

Mega winner

A Westland resident is $250,000 richer after she matched the first five numbers for the Mega Millions lottery drawing on Friday, May 17. Wanda Protyniak was the lucky holder of one of three $250,000 Mega Millions prizes sold in Michigan in the drawing. Protyniak's winning ticket was sold by Unity Service Corp. located at 1716 S. Merriman, Westland. The other winners were Trevis Bluege of Alanson and Paulette Lightfoot of Barbeau. Two winning jackpot tickets for the $190 million jackpot were bought in New Jersey and Virginia.

Excellence Award

Wayne-Westland's Wayne Memorial High School community nights program has received the 2013 Education Excellence Award from the Michigan Association of School Boards and SET SEG School Insurance Specialists, the awards sponsor. "This year's Education Excellence winners demonstrate that excellence is all around us in our public schools, despite their numerous challenges, financial restraints and unending reforms," said Kathy Hayes, MASB executive director. "This year's winners clearly know what it takes to positively impact student achievement." Facing decreased parental and community involvement and declining student achievement, Wayne Memorial High School established three annual community nights designed to remove the stigma often associated with high schools for many parents and community members. Community nights are designed to build relationships and establish partnerships among parents, students, staff, district personnel, community members and business partners in an environment that allows people to get to know one another on a personal level. The innovative program aims to establish trust and comfort with parents and community members through games and other fun activities so they can play an active role in Wayne Memorial students' educations. Wayne High received a trophy, street sign proclaiming it an "Education Excellence Winner" and a cash award from SET SEG.

The Rev. Bernard Pilarski offers a blessing and grace to Edna Julian, who was celebrating her 100th birthday.

The century mark
She credits milk and mindset to her longevity

By LeAnne Rogers
Staff Writer

When she lists the various ailments and some accidents she endured as a youngster, it's easy to see why Edna Julian never expected to live until she was 100. "I had all the childhood diseases - I was sick all the time. I was burned when my brother knocked over hot water on the stove," said Julian, a Westland resident. "We were quarantined for a month with scarlet fever. My first step out, I was quarantined again - I had gotten the measles." But Julian, who was born May 21, 1913, in a room above a store on Michigan Avenue in Detroit across from the Michigan Central Depot, did survive and eventually thrived. When an uncle gave her family a house in Wayne, they relocated, and Julian attended Wayne High School. Julian moved to Inkster in 1941 into a brand new subdivision. She married second husband John Paul Julian in 1946 and the couple were together until his death in 1991. "At 35, I was not very well. I prayed I would live long enough to raise my kids," said Julian, who was married twice and had three children. "My husband was on the road for a week or two - he owned his own truck and was a steel hauler. I'd worry. Just all of a sudden I changed when the kids were in grade school." That meant helping out at the school during recess, class parties and camp.

Edna Julian recently celebrated her 100th birthday. She still drives herself each day to Mass at St. Richard Catholic Church in Westland.

'Made up my mind'
"I just made up my mind to do it. When I did it, I started feeling better," said Julian. "Then, if I expected the kids to go to church, I had to go, too. I just felt better." Julian was raised a Methodist and attended a Methodist church much of her life. She converted to Catholicism when she

Westland looks at banning carnivals

By LeAnne Rogers
Staff Writer

Citing problems caused by large groups of young people congregating and fighting at area carnivals, Westland is looking into banning the traveling rides and midway shows. A council study session Monday about the Westland Summer Festival was prompted by two issues — security concerns and the bill for police overtime that is to be reimbursed by the festival. "This goes deeper than the festival, it's carnivals," Councilman Bill Johnson said. "We need an ordinance to say no carnivals, festivals only." The study session came on the heels of serious problems at last month's Westland Firefighters Charity Fund carnival, held at the northeast corner of Wayne and Warren roads. During that carnival, a group of young males, estimated to number more than 100, were fighting and eventually spilled over from the carnival into neighboring businesses, including the Westland Shopping Center parking lot. "Officers from four cities had to respond to problems at the carnival. You couldn't get down Wayne Road for all the police cars," Johnson said. "McDonald's (at Wayne and Warren roads) had to shut down." A more than two-minute YouTube video of the brawl in the shopping center parking lot, shot from a smart phone, shows the crowd moving en masse as individuals square off to fight. The lights of a mall security vehicle can be seen coming into the frame and people start running as police sirens are heard in the distance. The video looks very similar to incidents that happened Saturday during the St. Mary's of Orchard Lake Polish Festival. There were problems last year at

Combined dispatch awaits Garden City, Inkster approval

By LeAnne Rogers
Staff Writer

Agreements to establish a four-city emergency dispatching center have been approved by the Westland and Wayne councils. The local Intergovernmental Agreement is set to be voted on by the Garden City and Inkster councils at their June 3 meetings. The agreement would result in consolidation of the current Westland-Inkster dispatching operation at the Westland Police Department with the Wayne-Garden City dispatching center, currently housed at the Wayne Police Department. "We're on track with the technology and expect to be set to go July 1," said Westland Mayor William Wild, referring to new dispatching consoles funded through a $400,000 Federal Emergency Management Administration grant. The six current dispatchers for Wayne-Garden City would be laid off once the dispatching services are consolidated. Those employees would be offered dispatching positions with the combined operation and if hired, would become Westland employees and treated as new hires. The initial annual cost for the dispatching center would be:

• Westland - $694,228
• Inkster - $552,279
• Garden City - $331,305.
• Wayne - $296,305. The merger of the two dispatching operations - Westland has been combined with

Water rates to increase in Wayne

By LeAnne Rogers
Staff Writer

Wayne residents will see a 4.3 percent increase in water-sewer bills as the city passes along rate increases from the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department and Wayne County. Effective July 1, a 4.4 percent increase was also approved to the monthly fixed rate costs for both water and sewer. "We'll get the blame for it anyway because it was passed by us," said Wayne Mayor Al Haidous. "It's not the surrounding 123 communities — the court finally ruled that it's Detroit's water system. They can run it like a business." The city's water-sewer fund also has to be run like a business, Wayne Finance Director James Ghedotte said, recommending the increase in rates and fixed costs. The water rate increase will take Wayne's charge to $3.91 per unit or 1,000 gallons of water. The fixed rate charge will go to $15.65 per month — up from $15 per month. The total fixed rate for water paid by the city would be $1.1 million in 2013-14. The sewer rate increase will be from $5.72 per unit to $5.97 per unit. The fixed monthly rate is increasing to $11.03 from the current $10.57. The county's fixed fee is going from $1.9 million annually to just over $2 million. "The 4.3 percent rates are needed to cover costs.

We will still focus on our meter change out," said Ghedotte. That meter replacement program, budgeted at $1.7 million in 2012-13, begins the process of installing new meters that can be read remotely. "We are looking at different companies and technology," said Ghedotte. "We would no longer need a person to read the meters — it would either be by vehicle or signal to an office." The meter replacement program wouldn't impact water rates, he said. It is being funded through the 2006 water and sewer bond fund.

was 69 and was baptized and confirmed during the 1983 Easter Vigil Mass at St. Richard Catholic Church in Westland.

St. Richard is a central part of Julian's life - she drives herself to the church for Mass daily, helps with sacristan duties and tends the flowers and plants on the altar. She's given up visits to local nursing homes but packs the bag the priest takes with him when he visits.

"When I was younger, I thought I wouldn't do much of anything. I wanted to work in the church," she said. "It's my second home."

Julian is active in St. Richard's 50+ Club, which threw her a 100th birthday luncheon. The club presented Julian, decked out in sequins, with a tree containing 100 golden dollars.

'Just a jewel'

"Edna is just a jewel. She drives to Mass every day. She waters the flowers," said club member Jo Ann Krebs.

Many of the club members also attended family birthday party held for Julian at the Wayne Community Center. Michael Clancy - one of Julian's five grandchildren - came from Tucson, Ariz., to help Julian celebrate her birthday.

"She baby-sat for me. She'd drive me to school, my mom had to work," said Clancy.

"He was great. We'd would take him everywhere. He'd sleep in the back seat. When we traveled, we'd give him a bath in the bathroom sink," Julian recalled.

These days, Julian still enjoys traveling - she has been on several cruises and trips to Las Vegas and Atlantic City. She's like to visit places like the Holy Land and England but there is a problem.

"I'll never go since I won't fly in a plane," said Julian. "I want to die right here on earth."

Widowed in 1991, Julian lived in her Inkster home until 1997 when she moved in with daughter Pat Clancy in Westland. She also had two sons, Robert Zima and John Michael Julian, who was struck by car and killed in 1992 while crossing Inkster Road south of Cherry Hill.

Asked about any tips for longevity, Julian said she never smoked or drank alcohol but she used to drink a lot of milk.

"I think the church keeps her going," said Michael Clancy.

area carnivals, including the 2012 Westland Firefighters event.

Police report social media is used to alert participants to the next carnival location and date, when youths described as gang members will gather.

"Gangs use the carnivals to have interactions. The first gang to arrive owns the carnival," Westland Deputy Police Chief Michael Matich said.

"Carnivals and gangs go hand-in-hand right now." Carnivals held on private property can take security steps like St. Mary's did, Matich said, restricting access to the site, charging an admittance fee and checking identification.

"We can't do that on public property. All we can do is arrest someone, then there is a fight and most of the security will be in the booking room," Matich said.

While not advocating cancellation of the Westland Summer Festival in July, Johnson said the city does need to address carnivals.

Police requested that the carnival close at 8 p.m. nightly to address the security problems - something unlikely to be agreeable to the festival committee.

As an alternative, Westland Police Chief Jeff Jedrusik said he would like the carnival closed at 8 p.m. the night of the fireworks.

"Last year was the first year as a police officer that I felt we had control (at the festival). I love the festival and the fireworks. But I don't feel it's comfortable and safe," Jedrusik said, noting incidents in recent years that included a shooting and a stabbing.

Problems with an unruly crowd refusing to leave the carnival during the 2011 festival prompted security changes at the festival, including the use of Livonia Police Reserves for traffic control.

Inkster for a number of years - will produce some savings for the communities in the short-term but more long-term.

"Our long-term goal is that this is the beginning of regional dispatch. Our next step would be to add additional cities in western Wayne," Wild said. "The savings would come in the long-term as part of a regional dispatching authority."

Nearly a year ago, Westland and Wayne merged their fire departments and parks and recreation departments. A committee of staff members from both cities is studying further joint efforts at cutting costs and enhancing services.

Last August, Lt. Gov. Brian Calley visited for the grand opening of the Wayne-Westland fire administration operation and praised the merger as the type of consolidation sought by Gov. Rick Snyder. State funding to local communities is also being tied in part to consolidations or cooperative efforts with other communities.

"I'll be attending the Mackinac Policy Conference and provide the lieutenant governor with an update on the fire department and the dispatching piece, too," Wild said. "He definitely looks at these as models (for other communities)."

Fundraiser planned for mom, kids battling degenerative disease

For Allison Rupp, waking up every morning gives an air of uncertainty as to how her day will go.

Will she have a "good" day, with only moderate pain — one where she may be able to find the strength to do the grocery shopping or clean the bathroom?

Or will it be a bad day, with pain so great that she is confined to bed for the entire day, simply trying to lay in a way that causes her the least amount of discomfort?

Rupp, 30, of Westland, suffers from a condition called Ehlers-Danlos Syndrome (EDS). A degenerative disease, EDS impacts the body's connective tissues, primarily skin, joints and blood vessels. In turn, it also affects organs such as the duce enough collagen to maintain the strength and elasticity that a healthy body has.

Rupp likes to use the example of a rubber band, versus Silly Putty; if a rubber band is stretched, it snaps back into place. If Silly Putty is stretched, it stays that way. Having EDS is much like having Silly Putty for joints.

Despite her young age, Rupp has already undergone 12 surgeries in an effort to help her better manage her EDS, including, most recently, a procedure to fuse vertebrae in her neck.

Rupp's two children, Noah, 7, and Lila, 4, have also been diagnosed with EDS. They have already begun physical and occupational therapy, the continuation of which will be vital to help minimize the progression of their disease as they get older.

Because of her EDS, Rupp was placed on permanent disability at age 27. Due to the degenerative nature of the disease, her medical expenses are mounting and will only continue to grow in the future.

Even in the face of these struggles, Allison does her best to maintain a positive attitude.

"I'm so blessed to have such a wonderful husband and family," she said. "Yes, my disease is difficult, but I know God won't give me anything I can't handle. Everyone has a battle to fight, and this is mine."

In an effort to help raise money to defray some of the medical costs for Rupp and her children, Rupp's sister Emily Beeman is putting on a fundraiser for the family on June 1.

The event will be held at Wilson Barn in Livonia, and will run from 4-7 p.m.

Suggested donations are $10 per person, $15 per couple or $20 per family. Included in the festivities will be food, games and face painting, and a silent auction.

Those who are unable to attend the fundraiser but still wish to donate to the Rupp family may send their checks, made payable to The Rupp Family EDS Funds, to P.O. Box 51098 Livonia, MI 48150.

Residents of Wayne and Westland came together Sunday afternoon to honor those men and women who have served and who have died in service to their country.

Military units, marching bands, representatives of local veterans organizations and even Uncle Sam marched along Wayne Road and Ford en route to Westland City Hall, where a memorial service was held at the Peace Memorial.

Mother Nature provided perfect conditions - warm temperatures and sunshine - for parade watchers who lined the streets, waving flags and applauding veterans who marched by.

Organized by the Wayne-Westland Veterans Parade Council, the parade has been a Memorial Day weekend fixture in the two communities for more than 40 years.

Golf classic benefits hospital's newest service

The 18th annual St. Mary Mercy Hospital "Tee It Up" Golf Classic will be held Monday, June 17, at Meadowbrook Country Club in Northville.

Proceeds from the event will benefit the Wellness Center, a St. Mary Mercy facility where patients and families can benefit from care that goes beyond conventional medicine.

The facility will house the Center for Integrative Medicine and the Senior Assessment and Resource Institute. The integrative approach enhances primary care with alternative and holistic options. Patients fighting cancer, suffering from migraine headaches, or who are recovering from surgery are among the types of patients who depend on this comprehensive philosophy of care. The Senior Assessment and Resource Institute will provide the thorough check-ups, follow-up and resources that senior patients need to manage illness, reclaim their health and improve their quality of life.

The 18-hole scramble features two shotgun starts, one at 7:30 a.m. and an afternoon round at 1:30 p.m. on Meadowbrook's championship course. An individual Par Golf Package is $500 per person for 18 holes of golf and a cart. The package includes beverages and refreshments at the turn; breakfast and lunch for morning golfers and the afternoon golfers will receive lunch prior to golf, followed by cocktails and an awards reception afterward.

McCotter staffer pleads no contest in petition signature scandal

By David Veselenak
Staff Writer

One of former U.S. Rep. Thaddeus McCotter's staffers has pleaded no contest in the petition signature scandal involving his office last summer.

Mary Turnbull, a Howell resident and McCotter's former district representative, pleaded no contest Tuesday to the charge of conspiracy to commit a legal act in an illegal manner before Oakland County Circuit Judge Leo Bowman in Pontiac.

Turnbull was accused of being one of four staffers on the former Livonia congressman's campaign involved in illegally copying signatures for petitions to put McCotter on the ballot. After the signatures were found to be invalid, McCotter said he would run as a write-in candidate before dropping out of the race altogether.

Turnbull is scheduled to be sentenced July 9. She faces a maximum of up to five years in prison.

McCotter was replaced by Democrat David Curson of Belleville for about six weeks after the November election in the 11th District before redistricting took place earlier this year. The current representative for the district is Milford resident Kerry Bentivlio, who originally filed to run against McCotter in the GOP primary last summer.

Turnbull's case is the second to be resolved after McCotter resigned last summer. Another former staffer, Livonia resident Lorianne O'Brady, was sentenced to 20 days in jail or 20 days in a work-release program after she pleaded guilty to five counts of falsely signing a nomination petition as a circulator, all misdemeanors.

Two other staffers, Paul Seewald and Don Yowchaung, continue to face charges in the state court system. Both were originally charged with conspiracy to commit a legal act in an illegal manner, but both had those charges dropped by Wayne County Circuit Judge Margie Braxton. The Michigan attorney general's office is currently appealing the decision to the state Court of Appeals.

McCotter was subpoenaed in the pair's preliminary examination in Livonia's 16th District Court last fall. He was not charged with any crimes involving the falsified signatures.

Both also were charged with several counts of falsely signing a nomination petition as a circulator last fall. Both were sentenced to probation.

Canton woman top ACS volunteer

Canton resident Liz Paruch has received the Volunteer of the Year Award from the American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network.

The Volunteer of the Year, created in 2008, recognizes the exemplary efforts of an individual who helps advocate for responsible public health policies and laws that will help fight cancer.

According to Paruch the advocacy work of ACS CAN is frequently overlooked by the public. "We need good laws and policies to make sure the breakthroughs and progress from scientific research gets to the public-at-large and people who are diagnosed with cancer," said Paruch. "I'm very proud of this award. ACS CAN has allowed me to join a national movement that makes sure legislators know their important role in fighting this disease."

Annapolis retains Trauma verification

One year after receiving its initial verification, Oakwood Annapolis Hospital in Wayne has achieved continued verification as a Level III Trauma Center through April 2017.

The American College of Surgeons Committee on Trauma (ASCOT) conducted an on-site review of the Wayne-based hospital recently and found "zero deficiencies or weaknesses" in the trauma program service. As a result, the hospital has received verification for an additional two years.

"This is a big win for our team," said Eric Widner, division president of Oakwood Annapolis Hospital. "It's a validation of the hard work we do every day to provide the best care to the community."

Verified trauma centers must meet the essential criteria that ensure trauma care capability and institutional performance, as outlined by the ASCOT in its current Resources for Optimal Care of the Injured Patient manual. The program provides confirmation that a trauma center has demonstrated its commitment to providing the highest quality trauma care for all injured patients.

Oakwood Annapolis Hospital opened in 1957 and became part of the Oakwood Healthcare System in 1989. A $4 million renovation and expansion of the emergency department is currently under way at the hospital that is designed to improve efficiency, patient privacy and safety. Annapolis is the only verified Level III Trauma Center in the region.

Don't fall for scams — check with your grandchildren

By Rick Bloom
Guest Columnist

I read a story about grandparents from Michigan who lost more than $30,000 in a scam that involved someone posing as their grandson. The caller asked them for cash to help pay a fine and to post a bond to get him out of a Canadian jail. They sent the money, but it turned out to be a scam and they lost a substantial portion of their savings.

I have written about other scams targeted at grandparents, but I thought I would do it again because these types of scams are becoming more common.

The scam that is very common today is where grandparents receive a call from someone who is impersonating their grandchild seeking an immediate transfer of money to help them out of a crisis situation. Think back four or five years ago and there were less than 1,000 of these types reported just last year. In addition, we all know the reality and that is that a lot more of these frauds are occurring, but people aren't reporting them. The problem has become epidemic, so you need to know how to prevent them from happening to you.

Money Matters

Scam elements

The grandparent scams contain two elements that help people perpetuate the fraud. The first is the need for immediate money in order to resolve a crisis situation. The money could be used for medical costs, to pay a ticket or fine or to post a bond to get out of jail. The common element is there is an emergency.

The other element to the scam is the need for secrecy. The caller who is impersonating a grandchild convinces the grandparent that his/her parents cannot be notified. These scam artists are good and they know how to illicit information from the unsuspecting grandparent. In fact, this scam has become so prevalent that Western Union has put a warning on its forms advising against sending money for unconfirmed emergency situations. In addition, they are training agents to look out for these types of scams.

Verify information

Grandparents have a soft spot in their hearts for their grandchildren. The scam artists know this and they attempt to exploit it.

How can you guard against this happening to you? Make sure to independently confirm that an emergency exists. I recognize there are legitimate cases where grandchildren want to keep things from their parents, however, when you're asked to send money, red flags should go up. Get more information before you send any money.

It's unfortunate that we constantly have to keep our guard up and be aware of low-lives out there that want to take advantage of us. That is the reality of the situation. What is also reality is that many of these scam artists, because of the Internet, can find out all sorts of information about us and our families and are willing to exploit it.

The bottom line, we have to be smarter than them. Taking a few minutes to confirm an emergency will go a long way in protecting yourself. Good luck!

Area road projects get under way

Schoolcraft and Haggerty is congested with cars and construction equipment while the road project is under way.

BILL BRESLER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Be prepared for traffic delays as road construction season gets into full swing. Here are a few planned area road construction projects to watch for in Plymouth/Plymouth Township, Farmington/Farmington Hills and Livonia throughout the spring and summer.

Plymouth/Plymouth Township

The mile-long stretch of Haggerty Road between Plymouth Road and Schoolcraft is under construction for the next three months.

The road is undergoing an asphalt resurfacing in the area near Plymouth Road, a reconstruction in concrete in the area near Schoolcraft and a reconfiguration of the intersections at both Plymouth and Schoolcraft roads, according to Plymouth Township and Wayne County officials.

The $1.12 million project is expected to be completed at the end of September, said Patrick Dostine, public information officer for the county's Department of Public Services. Drivers can expect lane closures, but traffic is expected to be maintained on Haggerty for the duration of the work, Dostine said.

Improvements are planned at both the Schoolcraft and Plymouth road intersections, including, at Schoolcraft, the introduction of a "Michigan left," or turnaround, system for making left turns and, at Plymouth, better lane definition.

The Haggerty project is one of several planned for county roads in Plymouth Township this year.

- In June, the decks of two Hines Drive bridges over the Rouge River, just west of Haggerty in Hines Park, are scheduled to be resurfaced. The bridges will be completely closed and a detour is planned.

- Sheldon Road between M-14 and Five Mile is scheduled to be resurfaced in asphalt beginning in August; that project also includes a new traffic light at Sheldon and Plymouth Oaks Boulevard. Lane closures can be expected, but no full road closures.

Farmington/Farmington Hills

- Two special assessment districts in the Staman Acres and Stratton Hills neighborhoods for road rehabilitation, including repaving. Staman Acres is between Power and Orchard Lake, north of 10 Mile. Stratton Hills is east of Drake, between 13 and 14 Mile roads.

The road rehabilitation portion of the projects tops an estimated $4.8 million of which the city's 20 percent share is $960,000.

- Freedom Road, just west of Drake to the city limits. This is federal aid project include road resurfacing and drainage improvements.

- 13 Mile Road between Middlebelt and Orchard Lake. The project will include removing the existing pavement, creating a center left-turn lane and adding a sidewalk on the south side. The work is east of the Glen Oaks Golf Club. The improvements will allow the road to be used as a detour when work begins next year on construction of a roundabout at 14 Mile and Orchard Lake.

- Middlebelt Road near Hillel Day School, just north of 14 Mile. A smaller project, work will include construction of a right turn lane off Middlebelt in the school entrance area.

Oakland County also has two projects in Farmington Hills this season. They include:

- Resurfacing of 14 Mile, Haggerty to Country Way. The work is expected to begin after July 4 and be completed in November.

- Grove Street. The existing roadway has already been removed, from Grand River to Orchard, as has a portion of the parking lot of the Grove Retail Center that abuts the roadway. Grove will become a boulevard with a center island and angle parking. The area will be landscaped and feature brick paver sidewalks. Water main replacement is included in the project.

- Warner and Oakland streets: The projects will include water main and road replacement. A one-eighth mile piece of Warner that connects Farmington's historic neighborhood to Grand River will receive a spruce up, including brick pavers, landscaping and lighting.

Livonia

Crews will patch concrete in east-bound and westbound lanes of 5.7 miles of Schoolcraft Road in Livonia from mid August to early September in preparation for the I-96 shutdown next year. Schoolcraft will have only one lane open for motorists next year while construction on the freeway and bridge overpasses is completed. One lane will be used by contractors to move trucks and construction vehicles around the various sites on I-96 and the overpasses.

Family, friends welcome new priests

By Mary Quinley
Correspondent

Local residents were among three men ordained May 18 into the Catholic priesthood.

The Most Rev. Allen H. Vigneron, archbishop of Detroit, celebrated the Mass and the Rite of Ordination at the Cathedral of the Most Blessed Sacrament which welcomed the Rev. James Grau of Livonia, the Rev. Marko Djonovic of Farmington Hills and the Rev. Patrick Gonyeau of Harper Woods as priests of the Roman Catholic Church.

The Rite of Ordination is what "makes" one a priest and takes place within the context of the Catholic Mass. The bishop lays his hands upon each candidate (followed by all priests present), before offering the consecratory prayer, invoking the power of the Holy Spirit upon those being ordained.

Following the ordination, a reception was held on the grounds of the cathedral. The next day, each new priest said his first Mass and then gathered with well-wishers to celebrate.

Here are some highlights of the solemn occasion from the two local men who were ordained and their families and friends.

Rev. James Grau

As a kid, priesthood was "definitely one of several things" that Grau considered.

"It wasn't really until college that I knew I wanted to be a priest," said Grau, 28, who graduated in 2000 from St. Michael the Archangel Catholic School in Livonia. His mother, Julie Grau, credits the Felician sisters at the school for their dedication in helping to foster her son's Catholic education.

Detroit Archbishop Allen H. Vigneron (center) presides at the Cathedral of the Most Blessed Sacrament in Detroit at the Rite of Ordination for Catholic priests May 18. Lying on the steps, praying, are the three men who were ordained. From left are the Rev. Marko Djonovic of Farmington Hills, the Rev. Patrick Gonyeau of Harper Woods and the Rev. James Grau of Livonia.

In 2004, Grau graduated from the University of Detroit Jesuit High School. After graduation, he attended Sacred Heart Major Seminary in Detroit and then transferred to the North American College in Rome, where he is currently earning the equivalent of a master's degree (called a "licentiate") in biblical theology. This summer, Grau will assist at Holy Name Catholic Church in Birmingham as a diocesan priest. He will then return to Rome in the fall to complete his studies.

"To be chosen to study in Rome is a great honor," said the Rev. William Tindall, pastor of St. Michael Catholic Church. "The decision is based on the student's academic abilities, his spiritual development and his level of maturity."

Last Sunday, the St. Michael's family welcomed Grau back to his home parish.

"It was pretty incredible celebrating Mass at St. Michael's — somewhere that I was very familiar with, where I grew up," said Grau, who lived in Livonia for 23 years.

"It is always an honor for a parish when one of its own is ordained to the priesthood. It is also an honor for his family, because vocations are most often grounded in the faith and love of a family. Everything about (his first) Mass spoke to the faith of those present and the faith that motivated Jim to serve the church," Tindall said.

Therese Marshall of Livonia lives next door to the Grau family. She remembers "Jimmy" as "rather reserved with that infectious grin. He was polite, playful and respectful — took his older brother role seriously, maybe the precursor of developing that 'fatherhood role' he spoke of at his reception."

His parents, Jim and

The newly-ordained Rev. Marko Djonovic, and his mother, Maria Djonovic, both of Farmington Hills, welcomed family and friends at the reception on the grounds of the Cathedral of the Most Blessed Sacrament in Detroit May 18.

Julie Grau, and his siblings, David, Laura and Renee, reside in Livonia.

"I am proud that Jim took the step to priesthood so confidently. He dove right in — he knows what God wants," Julie Grau said.

"We feel like our job is done and Jim is now in God's hands," his dad Jim said.

Rev. Marko Djonovic

A man with "a sense of humor who laughs at himself, passionate about his life, always open to learning and very humble," said the Rev. Mark Brauer, pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows in Farmington, referring to Djonovic. "He loves the Lord — it shows in how he lives his life."

Prior to becoming a deacon, Djonovic was assigned to OLS as an intern. After the internship, he completed his deacon studies at Sacred Heart Major Seminary and returned to the parish. He has earned bachelor of philosophy, bachelor of sacred theology and master of divinity degrees. Last Sunday, Djonovic celebrated his first Mass as a priest at OLS.

"It was beautiful," said Brauer, who was a celebrant with the new priest.

"I'm overwhelmed by God's goodness towards me," said Djonovic, 34. Becoming a Catholic priest "is very humbling, a privilege and a joy. ... It entails responsibility which I embrace. For many years, I attended Mass. And then, to celebrate Mass as a priest was unbelievable. By far, the highlight (of the weekend) was celebrating Mass."

Djonovic attended Dunkel Middle School and North Farmington High School in Farmington Hills. He also studied at Oakland Community College and Madonna University in Livonia.

His parents, Maria and Frano Djonovic of Farmington Hills, and his three siblings, Ana Djonovic of Los Angeles, Kristina Berger of West Bloomfield and Jozef Djonovic of Farmington Hills, were present for the weekend

"My parents came to this blessed country from Montenegro (in the former Yugoslavia) with very little money and with practically no education. They worked very hard, suffered and sacrificed much for their children. My mother was the spiritual rock of our

Immediately after, Djonovic said he "was strongly moved to thank and praise God and to thank and honor my parents."

On July 1, he will be assigned to St. Joseph Catholic Church in Lake Orion as associate pastor.

OUR VIEWS

Wayne needs to educate citizens about fiscal woes

The city of Wayne is at a crossroads. The council last week approved a balanced budget for fiscal 2013-2014, but officials say the city will face a deficit in 2014-2015 with no money available to shore up finances.

Wayne - like every community in Michigan - has been hit hard by the economic downturn. Property values have plummeted and so has the revenue generated by property taxes. In 2009, a mill raised $630,000, today it's $380,000. Six years ago, the city budget was $22.8 million, today it is at $16.8 million.

The city has a plan to ease the pressure on the budget. It plans to ask voters to approve a 7-mill tax levy for 10 years that would fund a P.A. 345 plan to pay for police and fire pensions and retiree medical costs. The amount of millage levied each year would be the amount required to fund the retirement plan based on actuarial calculations. If approved, the millage would generate $2.6 million annually and cover the legacy costs that are currently paid for through the city's general fund.

Mayor Al Haidous has said the city is trying to protect vital services. Moving the city's legacy costs out of the general fund would provide some breathing room to do that. But he and other city officials are hesitant to offer voters much more in the way of information beyond that. Several residents have questioned what the plan is, if voters say no. The mayor has indicated plans A and B are to have residents tell him what to do.

The mayor also has pointed out that "the community always comes through with what the city needs to serve them." Certainly, that was the case when voters approved a millage to repair the city's streets and sidewalks several years ago, but that was in somewhat better times. For many, even with the depressed value of their homes, another 7 mills may be just too much to bear.

That's why it is important for city officials to fully inform residents what the problem is and how it can be solved. They have to know the potential benefits of voting yes and the consequences of voting no. That can't happen if city officials plan to wait until after the vote to come up a fallback plan.

Ask any person about a big ticket purchase and they will tell you that they weigh the pros and cons before making a final decision. They get the facts and then make a decision. Telling residents, the millage is needed isn't enough. Wayne residents need know the specifics.

Wayne officials should take heed of what Garden City did last year when it asked voters to approve 3.5-mill levy for four years to fund police and fire services. Garden City officials launched a series of town hall meetings to educate residents about the city's fiscal problems, the tax request and what would happen if it was approved or denied. Whether residents were for or against the millage, they had the necessary facts to make an informed decision. In the end, the millage was approved by a 2-1 vote.

Certainly, there is fiscal uncertainty and concern about declining property values and the changes in personal property taxes, but it is better to make plans now, even if they are tentative ones, rather than later. Maybe Eleanor Roosevelt said it best: "It takes as much energy to wish as it does to plan."

Warn teens about underage drinking

Graduation season are upon us. John Glenn and Wayne Memorial High School are holding graduation ceremonies Saturday, and Garden City High School will hold its commencement June 7.

Now to talk your teens about the dangers of underage drinking.

Kids may hear the message at school. For example, members of Students Against Destructive Decisions at Wayne Memorial held a Grim Reaper Day, who called out students to join them as part of a reminder that alcohol and driving don't mix.

But teens need to hear the message at home too.

Contrary to popular opinion, kids actually do listen to their parents even more so than to their friends. Research shows parental disapproval is the No. 1 reason teens choose not to drink.

Even if they don't do everything as they should, teens want to know their parents love them enough to talk to them about underage drinking.

Don't just have the conversation once. An important topic like this bears repeating. Make sure they understand clearly that you won't tolerate any drinking at all - even if they aren't driving.

According to MADD, underage drinking contributes to the death of approximately 5,000 young people every year. It's not just fatal car crashes. It's also binge drinking, getting into fights, accepting dares and other risky behaviors kids get involved with when their judgment is impaired.

If you host a party for teens, make it clear that alcohol and any other drugs are strictly prohibited. If you host a party in your home, lock your liquor cabinet - and your medicine cabinet to keep prescription medications out of reach.

Chaperone the party, keeping an eye on what kids bring in. Don't let guests sneak into other rooms of the house like bedrooms or the garage.

Call the parents of any guest who brings alcohol or other drugs to the party, or if he or she appears to be under the influence. Remember that you would want to be called by another parent if it were your child who showed up drunk.

If you serve alcohol at your teen's graduation party, make sure no one under age 21 has access to it. Have a responsible adult serve all alcoholic drinks.

If your child wants to go to a party, call the party hosts in advance to make sure drinking won't be permitted and the party will have adult supervision.

Check in with your child throughout the night and when he or she gets home. If you go out for the evening, let your teen know where you will be and how you can be reached.

Have a "code" phrase your teen can say to you over the phone or text to you that means he or she wants to be picked up from a party where alcohol and drugs are being used or other risky behaviors are going on. Do not push for an explanation.

Set a good example. If you drink, be responsible and limit the number of alcoholic beverages you consume.

Host alcohol-free events for other adults in your home. Let teens see that people can have fun without drinking.

Do everything you can to prevent an underage drinking tragedy. Graduation season should be a time for happy memories, not sad ones.

LETTERS

Library closing is frustrating

As a lifelong library user and supporter of the Westland library, it dismays me to have write this letter. The residents of the city of Westland finally get back to regular patron hours at the library in April (eight months after the millage passed) and this Memorial Day holiday weekend brings a service issue to light.

I drove to the library Friday night to return some books. The drive-up bins were locked for the Memorial holiday weekend (hard to believe that they would get filled up, but ...) and there was a sign posted to use the bins in the building wall.

I drove back around the circle, turned off my car and locked it as it was after hours. I walked up to the return bins in the wall (which say "locked while the library is open"). The media one was locked and so was the one for books and the library wasn't open!

This was extremely frustrating. I wasted my time and gas because I wasn't able to return the books. I looked to see if there was any special posting about the inability to return items - there was a flier, not predominately displayed, only stating that the library would be closed Friday, Saturday and Sunday for the holiday (and not mentioning anything about all the return bins being locked) and no phone number to report any issues.

I sent an email this weekend to the library director, Sheila Collins, but received an "out of office" reply. I searched and searched the website, but other than seeing a listing of the names of the library board members, there were no email addresses for the library Board of Trustee members.

LPS grateful for support

The LPS community gave its stamp of approval to the May 7 proposal made by the school district to make important improvements to its school facilities.

The bond proposal will allow the school district to improve each classroom throughout the school district by replacing windows, heating/air handling systems, lighting, flooring, electrical, P.A. and phone systems; along with adding new whiteboards, furniture and technology. With these improvements, our classrooms will be transformed into modern, 21st century learning environments, providing staff and students the tools they need to provide a high-quality education.

In addition, we are excited to improve key common areas that are 40 to 60 years old, including fine arts auditoriums and classrooms, cafeterias and entrance ways. The district is also now positioned to make safety improvements through entrance ways and equipment.

We are so grateful for the community's support. This was a significant request and we recognize the sizable investment being made. We truly believe this will be a significant boost for our community. Bringing in $195 million of investment over the next several years will renew and revitalize our pride in our schools and that impacts all of us here within the LPS borders. The staff is so excited to see the work begin. This will truly be a point of pride for all of us, as we look to attract and retain families.

This is the culmination of several years of planning and effort to live our district's vision where "we see a school district with facilities that are updated and well-maintained, with cutting-edge technology and equipment."

Again, from a grateful school community, thank you.

Vizzy's is great

One of (Canton's) local businesses deserve recognition. The owners of Vizzy's Pizza, Paul and Sheila, are two of the most amazing people in our community. I am honored to have two special people in and around our community.

Every fundraiser they hear about, they jump right in without hesitation. The drive they put together for family and friends of our fallen firefighter continues to show the amazing support this business provides to the community.

When I mean community, they step in Canton, Dearborn, Wayne, Westland and all the other communities around. They have given back the meaning of "family." We all stand together as one.

I cannot thank them enough for everything they have given back to the community and I feel they should be given recognition for all of their hard work and support.

Walkers, runners put sole into helping Parkinson foundation

By M.B. Dillon
Correspondent

If you're game Sunday, June 2, for some fitness fun and philanthropy to benefit those fighting Parkinson's disease, consider entering the Michigan Parkinson Foundation Walkathon & 5K Run at Northville High School.

This year's "I Gave My Sole for Parkinson's" event commemorates the foundation's 30th anniversary, and will honor special guests including Westland's Ruth Ann Butler, facilitator of the Livonia/Western Wayne Support Group and one of this year's honorary chairpersons. Proceeds will help fund programs and services for patients and their families.

"Parkinson's disease is a chronic neurological condition affecting more than 30,000 individuals – and growing – in Michigan," said Debby Orloff, chief executive officer of the foundation. "Our focus at the Michigan Parkinson Foundation is to give every person with Parkinson's and related disorders responsive, compassionate quality care and support."

Register on race day beginning at 9:30 a.m. at the high school, 45700 Six Mile east of Beck Road. Entry fee is $25 for 5K runners; $20 for walkers aged 13 and up, and $15 for walkers 12 and under. The walk/run begins at 11 a.m. Walkers will complete any distance they choose on the track. Runners, after a lap on the track, will do a loop through the neighborhood. Age-group awards will be given, and $100 prizes will go to the top male and female 5K runners. Strollers, wheelchairs, and dogs are welcome.

Participants filled the track at Northville High School for last year's Michigan Parkinson Foundation Walkathon and 5K Run. Supporters are urged to return to this year's event Sunday, June 2.

In addition to Butler, honorary chairpersons include Larry Bauer and Raymond T. Bauer, M.D., sons of the late Dr. Raymond B. Bauer, founder of the foundation; Livonia Treasurer Dennis Wright; State Rep. Vicki Barnett, D-Farmington Hills; Northville Township Trustee Marvin Gans; and Connie Spiteri.

Orloff said Butler is being honored for years of hard work.

"Ruth is a nurse educator, mother of six, grandmother of 12, and great-grandmother of two. She was a care partner for her late husband, Pierce Butler, who had Parkinson's, for almost 40 years," said Orloff. "Ruth started volunteering at MPF's offices around 1989."

"She's a strong advocate for patients and families. She created a book of writings of children whose parents have Parkinson's. She leads monthly meetings for the Livonia/Western-Wayne Support Group. And she continues to think up new ideas to help people cope with Parkinson's," added Orloff.

Butler said she is humbled, and thankful to all those who help. "They enable the support groups to assist anyone, anywhere, in any city no matter how small or how big. People diagnosed with Parkinson's can call down to the foundation office, and anyone in this vicinity can call me. People need to talk to somebody who knows something about the disease. Support groups – and I emphasize the word 'support' – offer education, fellowship, doctor referrals, and information. We are not a money-making organization. There is no charge to join our group."

Wright was named an honorary chairman to recognize "the tremendous job he does, living with Parkinson's every day in his job as a public figure," said Orloff. "Dennis was diagnosed 10 years ago, and continues to be active, holding a very visible office in the city of Livonia, interacting with people every day and having to use his expertise and knowledge."

"I feel for people who have it," said Wright. "There are people out there so much worse than myself. The best thing I can tell them is don't give up."

Wright hopes to do the walk, and says he appreciates runners' and walkers' help.

"The more research money the closer you get to a cure for it," he said.

Zebras earn stripes in shootout, 1-0

By Brad Emons
Observer Staff Writer

Wins were hard to come by this season for the Wayne Memorial girls soccer team, but Tuesday's 1-0 shootout victory over rival Westland John Glenn definitely will rank as the highlight of the Zebras' 2013 campaign.

The two teams fought to a scoreless draw through 80 minutes of regulation play, followed by a pair of 10-minute overtimes in the opening round of the Division 1 district tournament.

And that's when Wayne first-year coach Jason Dean decided to make a surprising goalkeep-er change.

"We had a penalty kick shootout in an earlier preseason tournament," Dean said. "Nikki (Tolentino) is a little inexperienced and Shaelyn (Wojewski) is probably the most athletic girl I have, so I thought she'd be the right fit. And heck, she stopped four out of five, so that was a good fit for her."

The freshman couldn't stop Sydney Climie's leadoff attempt, but wouldn't let the Rockets find the back of the net on their next four attempts, which included two key stops — one against Kaitlyn Mitchell, which she tipped over the top of the crossbar, the other with a sprawling save on Evelyn Acerrano.

"She usually plays center back from me and she did a heck of a job in that last five shots for sure," Dean said of the ninth-grader.

Wayne, however, didn't score on its first two attempts against Glenn keeper Jenna Redden, but made good on its third when Crystal Fletcher put one into the left side.

And after Wojewski made Marissa Edwards miss on Glenn's fourth attempt, junior Amber Parrish sealed the deal, putting one into the upper right corner to end the stalemate.

"Actually I told them they had to be going bottom right all five kicks," said Dean, whose team improved to 5-11-1 overall. "We looked at the game and only one of five went bottom right. You try and compose them, but when you get in that situation they're so amped up. They're going out there to just shoot the ball."

The Rockets hit the crossbar once in the second half and Kendra Pennington's free kick late in the second OT glanced off the outside left post, followed by an Edwards attempt with 1:40 remaining that grazed the top of the crossbar.

Taylor twins reach Final 4

The Grand Valley State University softball team, featuring junior twins Briauna and Brittany Taylor (Livonia Franklin), completed a historic season by finishing 46-9 overall and reaching the Final Four of the NCAA Division II World Series in Salem, Va.

The ninth-ranked Lakers were eliminated Sunday in the semifinal by Kutztown (Pa.) State, 7-2, after posting victories Saturday over Molloy, 5-2, and Texas Women's University, 8-4.

Kutztown also beat GVSU in the tourney opener Thursday, 3-1.

Briauna Taylor, a starting shortstop, hit .331 this season with three homers and 22 RBI in 42 games. She went 2-for-4 with an RBI in the win over Texas Women's University.

Brittany Taylor, a starting left fielder, appeared in all 55 Lakers games, hitting .234.

On May 18, Briauna Taylor drove in Brittany with the game-winning run in the bottom of the sixth inning to beat No. 1-ranked and host University of Indianapolis, 3-2, in the Midwest Super Regional championship game.

Patriots make it respectable

State power Novi wins, 4-0

By Brad Emons
Observer Staff Writer

Livonia Franklin didn't get any breaks by drawing one of the state's top soccer programs in Tuesday's opening round of the Division 1 district tournament.

The Patriots, who surprised 17-1 Garden City in last year's district final at Woodhaven, had the monumental task of facing perennial state power Novi, which has captured five state championships since 2005.

The 5-12-1 Patriots, however, made a respectable showing before falling 4-0 to the visiting Wildcats, the KLAA Central Division champs and Kensington Conference runners-up to No. 1-ranked Plymouth.

Novi, 14-2-2 overall, scored all four of its goals during the first half to advance to Thursday's district semifinal at Livonia Stevenson, where they will face rival Northville.

Senior Erin Dircks scored twice, while Katrina Koomen and Kelly Cauchi each added a goal for the Wildcats.

Taylor Pavlika contributed two assists, while Natalie Krygier and Jessie Parvana added one each.

"Novi is a phenomenal team, one of the best teams, along with Plymouth, that we've seen all year," Franklin coach Dean Kowalski said. "I thought we played really hard. I was happy come-

Plymouth seizes KLAA golf crown

By Tim Smith
Staff Writer

Like a well-armed caddie, Plymouth boys golf coach Nick Brandon has plenty of options at his disposal — all of them pretty darn good.

Such was the case again at Tuesday's KLAA Kensington Conference tournament at Salem Hills Golf Club in Northville.

Four of Brandon's golfers broke the 80-mark — with senior Kyle Rodes shooting 71 to share medalist honors with Northville's Andrew Sarokin — to spark the Wildcats to a first-place total of 299 to lead the 12-school field.

Plymouth edged the Mustangs (307), followed by defending champion Novi (312), Livonia Stevenson (319), South Lyon (320), Canton (321) and Livonia Churchill (322).

"I'm extremely proud of the guys," said Brandon, the Wildcats' first-year coach.

"I think today is one of those days where you learn about the depth of your team.

"When you play six and count four, having that sixth player is something that can help your team tremendously."

On a day where the 12 teams had to stop play for about 45 minutes due to rain, Brandon's sixth man was junior Kyle Melnick — who finished with 76 to tie for seventh.

"We chose Kyle Melnick, based on the way he's played and all he did today was go out and shoot a 76," Brandon said. "When your No. 6 player can do that, it speaks to the depth of your program, it speaks to the work ethic these guys have had all year and it resulted in a monumental win for our program. I couldn't be more proud of the guys."

According to Rodes, who was his usual razor-sharp self, his focus was on "greens in regulation, just trying to hit

MU's Graves signs cager

Madonna University women's basketball coach Carl Graves announced the signing Tuesday of Gibraltar Carlson guard Sarah Carlson, who was named Monroe County Player of the Year and holds the school's career scoring mark with 1,068 points.

The 5-foot-8 Carlson, an honor roll student, is a three-time All-Downriver League and team MVP.

"Sarah will be a wonderful addition to the MU program," said Graves, who guided the Crusaders to their third 20-win season in 2012-13. "Athletically, she has the ability to score the basketball and defend in the open floor."

Blazers roll 12-0 in district opener

Warriors boot Cristo Rey

Senior Brenna Wright collected three goals and two assists Tuesday as top-ranked Livonia Ladywood cruised to a 12-0 Division 2 district girls soccer victory over visiting Detroit Renaissance.

The Blazers, who improved to 18-2-2 overall, scored all 12 goals in the opening half.

They also got two goals from Sarah Bloem, three assists from Carlee Faber and one goal and two assists from Kennedi Bullard.

Goalkeepers Sara Even, Whitney Bauriedl and Abby Pelon combined for the team's 12th shutout of the season.

The Warriors led 4-0 at halftime on unassisted goals by Michelle Greening, Sadie Schultz, Claire Oppenlander and Benner.

In the second half, Christa Kasprovicz scored on a rebound and Benner finished the scoring off an assist from Katie Schnaltz.

Goalkeeper Angela Morrison posted the shutout. "We did a good job controlling the game and moved the

N.D. PREP 7, C'VILLE 0: In a Division 3 district opener Tuesday, Taylor Timko notched an assist as host Pontiac Notre Dame Prep (16-2-2) ousted Livonia Clarenceville (6-9-2).

Gabriella Galloway also scored twice, while Francesca Accurso and Hannah Zapczynski added solo tallies as the Fighting Irish advanced to Thursday's district semifinal to face host Beverly Hills Detroit Country Day.

Clarenceville goalkeeper Brianna Tuuri-Cesarz made 40 saves.

"We played well and defensively did all we could the whole game," Clarenceville coach Amanda Moody said. "Summer Reddick, Grace King, Amal Musleh, Ashley Murphy and Tristyn Bean battled it out on defense. Brianna was unbelievable in net."

STEVENSON 4, FARMINGTON 0: On Tuesday, host Livonia Stevenson (9-8-3) tallied three second-half goals to put away the Falcons (2-10-4) in the first round of the Division 1 district tournament.

Sari Rakowicz got on the end of a beautiful through ball from Katelyn Foster and dinked it over the Farmington goalkeeper to open the scoring just two minutes into the match.

And although the Spartans were able to keep up the pressure, they were unable to extend their lead after 40 minutes.

Westland Huron Valley Lutheran slipped on its hitting shoes Tuesday to sweep a girls softball doubleheader from visiting Sterling Heights Parkway Christian, 19-7 and 14-4.

The Hawks, who improved to 14-7 overall, finish third in the Blue Division of the Michigan Independent Athletic with a 7-5 mark entering Saturday's Division 4 district matchup at home against rival Lutheran High Westland. (Game time is 10 a.m.)

Both games went only five innings because of

In the opener, junior Emma Bogenschutz led the way going 2-for-2 with two walks, three RBI and four runs scored.

Another junior, Sarah Setian, went 2-for-3 with three RBI.

In the nightcap, sophomore Nikki Alcini was 2-for-3 with a walk and two RBI, while winning pitcher Dayna Schroeder, a junior, was 2-for-2 with a pair of walks and one RBI.

Schroeder scattered seven hits, hit one batter and walked two.

She also won the first game allowing eight hits and one walk with two strikeouts.

DEARBORN 10, C'VILLE 0: On May 22, winning pitcher Victoria Coleman allowed just one hit and struck out 13 in a five-inning mercy rule victory over visiting Livonia Clarenceville (11-13).

Emily Schwartz (7-11), the victim of five errors, took the loss for the Trojans.

Katie Konchal and Rachel Renko each had an RBI, while Amy Wensley singled twice and scored a run.

"That's why you play the game," Glenn coach Ralph Cabildo said. "Anything can happen defensively. We did have several opportunities. It was one of those games where we didn't have one that went in. When you get to a shootout, anything can happen, like it did."

The third-year Glenn coach tried to keep things loose entering the shootout.

"When you're going into PKs, you've got to have fun with it and not put any pressure on yourselves," Cabildo said. "It's hard, they're high school girls, but you've still got to be proud of them. When the PKs come, basically the question comes: 'Who wants to take one?' And we had exactly five girls that asked to take them. You're glad that you have five girls that want to step up. That's what you normally do."

Wayne, meanwhile, had gone 0-1-1 in two previous meetings with the Rockets.

"We tied them 2-2 the first game and we lost 4-2 the second time, so we know they have a little more talent than we have," Dean said. "It was just a matter of holding strong for the 80 minutes and we were lucky to do it another 20 minutes. Past that, it turned in our favor shootout time."

Dean's defensive strategy targeted one player in particular.

"The defensive four ... and Katie Kuder marked their best offensive player ... Sydney Climie," he said. "So we knew if we took her out of the game, eliminated her and most of the action, that we'd have a legit shot. Before you know it, Katie did a heck of a job on her kept her out of the backline."

For Glenn (7-9-2), it was a disappointing finish to the season after a fast start.

"It was an up-and-down season for us this year," Cabildo said. "Next year — at least with these girls — I would like to see more work off-season. We always come into the season not prepared. They're not in shape. That will be something we'll work on. When they turn in their uniforms, we'll tell them to come back ready to go at a higher level. The speed of play is what they need to try to learn, if anything."

In last year's district final at Woodhaven, Dean was on the other end of a shootout setback when his 17-1 Garden City team was ambushed by underdog Livonia Franklin.

"Trust me, this is bringing back memories," he said. "Same kind of thing. You get all amped up — we made only one of five last year — and before you know it, you lose the district."

And it will certainly be a huge undertaking Thursday in the district semifinal at Canton, when the Zebras take on KLAA South Division, Kensington Conference and KLAA Association champion Plymouth (18-0-1), the state's No. 1-ranked team in Division 1. Game time is 5 p.m.

as many greens and make as many putts as I could." The weather had no bearing on his approach, he stressed.

"Rain doesn't bother me," Rodes said. "It made that course a little softer. I kind of like when it rains because then I think the other people's scores are going to go higher, so I try to go lower to stand out."

Other Plymouth standouts included junior Evan Chipman (tied for third, 73) and junior John Tatti (tied for 13th, 79) as the top 18 finishers earned all-KLAA honors.

Brandon said the rain delay actually helped his team, which finished 10-0 during the dual-meet season, to get untracked.

"We had a chance to settle down," he said. "There were other schools I could see that were off to hot starts. We started steady, but we weren't to our potential by any means the first few holes. It gave us a chance to regroup."

Stevenson was led by junior Eric Attard and senior Austin Harris, both whom shot 76 to tie for seventh place and earn All-KLAA honors.

"It was a good round for both them," Stevenson first-year coach Dave Higham said. "They finished the round with a couple of bogeys, but they had a good round going considering the rain delay and all of that."

Eric Marsh added a 22nd-place finish with 82 and Michael Blaesser was 36th with 85 to round out the Spartans' four-player scoring contingent.

"After the rain delay, the course dried out pretty good," Higham said. "But we fell short of our expectations a little bit. Obviously our goal was to win it, so we fell a little short of it. I think the rain delay kind of hurt us. A couple of guys struggled after the rain delay."

Churchill, meanwhile, boasted three all-conference honorees in Brian Sexton, Doug Simpson and Alec Kondrath. Each registered 80 to tie for 15th.

Both Churchill and Stevenson returned to action Wednesday in first leg of the MHSAA Division 1 district tournament, with the Spartans headed to Huron Meadows and the Chargers going to Lakes of Taylor.

Bucks lose in Canton Cup on fluke goal

By Evan Paputa
Correspondent

Everything was going as planned for the Michigan Bucks as they were maintaining 1-0 lead in the closing minutes of their sixth-annual Canton Cup game played at Independence Park.

But in a span of five minutes, the visiting River City Rovers from Louisville, Ky. scored the equalizer and the 2-1 game-winner in extra time.

Just 45 seconds into extra time, Peter May launched a free kick from 60 yards away that fooled Bucks goalie Adam Grinwis. The ball soared high and appeared to be going wide right, but the wind pulled it back and sent it in the back of the net leaving even May speechless.

"That was the luckiest thing ever," May said. "I was honestly looking to play it in to our center-forward John Manga but the wind took it and the next thing I know I look up and my teammates are running towards me."

Neither Dylan Terry nor Mustaf Warsame started the game for the Rovers, who are now 1-1-1 in the Premier Development League's Great Lakes Division. But in the final minutes of the second half, they made their mark.

The equalizer came with only 2:06 left to play. Substitutes Terry and Warsame connected to tie the game up. Terry sent a crisp pass in to the box where Warsame slid the shot past Grinwis.

After regulation was over, the referees awarded four minutes of extra time. In the first 30 seconds, the Bucks had a corner kick, but couldn't beat Taylor Hafling a second time and the ball came out of the Rovers box, setting up the 70 yard May goal.

The Bucks scored the first goal of the game on a set piece, something they have been working a lot on early in the season.

Drew Ruggles sent a free kick from the left side about 30 yards in to the box where Nick Walker's head deflected it. As Walker's header was rolling for out of bounds past the right post, Zach Steinberger was there to redirect it past the Rover goalie Hafling.

"We worked on set pieces earlier this week. The big man is supposed to head it across the goal," Steinberger said. "It went to the far post. I knew the ball was coming so I looped around and I lost my defender and got to the spot."

Hafling fought off several Bucks scoring chances all game. But he couldn't help but wonder when his team would get their chance as they had only scored one goal in the first three games of the young season.

"I knew it was just about time for us to put one in the back of the net," Hafling said. "We were more defensive-minded this game and we tried get the ball out of our end."

It was not all smiles for the Bucks, who slipped to 1-1.

Defender Kevin Cope was pleased with the Bucks' efforts, but knows his team let one get away.

"We had a pretty solid game; we stayed connected across the back four and midfield. But unfortunately we got broken down at the end of the game. It was not pretty; hopefully we can make up for it next time."

Bucks captain and 2009 Salem graduate Cope praised the Canton Cup and was thrilled to see the fan turnout, especially in the youth.

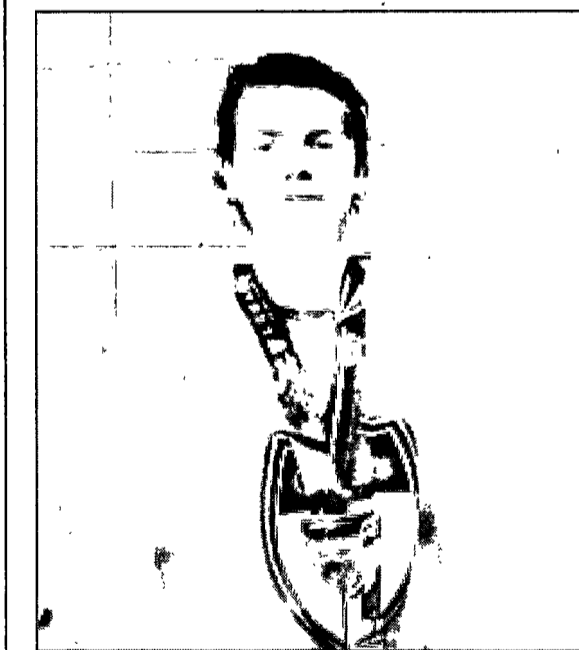

"It is a great experience at the Canton Cup, having a lot of the young kids out watching our game," Cope said. "It is a pretty high level of play for them to see. Hopefully they learned something. That's what it's all about; getting the kids involved."

At Salem, Cope became just the third defender to ever win Mr. Soccer in the state of Michigan. He went on to play at Michigan State where he will be a redshirt senior in the fall.

The Bucks return to action 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Pontiac's Ultimate Soccer Arenas when they face Kitchener-Waterloo United F.C.

Marygrove signee

Jake Barham (front row, left), who averaged 11.8 points and 9.0 rebounds his senior year (2011-12) en route to third-team All-Observer honors at Livonia Franklin, recently signed an NAIA letter-of-intent to play basketball at Marygrove College. In attendance for the signing was (counter clockwise, front row) Marygrove head coach Dave Sichterman, assistant coach Greg Thomas and Barham's parents, Jeff and Elizabeth. "Jake is a big physical presence that plays with sound fundamentals and has a great touch around the basket," Sichterman said. "Being out a year, I think Jake will be hungry and motivated to play in 2013-14. If Jake continues to work on his strength and footwork, he will have an impact on our team very soon."

LAW OFFICE OF JACK W. BOLLING, P.C. 248-684-9742 • www.jackbollinglaw.com

An avid history buff, Milford attorney Jack W. Bolling is passionate about keeping the past alive for future generations.

He is just as interested in preserving your family's legacy by helping you make decisions that will keep your memory alive through your children and grandchildren.

As an estate/legacy planner, Bolling has trademarked his approach to the estate planning process and accompanying legal services as Legacy LifeLines™. This process includes three steps: 1) counseling and plan design; 2) funding of the revocable living trust; and 3) an on-going maintenance plan that is unique to Bolling's practice.

Bolling encourages his clients to think beyond their financial matters and look into their own life's fulfillment by asking themselves questions like: What really matters most to me? What would I really like to accomplish? What legacy do I really want to leave behind?

These important life questions are all the more reason that Bolling has expanded his practice to include Medicaid planning.

He believes that estate planning and Medicaid planning go hand in hand.

"Through proper planning, it is possible to provide for your long-term care while preserving assets for you and your loved ones," Bolling said. "Why should you give up something that you've worked your whole life for when your spouse becomes ill?"

Bolling is also an accredited VA attorney and can help people who have either served or whose family member has served in the U.S. military. "There are many veterans' programs available, but you need to know who to ask and what to ask," Bolling said. "I am the person who can help you sort through these issues."

While helping people on a one-to-one basis with their legacy planning, Bolling reaches an even broader audience as a guest columnist for Gannett Newspapers, including The Milford Times. He is also a guest speaker for many local groups and organizations.

With a deep respect and passion for history, Bolling is pleased that his practice is now housed in a 130-year old Victorian home at 334 Union St. in downtown Milford, which has been renovated to the period of time in which it was built.

Original pine wood planked floors, a cupola, winding staircases, tall ceilings and etched glass front doors are just a few of the features that drew Bolling to this location in November 2008.

"History comes alive to me while conducting my practice in this historic home," Bolling said. "It gives me a sense of the past and a vision for the future — exactly what I want to bring to my clients."

Hear blues, rock, classical music and more at outdoor community concerts

By Sharon Dargay
Staff Writer

"Music is in the Air" at Plymouth's Kellogg Park — and T-shirts soon will be, too.

Plymouth Downtown Development Authority, which presents the popular, free summer music series, will shoot shirts into the audience at some of its upcoming Friday night concerts.

"They have the Music in the Air logo on front and on back, a concert schedule and the logos of all our sponsors," said Tony Bruscato, Authority director. "We'll shoot some off with compressed air guns. We're doing something new this year. If folks come out to the concerts, they might get a T-shirt."

"It's also a good thing for our sponsors," Bruscato added. "Without them there would be no way to have a series like this. There are a lot of communities that have concert series, but none go 14 free concerts. It takes a lot of money to do it and we're fortunate to have them."

The Bluescasters kicked off the series — and the local outdoor concert season — Friday, May 24. Bruscato said cool, overcast weather didn't keep music fans away. Wearing coats and jackets, they filled approximately three-quarters of the park. The Crutches, with funk and favorites, is up next. All concerts start at 7 p.m. and are held weather permitting.

"I think we have one of the best line-ups we've ever had," said Bruscato, who works with a music producer to set the schedule. "Annabelle Road (Aug. 16) is one of the hottest country singers around. Steve King and the Dittilies (June 28) draws one of the biggest crowds every year. He is like the official state band."

Hear country music band, Annabelle Road, at the Music is in the Air concert series in Plymouth.

The park will be packed that night. Gia Warner (July 19) has a great voice. Fifty AMP Fuse (July 26) is back after a few years hiatus. When you put it all together it's a pretty good line-up. It doesn't get much better than that."

Lady Sunshine wraps up the season Aug. 30. For a full list of performers, visit downtownplymouth.org.

In the park

Two other concert series also begin next month in Kellogg Park.

The Plymouth Community Arts Council, New Liberty Bank and McCully's Educational Resource Center, present the Music in the Park Children's Concert Series at noon Wednesday, beginning June 19, with Guy Louis. Other performers are Cats & The Fiddler, June 26; Thom Jayne & The Nomads, July 3; Beverly Meyer, The Music Lady, July 10; Harpbeat, July 17; Gemini, July 24; The Kerfluffles, July 31; Gordon Russ the Magician, Aug. 7; Guy Louis' second appearance in the series, Aug. 14; and Joel Tacey, Aug. 21.

Plymouth Community Band will kick off its 53rd outdoor concert season on June 13 in Kellogg Park. Carl Battishill, who conducts the group, says he's unaware of any other community band with a six-week free outdoor summer concert series. Concerts start at 7:30 p.m. June 13, 20, and 27, and July 4, 18 and 25.

"What it has done is give us a faithful audience. They know we're there every Thursday night," Battishill said. "The programs are of a traditional nature. People know they are coming to a semi-classical concert. It gives them a sense of stability to know we'll be there."

The first concert, which has a "British Invasion" theme, will offer Beatles music and classical works. Other music themes include western, South Pacific and patriotic. The band's patriotic concert, held July 4 this year, draws its largest crowd, about 1,000 listeners, every season.

"The concerts are pretty well attended," Battishill said, adding that the band's audience is different from the crowd that attends the Music in the Air series. "We have people who aren't coming for dinner and to socialize, but to hear the music. They come to listen. Our crowd tends to be a little bit older."

Canton concerts

Canton Leisure Services also runs a Thursday night summer concert series and will offer some of the same performers scheduled for Plymouth's Friday night series. Its concerts run 7:30-9 p.m. in the amphitheater at Heritage Park, 46202 Heritage Park Road, Canton.

Canton's lineup: The Crutches, with pop/rock, June 20; The Gia Warner Band, with pop/contemporary, June 27; Motor City Soul, a high energy dance and show band, July 11; Persuasion, from Motown to top 40, July 18; The Randy Brock Group, with rock and classic rock, July 25; Justine Blazer, with country, pop and rock, Aug. 1; and Trilogy, with variety, dance, top 40 and classic rock, Aug. 8.

Canton Color Tour, a live jazz series, brings music to retail centers along Ford Road, Friday, July 5-Aug. 23, and its Backyard Beats concerts, Wednesdays, June 19-24, are held on shared green spaces and in neighborhood parks. For a complete list of scheduled performers and locations, see cantonfun.org.

In Livonia

The Music From the Heart series offers free outdoor concerts sponsored by the Livonia Arts Commission and the Parks and Recreation Department, 7-8:30 p.m. Thursday, on the steps of Livonia City Hall, located at Five Mile and Farmington Road. Performers are: The Paisley Fogg, with 60s rock/pop, July 11; Midnight Special, with 70s music, July 18; Trilogy, with variety, pop and classic rock, July 25; Allan as Tim,

Film festival screens entries outdoors

The 4th annual 3 Minutes in Lyon Film Festival kicks off Friday, May 31 with a free outdoor screening at James P. Atchison Memorial Park in Lyon Township.

The 2013 Lyon Festival will feature newly created three-minute videos by local talent; some student and some adult amateur filmmakers. Over the past four years, more than 70 videos have been created for the festival by filmmakers who are just getting their start in exploring visual arts.

Videos submitted to the 3 Minutes in Lyon Film Festival are submitted, critiqued by television and multimedia professionals and displayed to audiences over the festival weekend.

The festival schedule is:

• Friday, May 31 — Free outdoor screening night. All videos are shown to the public for the first time on a large outdoor inflatable screen.

• Saturday, June 1 — All participants of the 2013 festival are invited to a private reception to meet the festival organizers, other participants, judges and enjoy good food and conversation.

• Sunday, June 2 — Festival awards ceremony, 1 p.m. at the Lyon Theatre in South Lyon. The top videos are recognized and awarded in each category. The Library Choice Award and the Audience Choice Award are presented.

"My goal for this festival has always been to give young people an opportunity to explore and practice their visual arts talents in a local setting," said founder Rich Perry. "Many young people may not realize they have skills as a film director, editor or videographer until they actually begin the film-making process. Access to creating visual content has been made so much easier with video cameras in practically every phone, some in HD, and basic editing software available for free. Anyone with an idea and a desire to tell a story can do so quite easily. The challenge is to make it entertaining and unique."

Another twist to the festival is that the video footage must be shot in the South Lyon and Lyon Township area.

The 2013 festival features several returning producers including Travis and Justin Burgess of South Lyon and Leanne Schultz of Hamtramck, who have participated in all four festivals. This year there are several new producers participating for the first time, as well.

James F. Atchison Memorial Park is located behind the Lyon Township Municipal Center, located at 58000 Grand River Ave., in New Hudson.

Nothing brings people together quite like a neighborhood picnic or family celebration. So, gather up neighbors, friends and family for a celebration of great food and fun.

Keep the food simple. Ask everyone to bring a favorite side dish so you only need to grill up the hamburgers and hot dogs. Of course, you'll also want to whip up a few special treats. What could be better than a popcorn bar? Popcorn is both good and good for you. It's a whole grain food that is not only low in calories but also makes a great addition to many recipes. Because, sometimes, a sweet indulgence is just what you need.

Set out large bowls of popcorn along with shakers of garlic salt, cumin, lemon pepper, dry taco seasoning mix and Parmesan cheese for extra flavor. Add dried fruit, nuts, pretzel sticks, grated cheese and chocolate chips for a make-your-own trail mix option. Complete the popcorn bar with a few sweet surprises like delicious desserts made with freshly popped corn.

Parade of Homes showcases local lifestyle options

Parade of Homes 2013, the 24th annual exhibition of new model homes located across southeastern Michigan, will open on June 1 and run through June 30. Home Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan (HBA) and Bank of America Home Loans sponsor this free public event.

"This is our comeback year," said Sam Palazzolo of Palazzolo Brothers Construction and president of HBA. "Today's buyers are in a unique position to take advantage of still low interest rates and the current market as we move into a better economy."

The Parade of Homes offers potential homebuyers a unique opportunity to visit the area's finest model and inventory homes, including condominiums and single-family homes, affordable housing and estate-sized homes. Visitors to the homes will have an opportunity to see first-hand the latest trends in energy efficiency and green building, architecture, interior design, amenities and materials. The 43 model, under construction and pre-construction homes and condominiums range in base price from $159,990 to $1,600,000.

The homes are built by 21 different builders, all members of HBA. The Parade of Homes includes five attached condominiums, one detached condominium and 37 single-family homes. Four of the homes are pre-construction, so potential homebuyers have the opportunity to work with the builder from the beginning of construction. Another five of the homes are currently under construction. The remainder are built and will be open for visitors beginning June 1.

Architects and industry experts will judge the homes and award blue ribbons in several categories. The judges will make their decisions based on a combination of factors including innovation, aesthetic appeal and value for the price. Judges for this year's program will be Lanny S. Zimmerman, AIA, NCARB of Siegal/Tuomaala

The Bloomfield model by Pinnacle Homes/Farmington Hills is $450,000.

The St. James is by Mocer Companies/Oakland Township, priced at $1,200,000.

Associates; Benedetto Tiseo, FAIA, NCARB of Tiseo Architects, Inc.; Michael J. Gordon, RA of Moiseev/Gordon Associates and Paul Salloum, Retail Sales Manager, of Bank of America Home Loans.

A free Parade of Homes magazine containing photos, renderings, features, hours and location maps for all homes will be distributed within select home delivery of The Detroit News and Detroit Free Press on Sunday, June 2, available at Bank of America locations throughout southeastern Michigan, at select Kroger locations and at all participating model homes beginning June 1. The Parade of Homes website will also be available beginning June 1 at: www.ParadeHBA.com. This is the only Parade of Homes event HBA will sponsor this year.

Headquartered in West Bloomfield, Home Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan and Apartment Association of Michigan are trade associations representing nearly 600 builders, remodelers, multi-family property owners, developers and suppliers to the single family and multi-family residential construction industry. HBA is affiliated with the Home Builders Association of Michigan in Lansing and the National Association of Home Builders in Washington, D.C. Membership nationwide includes more than 150,000 individuals and companies.

Automatic renewal of pact not a plus

By Robert Meisner
Guest Columnist

Q: Our management company wants to enter into a five-year management agreement with our association with a renewal of five years automatic, if not terminated within a certain period. Do you think that is a good idea?

A: No. I think that the management agreement should not necessarily provide an automatic renewal provision since many associations forget to monitor that provision, and a five-years contract sounds too long for any property management company. There should always be, however, even in a five-year contract, an escape clause for the association to extricate itself from the agreement with or without cause. Moreover, the association's attorney should review any management contract before it is signed, and make sure that the attorney reviewing it is not "in bed" with the management company because of financial referrals.

Q: Our property management company in our condominium says that it has a form to use for its contractors that it used in another project, and, that it will save us a lot of money in legal fees. I suspect you don't agree with that, but what is your opinion?

A: Every contract that an association or other entity enters into should be tailored to that particular project. While there may be similar clauses used in each contract, it is imperative that the contract be explicit to the needs of the parties to that contract. It is a false economy for the association to think that it is saving money by a managing agent arguably practicing law and, at the same time, potentially causing the association to incur liability in a future contract dispute. The association should make sure that it has its attorney review any major contracts that it enters into, perhaps in a dollar amount in excess of $5,000.00 plus, and, of course, the management contract itself. That clause might best be set forth in the management agreement with the association.

SUDOKU

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
