reporters far different stories than what they had been initially told. This anonymous source set the record straight by coming forward and speaking out, and suddenly the world knew that this was more than a mechanical failure; it was a full system failure. The people hired to keep these events from occurring were ignoring their responsibilities.

At times, anonymous sources provide crucial information to the press. Stories of oil disasters may be the latest, but without citizens coming forward and sharing vital information, Americans would not know about steroids in sports, excessive military spending, or food and drug hazards. We would never have been told about Watergate.

A bill currently in the U.S. Senate will help assure such stories continue to reach the public. S. 448, The Free Flow of Information Act, will protect the sources on whom journalists rely from having their identities exposed in all but a few circumstances including where national security concerns are raised. Five years in the making, the current version of this bill is supported by more than 50 journalism organizations, the White House, the Justice Department and most of your congressional delegation.

Most states have laws that can protect a source's identity from overzealous prosecutors and judges, but there is no such protection yet at the federal level. S. 448 would change that and extend the same protections offered through statute or common law in 49 states to the national government. Without it, stories focusing on the federal government will not be told because reporters are faced with threats of jail time and fines if they do not turn on their sources.

Subpoenas against the press numbered more than 3,000 nationwide in 2006 with 335 issued by federal prosecutors seeking the identities of news sources, according to a survey conducted by a Brigham Young University law professor. More than a few journalists have spent time in jail, and some have been forced out of the profession all together by heavy fines that crippled them financially. These are all heavy-handed tactics to elicit the names of people who can then be identified and retaliated against. Media companies large and small faced with the enormous expenses of fighting such legal battles to protect sources are turning their backs on compelling stories.

As S. 448 awaits permission from key Senate leadership to come to the floor for a full vote, all senators, representing the interests of American citizens, need to hear from their constituents. Citizens who value the importance of transparency in governance and think the American press needs to continue to serve as the watchdog on the federal government should tell their senators to support this measure.

The clock is ticking as Congress will recess in August. Tell your senator to have the bill moved to a full Senate vote as soon as possible and support its passage.

Without this bill, stories that affect lives, like the oil spill in the Gulf, will never get the detailed attention they need to bring about change. Without this bill, your government has a better chance of operating in darkness or lying its way out of trouble. Help bring this to an end by voicing support for S. 448.

Only when there is a free flow of information from the government to its people can we truly appreciate the beauty and power of a democracy.

Report: Two men foiled taking vacuum cleaners

Retail fraud

A 20-year-old Detroit man and a 22-year-old Highland Park man were arrested at the Meijer store at Warren Road and Newburgh on July 24 for shoplifting and were held on outstanding warrants after they were observed by security trying to take two $400 Dyson vacuum cleaners, police said.

The security officer told police the two men entered the store and went to the vacuum cleaners where they began looking through them. They left the area, but returned a few minutes later and each selected a Dyson vacuum cleaner. The men left the store and went to the outdoor garden center where they placed the vacuum cleaners outside a gate, police said.

They began to leave the store when they saw employees approaching and instead retrieved the vacuum cleaners and walked back into the store where they left them in an aisle, police said. Both men did not have identification and one of them provided a fake name, police said, he was ticketed for providing false identification.

A Westland man and woman were charged with retail fraud after trying to remove women's clothing, body wash and 59 cans of Five-Hour Energy drink from the store in a black bag, police said.

Security officers told police they watched the couple select the merchandise and place in the bag, then leave the store without stopping to pay.

When stopped by store security, the man reportedly refused to re-enter the store and told his female accomplice not to either. The security officers told the man to leave to avoid a confrontation, however, police found him leaning against the woman's car and arrested him, police said.

Stolen vehicle

A resident on McKinney Drive in the Warris Farms apartment complex called police July 23 to report his 2008 Dodge Nitro was missing from the parking lot. He had last seen the vehicle 18 hours earlier when he parked and locked it.

He told police he was current on his payments and the car wasn't due to be turned in until March.

Police questioned the man about the report after receiving a call from the Detroit Police Department's Northwest District just 16 minutes after he called the Westland Police.

He admitted he had been in Detroit when the vehicle had disappeared, but said friends had picked him up, police said.

The Nitro was valued at $10,000.

Stolen tires

Four tires and rims were stolen from a car parked in the driveway of a home in the 8100 block of St. Johns Drive sometime after 11 p.m. July 23.

The owner discovered the tires sitting on landscaping blocks about 8 a.m. July 24. The culprits left lugnuts behind. The loss was estimated at $2,000.

Report: Employee caught cashing in lottery tickets

Assault

Garden City police are investigating an alleged assault between a softball coach and a player July 25 at Garden City Park located at Cherry Hill and Merriman.

The player, a 53-year-old Wayne man, reportedly said the coach told him he couldn't play because of a previous incident in which the player threw a bat. The alleged victim reportedly said that the coach, a 59-year-old Westland man, thrust out his chest and lunged at his chest.

The coach reportedly said they got close enough so only their cap brims touched. He denied head butting the player.

Police noted there were no visible injuries to either man.

When an unknown suspect thought a man threw a bottle at a black Ford Escape he was riding in at Farmington and Alta, he said the suspect got out of the car and punched the 18-year-old Garden City man in the face and in the ribs.

The suspect and the people in the Escape were estimated to be between 20-25 years old.

Embezzlement

A 28-year-old Belleville man who worked at the 7-Eleven store at 28205 Ford admitted cashing scratch off lottery tickets without paying for them July 26-27, police said. An estimated $294 was reportedly stolen.

The store wants to prosecute the man who started working there in May. They have obtained a video, according to the police report.

Property destruction

Witnesses repeated the same phrase in describing what happened right before five vehicles were hit about 3 a.m. July 25. They all said they saw some suspects in a "green Dodge Caravan" shooting an airsoft gun and laughing, police said.

The suspected vehicle was first seen on Marquette and then going southbound on Garden, police said.

Vehicle windows were reported broken in the 28900 block of Marquette, the 29900 block of Barton and the 29609 block of Florence. Two vehicles were hit in the 29400 block of Florence.

Retail fraud

An unknown citizen, acting as a Good Samaritan, helped return a shoplifted case of Budweiser beer about 3:30 p.m. July 23.

An unknown suspect left the 7-Eleven store at 2205 Merriman. Once outside, the citizen made the suspect give up the beer, which the citizen returned the product to the clerk. The employee wasn't able to get the man's name who performed the good deed.

You can generally just scan class action lawsuit notice

Over the last few weeks, many investors have received official notices regarding class action lawsuits brought against a number of mutual fund companies.

A few years ago, there was a mutual fund scandal in which a number of companies were charged with improper trading practices. Some of these companies settled those cases and made reimbursements to shareholders. Over the last year or so, investors received an unsolicited check from a mutual fund company. Now many are receiving notices with regard to a variety of class action lawsuits that were filed on behalf of a shareholder.

Investors lately are asking what to do when they receive these types of notices. The good news is nothing. Most of the notices do not require action, they merely inform investors of their rights. For the great majority of people the check is found money. However, for a small fraction of people with unique situations and where a substantial amount of money is involved, there may be reason to opt out of the settlement. These cases are rare.

If there is nothing that most people can do why did the company even bother sending the information? The answer simply is it's the law and the theory is that it is better to have too much information than not enough.

Therefore, if you've received notification about a class action lawsuit with regards to a mutual fund, don't worry about it or get anxious.

Whether it is annual reports, proxy statements or notification about a lawsuit, it is important that at least you give a cursory review of the documents and information that you receive.

Unfortunately, most of the information sent by mutual fund companies (in fact by most companies) seems to be written by lawyers for lawyers. However, that doesn't excuse you from at least attempting to understand what the material sent means and how it affects you.

In addition, don't forget that if you use a professional financial adviser, it is a fair question to ask them. After all, a good financial adviser should be able to provide you with assistance. A good financial adviser monitors investments after they are purchased.

Don't let these items increase your anxiety level. We all have enough of it already.

Good luck!

Closer P.J. Zocchi (22) of the first-place Oakland County Cruisers has converted all 20 save opportunities this season in the Frontier League.

Ford Field hosts Frontier League set

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Frontier League baseball will be up-close and personal this weekend as the first-place Oakland County Cruisers will roll into Livonia's Ford Field for a three-game series with Washington (Pa.) Wild Things.

The unaffiliated independent minor league team, with no current home park, stands 38-20 (as of Monday) and leads the East Division of the Frontier circuit by 6.5 games over the Traverse City Beach Bums.

Gera Alvarez

There will be no admission charge for any of the three games, which kicks off with a double-header at 4 p.m. on Saturday in a pair of seven-inning affairs, followed by a single nine-inning matchup beginning at 2 p.m. on Sunday.

The Cruisers, who play 78 of their 96 games away from the metro area, will return for another three-game set against the Kalamazoo Kings beginning with a twinbill at 4 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 1 and a single game at 6 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 2 at Ford Field. (The Livonia Junior Athletic League will provide concessions for all six games.)

"We're very excited to play in Livonia and it will be an intimate atmosphere," said Jerry Garland, the Cruisers' Director of Sales and Customer Relations. "We hope to have a great crowd - so check us out. It's not a bunch of beer league-type guys, it's probably more closer to double-AA caliber ball with the average age of our players around 22 to 27."

The Cruisers' franchise is in its fourth year of existence since joining the Frontier League, which consists of 12 teams, including six clubs in the East and six more in the West.

With the help of a local group of investors, Baseball Heroes of Oakland County, LP, the Cruisers are expected to break ground soon on a new 4,000-seat plus stadium on an 11-acre parcel at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph roads (at the old Oakland Mall).

The new park will be called Diamond

Neu, McHugh look to contribute at Concordia

BY JIM TOTH
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Looking to turn the fortunes of the baseball program around, Concordia University recently inked a pair of former Observerland standouts.

Ryan Neu, a shortstop who for the past two years starred on the diamond at Macomb Community College after prepping at Canton High School, and Nate McHugh, a standout pitcher at Garden City

High School the past two seasons, both signed letters of intent with hopes of helping the Cardinals regain some of their prowess competing for top honors in the always-tough Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference.

"We really like both players and feel they will both benefit from our program," said Ryan McCosky, who is serving as interim head coach of

Racing team rebounds from rough start

BY DAN O'MEARA
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Jim Sechler's boat, the Fast Eddie II, rebounded from a rough first day to win both heats in hydroplane racing July 18 at the Quake on the Lake.

After a rocky start, Jim Sechler and his hydroplane team rebounded on day two of the Quake on the Lake to salvage the July 17-18 racing weekend.

A failed engine in Sechler's boat, Fast Eddie II, wiped out the opening day at Pontiac Lake in Waterford, but he and his crew came back to win two races Sunday with another motor.

"In the five years we've been running, we never had an engine explode," Sechler, a Farmington Hills resident, said. "We blew one up in the first race Saturday."

"We spent the afternoon putting a motor back in. We got it ready to go; we got it ready for Sunday and won both heats. Saturday, we didn't do so well!"

Sechler, with driver Dan Kanfoush at the wheel, is in a tight race for the overall points leadership in the APBA one-liter modified class, and the engine failure cost the team valuable points.

Sechler called it a minor setback, however. The 200 points from winning qualifying and final heats Sunday helped to keep Fast Eddie II in contention.

"That keeps us in the running," Sechler said. "We're still doing pretty well this year."

The greater disappointment was the fact the failed engine was brand new and had just been installed the previous week, he added.

"What's a little frustrating is we lost a good engine that had little run time," Sechler said. "It was running really well. I thought we had a pretty good shot and

Gooding's gem puts Coach's Corner in AAABA tournament

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Right-hander Jeremy Gooding was more than good than enough Sunday as Coach's Corner posted a pivotal Livonia Michigan Collegiate League victory over the Michigan Rams in a battle of top 20-and-under teams at Ford Field.

Gooding, a freshman starter at Monday University who went 10-1 with a 2.39 earned run average this spring, scattered seven hits and three walks over seven innings as Coach's Corner improved to 26-7 (52 points).

The win also allowed coach Mike George's team to control its own destiny in the Collegiate League race.

Gooding, a Livonia native from Dearborn Divine Child High struck out seven, got out of pair of bases loaded jams to earn the victory against the Rams.

Losing pitcher Brandon Sinnery (Michigan) allowed three runs (two unearned) on just three hits in five innings. He struck out seven before giving way to reliever Neil Zalud in the sixth as the Rams fell to 25-8-1 (51 points) in the league.

Austin Delmotte's 2-run double in the first inning staked Coach's Corner to a 2-0 advantage. Steve Pelletier also knocked in a run in the third and Drew Adamiec (MU) scored twice.

Brett Mazmanian went 2-for-4 and scored the Rams' lone run in the fifth on an RBI by Cam Walker.

On Monday, Coach's swept the Tecumseh (Ontario) Thunder, 10-1 and 10-3, in a twinbill at Ford Field.

On Tuesday, Coach's Corner improved to 28-7 (56 points) and locked up a playoff berth in the All-American Amateur Baseball Association Regional this weekend in Zanesville, Ohio by sweeping the NFWB Cobras in a double-header at White Lake Lakeland High School, 7-0 and 8-3.

Westland John Glenn's Robert Fraser (Madonna University) improved to 7-1 with a 4-hitter in the opener, while Aaron Saarela (MU) went five innings to earn the win in the nightcap with relief help by Delmotte.

"Pitching has carried us all season," said George, whose team opens AAABA regional action 4 p.m. Saturday against Youngstown, Ohio. "We have six guys and they've all pitched well."

Meanwhile, the Rams finish 27-8-1 (55 points) and will play either Saturday in the American Amateur Baseball Congress Stan Musial State World Series in Battle Creek, or qualify for the National Amateur Baseball Federation College World Series, which begins Aug. 4 in Toledo, Ohio.

The Rams' fate will be determined Wednesday as the 22-and-under Michigan Bulls (27-8, 54 points) will try and get a share of the LCMBL crown with a win over Advanced in a 5:45 p.m. start at Ford Field.

Coach's Corner can win the Collegiate crown outright with a win over the Motor City Pride.

RAMS 4-8, ADVANCED 0-0: The Rams completed their 36-game Collegiate regular season schedule Monday by sweeping 22-and-under Advanced at Bicentennial Park, 4-0 and 8-0.

The Rams (27-8-1, 55 points) took the opener as Wayne State University left-hander Alex Pierce went all seven innings, allowing just two hits and two walks while striking out 11.

Bobby Thomas (WSU) paced the Rams' offense going 2-for-3 with a homer and three RBI. Cam Walker (WSU) went 3-for-3 with an RBI, while WSU-bound Jeff Sorenson (Livonia Stevenson) doubled and scored twice.

Losing pitcher David Partyka went six innings, allowing four runs on seven hits. He struck out three, walked two and hit one batter.

In the nightcap, right-hander Tyler Higgins (WSU) pitched another complete-game gem on a three-hitter. He struck out 10 and walked only two.

Walker went 2-for-4 with a double and three RBI, while Brett Mazmanian (Ouachita Baptist, Ark.) was 2-for-3 with a double and two runs scored. Sorenson added two RBI and Sam Ott (Eastern Michigan) had one.

Losing pitcher John Nelson gave up eight runs on seven hits in six innings. He struck out six and walked six as Advanced fell to 12-20-1.

at the Summit.

"We're in the formal under-writing process step and it's looking good right now," Garland said. "The economy set us back, but it's been a phenomenal effort by everybody involved."

In 2009, the Cruisers called Oestrike Stadium at Eastern Michigan University their home after playing all 96 games on the road in 2008 as the Midwest Sliders.

They were formerly known as the Slippery Rock (Pa.) Sliders before a group led by Cruisers President and CEO Rob Hilliard purchased the team and brought them to Michigan.

The most recognizable name on the Cruisers is former Tiger Dimitri Young, who serves as a bench coach for acting manager Gera Alvarez. Young is also Vice-President and Senior Advisor for Baseball Operations.

After finishing 12 games under .500 last season, the Cruisers have been in cruise control for much of the summer as six players made it to the Frontier League All-Star Game.

The pitching staff is led by Brisbane, Australia native James Albury, a starter who is 6-3 with a 3.86 earned run average in 60.2 innings.

Even more impressive is closer P.J. Zocchi, a Clemson grad who has converted all 20 save opportunities with an impressive 1.03 ERA. He was a 36th-round pick of the Cleveland Indians.

Meanwhile, outfielder Jeremy Jones (North Carolina A&T) is the team's top hitter at .309. He also leads the Cruisers with seven homers and 39 RBI.

Another interesting story is outfielder Robbie Tolan, a Bellaire, Tex. native who was once a promising minor league prospect with the Washington Nationals who was shot in his home in a brutal case of mistaken identity. He plays with that bullet still lodged in his body.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Many people are wrongly rejected when they apply for Social Security Disability benefits. Money was taken out of their paychecks for Social Security taxes to ensure that they would receive disability benefits if they could no longer work full-time. Sadly, the government denies approximately 60% of those who apply for disability benefits.

The tragedy is that less than half of those persons who are denied benefits file an appeal. Thus, many thousands of people who deserve benefits never receive them.

Those denied can appeal on their own, but statistics for many years reveal that those represented by attorneys win a much higher percentage of appeals. And attorneys who specialize in Social Security Disability cases win a much higher percentage yet.

Attorney J.B. Bieske has represented only Social Security Disability clients for over 20 years. That is the only type of law he practices. And, he personally meets with all clients and appears himself at all court hearings. Many large firms assign clients to young associate attorneys with much less experience.

In addition to practicing only Social Security Disability law Bieske has written a book for attorneys about the subject. He also has been interviewed on various radio and television programs and has given speeches to many groups.

Bieske's office staff consists of paralegals and secretaries who are also highly experienced in assisting him with Social Security Disability cases. And they are extremely helpful in answering questions with regard to the status of clients' cases and administrative procedure.

Attorney Bieske welcomes you to call him to determine if you may be eligible for these benefits. He offers free phone or office consultations. If Bieske represents you, there will be no fee charged until after the case is won. The fee is a percentage of retroactive benefits.

In a recent radio interview attorney Bieske explained that many people are not even aware that they are eligible for Social Security Disability benefits. These are not the same as Workers' Compensation benefits. It is possible to receive both benefits at the same time. If you have an illness or injury (whether or not related to your work), are under 65 and unable to work full-time you may be eligible. Social Security Disability benefits are based on your work record or your deceased spouse's work record (Widow's/Widower's benefits).

Bieske represents clients from all over the state of Michigan. Call him at 1-800-331-3530 for a FREE consultation if you have been denied. Or if you are thinking of possibly applying for Social Security benefits call him for FREE advice. www.ssdfighter.com

Young actors take on Shakespeare, song, dance

BY SHARON DARGAY
O&E STAFF WRITER

Shannon VanEsley wasn't sure what to expect when she agreed to teach and direct Motor City Youth Theatre's Shakespeare day camp for kids.

"I had done Shakespeare but never directed it," said VanEsley, 27, a New York actress and former Redford resident, who has taught in the summer program for several years. "I really had not done Shakespeare with them before."

VanEsley, a Motor City Youth Theatre alumnus, was pleasantly surprised.

"I have some kids who I would say are as good or better than some adults who try to do Shakespeare. It has been amazing to see them grow, to shape them into poised performers. They've learned some serious technique. It has been a cool process."

And a fast one. Shakespeare day camp meets for three hours week day afternoons from July 5-30, culminating in a public performance of A Midsummer Night's Dream, Aug. 6-8. Although rehearsals began last month, VanEsley said campers "basically learned everything about (the play) in the last three weeks."

"They are learning a lot of improvisational skills and how to think on the spot. They're learning how to be aware of their surroundings on stage and how to be poised in any situation. The things they are learning on stage — poise, awareness, team work — are important life skills."

For VanEsley, the summer teaching and directing gig offers an opportunity to reconnect with her roots and "give back" to Motor City Youth Theatre and its students. She joined the troupe, founded by Nancy and Fred Florkowski of Redford, about 20 years ago, when it was known as Redford Youth

MOTOR CITY YOUTH THEATRE

Broadway Motown: Students from the theater's summer camp dance and sing Broadway and Motown songs in this one-night production, 7 p.m., Friday, July 30. Admission is $2 per person or $5 per family for unreserved seats.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream": Summer camp students present the Shakespeare comedy at 7 p.m., Friday-Saturday, Aug. 6-7 and 2 p.m., Sunday, Aug. 8. Tickets are $8 per person; $12 per two people; or $15 per family for reserved seats. They're available in advance or at the door. Renaissance festival: 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 7. Kids can decorate wooden swords, make puppets, fairy crowns, masks, jewelry, shields and more in this day long craft festival. Children who are accompanied by a parent or adult guardian may drop in at one or more craft stations and pay for each individually. Parents also may pay $15 per child and drop them off for three hours of supervised crafts. Location: All activities planned for the Grantland Street Playhouse, 27555 Grantland, west of Inkster, south of Schoolcraft, Livonia. Contact: (313) 535-8962

Theatre. After graduating from Thurston High School, VanEsley moved to New York to study at the American Musical and Dramatic Academy before touring with the American Family Theatre. She earned a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree at the New School University in New York City, N.Y., and primarily performs professional theatre for children.

YOUNG ACTORS

"It's instant gratification. They are a joy to be around and they're always excited. I like working with kids," VanEsley said. "This group

Shannon VanEsley, a Redford native now living in New York, is directing Motor City Youth Theatre day campers in 'A Midsummer Night's Dream,' at the Grantland Street Playhouse in Livonia.

(Motor City Youth Theatre) is so enthusiastic. They're such sweet kids. I couldn't ask for a better place to be at this moment."

Motor City Youth Theatre offered an outdoor Shakespeare production for adult actors for several years, before staging a student show — Hamlet — last year.

"It was amazing," said Nancy Florkowski. "Our first A Midsummer Night's Dream was with adults. Now the kids are everything."

The theatre has offered a summer camp almost every year since 1990, but took a break from teaching last summer when students performed Hamlet. When camp resumed this year, Florkowski incorporated the Shakespeare performance.

The theater also offered a musical theatre camp, focusing on Broadway and Motown tunes, for three hours on weekday mornings this month.

VanEsley taught the class and choreographed and directed the final show, which starts at 7 p.m., Friday, July 30.

Students in Motor City Youth Theatre's 'Broadway Motown' summer camp rehearse tunes for a show on Friday, July 30.

Couple tours holy land with Mike Huckabee, Pat Boone

Jerry and Sharon Smith of Livonia are devout Christians who share a love of music.

Jerry is the musical director at First Presbyterian Church in Plymouth (the church celebrated its 175th anniversary July 18) and a longtime member of the Livonia Community Prayer Breakfast Committee. Sharon is a pianist and a regular performer at the breakfast, which typically draws more than 500 individuals.

So it's no surprise that when they traveled to Israel earlier this year that music director and singer, Jerry Smith, led the group in singing When Peace Like a River on the banks of the Jordan River. The Jordan River is where Christians believe Jesus was baptized and preached to his disciples.

The Smiths were part of a tour sponsored by Liberty University, of Lynchburg, Va.

The tour group of more than 90 people from throughout the United States was hosted by Mike Huckabee, former GOP presidential candidate, and his wife, Jan. The popular former Arkansas governor, who now has a television show on the Fox network, is an ordained Southern Baptist minister.

Also on the trip was Pat Boone, a popular singer and actor during the 1950s and early 1960s, who continues to entertain and perform, as a motivational speaker and a Christian activist, writer and preacher. Boone is a member of the Gospel Music Hall of Fame.

Jerry Smith (with microphone) leads the group in singing the old gospel 'Blessed Assurance' by Crosby at Caesarea Philippi, one of the sources of the Jordan River.

BIBLICAL SITES

The 10-day tour began in Jerusalem with stops at the Garden of Gethsemane, the Mount of Olives, Temple Mount, the Bethesda Pool, the Via Dolorosa, the Garden Tomb and the Wailing Wall. Traveling to Tiberius (on the Sea of Galilee) by way of the Dead Sea and the Jordan River, Huckabee related various sites to Scriptural references: Capernaum, the Mount of the Beatitudes, Golan Heights, Caesarea Philippi and Nazareth. The group also held a Sunday worship service while sailing on the Sea of Galilee. On the return to the Mediterranean coast, the tour included a visit to Megiddo, the famed center of many Israelite battles, and Caesarea.

SEEING SCRIPTURE

"Two thousand years plus of history remains and the church groups have preserved the holy sites," said Jerry Smith, "Pilgrims are still coming in large numbers" to visit the Holy Land.

"Reading Scripture and then seeing Scripture is indescribable," he added.

The group also visited Jerusalem — an international/interfaith center of religion.

As both Smiths pointed out, the Holy Land is holy to Jews, Christians and Muslims.

The Smiths said the tour deepened their belief as "more than spectators in the arena of religious purpose." They added that it expanded their "horizons of belief as seen and experienced by thousands who have walked this land."

Jerry Smith leads the group in singing "When Peace Like a River"; by Spafford at the Jordan River. In Christian tradition, Jesus was baptized there by John the Baptist.

Sweeten up your family fun

Between family reunions, sports leagues and neighborhood block parties, there are many activities and annual traditions that families look forward to. This year you can make these events even more meaningful by transforming them into charitable bake sales to benefit a worthy cause.

This is a simple — and fun — way to enhance your favorite events, spend time together and teach kids the valuable lesson of giving back. Plus, there are many great charities that can benefit from your efforts, such as Cookies for Kids' Cancer, a non-profit committed to raising funds for pediatric cancer research through bake sales.

Baking and sharing homemade treats with friends and family, the fun of a bake sale and knowing that you're giving back with each cookie sold, will make your outings even more special.

Here are some tips and ideas to turn three classic activities into successful bake sales:

SPORTS LEAGUES

Your delicious baked treats can be used for more than just a snack at your children's next game. Choose a sports tournament or opening day at the neighborhood field as the perfect setting for a bake sale home run. Designate a baked good for each participating team, such as the Bengals Brownies or Crusaders Chocolate Chip Cookies, and see who can score the most points by selling the most treats for a good cause. Drive home winning donations with sports-themed cookies and treats like baseball bat cookies or cupcakes decorated like soccer balls.

FAMILY REUNIONS

Make the annual family gathering even more memorable and host a bake sale as part of the celebration. Have each family member come with a dozen of their favorite baked goods and sell them for donations to other families celebrating nearby. As a special gift, compile all of the recipes into a family bake sale book — a timeless treasure that will ensure your family's recipes are passed down for generations to come.

NEIGHBORHOOD BLOCK PARTY

When the whole neighborhood is planning to gather this year, propose turning the event into a mini bake sale. Encourage each family to create a custom cookie of their own. Everyone will love picking out their favorite ingredients and naming their one-of-a-kind treat; some might even stumble onto a lasting family recipe.

If you are looking for a cookie recipe, try the delicious Chocolate Chip Cherry Cookie — the official Glad to Give Cookie — developed as a tasty inspiration for those hosting bake sales to benefit Cookies for Kids' Cancer. This sweet and chocolatey cookie is guaranteed to be a favorite for many years to come.
