Snyder: Medicaid bill will benefit all

Expansion would help many Michiganders

By David Veselenak Staff Writer

Gov. Rick Snyder said he believes the proposed Medi-caid expansion bill approved by the state House is one that affects more than just lowincome residents.

We're talking about helping Michiganders. We're talking about people with a real need," he said. "We're also talking about ourselves. What's the problem? Today we have a broken system."

Snyder brought his Medicaid expansion talk Monday to Livonia, urging an audience of mostly doctors and nurses to contact their state senators and urge for the expansion of the program.

It was one of several stops in the last week the governor has made at health care facilities in order to rally support for the bill, which has stopped in the Senate.

This is something that I thought was critical enough to get out on the road and engage the general public," he said. "Too often, we can let a few people dominate a discussion. The issue we have in front of us is we have a problem with politics."

The expansion, part of the Affordable Care Act, allows states to expand Medicaid to residents earning 133 percent of the poverty level starting in 2014. It would provide full federal financing for those eligible for Medicaid starting in 2014 through 2016, and would go down in financing until 2020, when 90 percent of financing will continue from the federal government.

The House approved the expansion last month, 76-31, with both Democrats and Republicans voting "yes." The Senate did not take up the bill before the summer recess, a move Snyder has criticized.

A work group of six senators appointed by Sen. Majority Leader Randy Richardville, R-Monroe, is slated to meet

Museum wants space in former bomber plant

Seventy-one years later, she's back with a new message and a new purpose: helping the Yankee Air Museum preserve a piece of the history that Doyle has come to represent.

The museum is on a mission to buy 175,000 square feet of the former Willow Run bomber plant where more than 8,600 B-24 Liberator bombers were built. Acquiring the building would be a dream come true for the museum. The factory space is four times the size of its current museum and large enough inside to house all of its planes, except the massive B-52.

The only things standing in the way are $5 million and an Aug. 1 deadline. "It's exciting; the very concept of bringing everything back together is heaven to us," said Kevin Walsh, exec-utive director of the Yankee Air Museum. "To have the entire collection back under one roof like it was from 1981 through 2004 is paramount." Since April, YAM and the Michigan Aeronautical Foundation, through the SaveTheBomberPlant.org campaign, have been working to raise the $5 million needed to buy the space from RACER, or Revitalizing Automotive Communities Environmental Response, Trust. The trust was created to dispose of properties left after GM's 2009 bankruptcy. RACER has had little interest in the five million-square-foot former GM Powertrain plant and plans to tear it down to open up 300 acres for development.

sometime this summer to discuss the legislation. In a release, Richardville said he does not consider the issue dead and plans to review it.

"A comprehensive plan for a healthy Michigan is critical to the well-being of our population and our state," he said. "I look forward to reviewing their suggestions and sharing that information with my fellow legislators, the governor and the speaker (Jase Bolger, R-Marshall).

Snyder said while he doesn't agree with every aspect of the health care law, more commonly known as Obamacare, approving the expansion in Michigan is important to help save money for hospitals, doctors and patients. He said many people who cannot afford health care will go to a hospital emergency room, a place that's not equipped well enough to handle people with the common cold or other treatable ailments.

"Does anyone know anyone that likes going to the emergency room? The answer is no," he said. "We like the people that are working there because they're angels, they're taking care of us.

"It's a really important place, but it's not a place for primary

Dr. Mohammed Arsiwala, medical director at the St. John Providence urgent care, 37595 Seven Mile, in Livonia, said the expansion is something he hears about regularly from patients who come to the urgent care facility. He said approving the legislation would fulfill a need that would cover plenty of people who can't afford pricey medical care.

"They are always going to have this huge, dark cloud over them. he said of people with high medical bills. "How are they ever going to become solvent? This is an opportunity for us to use federal dollars to get this program going and in four to five years, when the federal money dries up, by then, hopefully, all these expensive ER visits will go down and people will start living healthy."

Snyder has toured several hospitals in the state, including Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. An online forum on the issue was scheduled to be broadcast Monday evening at Schoolcraft College.

David Spivey, CEO of St. Mary Mercy Hospital, said the hospital, as well as the St. Joseph Mercy Health System and Trinity Health, supports the expansion.

'Medicaid expansion is really about three things in the state: to expand access to over 500,000 Michigan residents, to slow increase in health care premiums for employers, as well as to really steward our state resources and our tax dollars," he Arsiwala said the hope is that the cost of health premiums will go down, along with a decreased number of ER visits. With less being spent on ER visits by people who cannot afford them, he said a greater balance of care could be achieved.

"You have to give lower cost and higher quality care," Arsiwala said. "With greater coordination of care between the specialties, between the primary care doctors, between the hospital system.

'This is coming, whether you like it or you don't like it."

Neighbor's knock no substitute for smoke alarms

ust this past week, a fire broke out in a home in Saginaw, just north of us. Although still under investigation, it is believed that a fan with an electrical wiring problem was running in an unoccupied bedroom and is the cause of the blaze. That upstairs bedroom fire started at about 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The mother and her three children were asleep in the house when the fire started. The mother was on the main floor of the home and the children were in bedrooms on the second floor. The mother was awakened when she heard loud knocking on her front door. It seems a man was returning to his home after work and saw neighbors pointing and asking if that was smoke they saw coming from the home on Ruckle Street.

It was smoke and the man quickly went down the street and started beating on the front door to notify the family. The mother was confused when she opened the door and looked upstairs to where the children were. They went up and got all three children out of the house quickly.

While the story did have a somewhat happy ending in that there were no injuries or deaths, there is still plenty of fire and smoke damage to the house. They will be displaced from their home for several months while work is being done.

Let's take a look at some of the actions that may have prevented this tragedy. First, they knew there was an electrical problem with the fan, but they used it anyway. Fans are not that expensive and, if they must be fixed, then they should be fixed before being used. There is no good excuse for using an electrical appliance you know is not functioning as it should be.

In addition, the home lacked any working smoke alarms. Working smoke alarms can give you and your family an early warning of fire and smoke building up in your home. This can give you time to react and get your family out before the fire grows to the point where escape without injury is impos-

Smoke alarms should be on every level of your home, including the basement. They should be tested every month and the batteries replaced every year. Alarms should be installed on the ceiling, or high on a wall in cases of a decorative ceiling. You should have both sensing types of smoke alarms in your home - photoelectric and ionization. They each respond faster to certain types of fires, so having both in your home is important. They also do sell dual-sensing smoke alarms, with both sensing technologies in a single smoke alarm.

Planning on your neighbors seeing smoke and flames issuing from your home and waiting for them to respond by banging on your front door is a poor plan. Install and check your smoke alarms today.

Assault and battery

A 16-year-old Harrison High School student was injured June 26 after he was punched in the face by another student following football practice at the school.

The boy had a swollen eye and a small cut by his right ear after a classmate stopped him as he was leaving practice. The classmate reportedly slugged him because his friend was dating a particular girl.

A physician at Botsford Hospital contacted police June 28 after she received a call from a Dearborn Walgreens drugstore about several fraudulent prescriptions that were presented.

The doctor told police that in 2008 a former employee was investigated for taking prescription pads.

Marijuana arrests

Two Farmington Hills teenagers were arrested for possession of marijuana and a third man for outstanding traffic warrants July 1 in the parking lot of Gill Elementary, 21195 Gill.

As police entered the school parking lot, they saw a car make an effort to leave. Police stopped the car and discovered that the 23-year-old Farmington Hills driver had outstanding traffic warrants. He allowed police to search his car. The occupants got out of the

He said that he parked his 2009 Chevv Tahoe in the southeast corner of the Ace Hardware parking lot at 28715 Ford and went inside.

When he returned, he discovered that someone had stolen the center caps from all four tires. He estimated that the stolen parts were valued at $800.

The police planned to locate surveillance tapes from the store. Their first attempt was unsuccessful because the store was already closed when they tried to make contact.

GPS stolen

A resident who lives in the 33000 block of Cherry Hill reported at 4:45 p.m. June 24 that someone stole his Tom Tom GPS unit from his vehicle.

The vehicle was parked unlocked in his driveway.

Livonia

Car stolen from home

A vehicle was reported stolen to Livonia police early Monday morning in the 37700 block of Mallory.

The victim told police he parked the car several hours earlier in the front of the home, leaving the keys in the ignition and the windows rolled down. When he came out slightly after midnight, he discovered the car was gone. Inside was a gym bag, which contained the victim's wallet. The keys also had a garage door opener attached to them. There were no suspects or witnesses.

Home broken into

A woman came home after being away for several hours Saturday evening and discovered her home in the 19300 block of Angling had been broken into.

A man was arrested Sunday afternoon after security at the Von Maur store, 37500 Six Mile, caught him trying to leave the store with a pair of jeans without paying.

The man was detained by security and told police he was wearing the merchandise underneath his pants. Police told him to change and they arrested him under suspicion of retail fraud. The man told police he was 16 and gave them a name. After running the man's fingerprints, they discovered his true name and age, which was 19.

Home break-in

A diamond ring and $400 cash were reported stolen June 25 after the daytime break-in of a house on Eaton Drive in Plymouth Township.

The complainant told police he returned home at about 8:30 p.m. and noticed the screen to a kitchen window on the floor of the kitchen, according to a police report. The kitchen window had been pried open, police said, and the front door unlocked from the inside.

The complainant did not immediately notice anything missing, but his wife returned home later that evening to find the ring and cash missing, police said.

Smokes swiped

About 25 cartons of cigarettes were stolen June 26 from the CVS drug store on Sheldon at Ann Arbor Road when a man distracted the sole clerk on duty at the front counter.

A police report said a man walked into the store just before 10 a.m., after the store manager went to a back office for a conference call, and asked the clerk to direct him to wart remover. The clerk told him where to find it, the report said, but didn't immediately leave the

Shoplifting ticket

A 27-year-old Plymouth man was charged with shoplifting June 27 after a manager at the Busch's supermarket on Sheldon reported seeing him bag grocery items without paying for them.

The incident occurred about 8 a.m. A police report said an employee had notified the manager that she recognized the man from an earlier shoplifting incident; the manager then watched him via store security cameras.

The manager said the man went to a selfcheckout line and scanned several items, then asked the cashier nearby to check on something for him. While the cashier was gone, the manager told police, the man put a package of snack crackers, a package of lunch meat and two precooked chicken breasts in a bag without scanning them.

The manager approached the man in the foyer of the store; the man immediately asked about ordering lunch trays and the two went to the back of the store, where the manager confronted him about the items for which he hadn't paid, the report said.

The manager said the man offered him $50 to not call police. A responding officer issued the suspect a shoplifting citation, which carries a court date.

'Perfect weather' draws large crowd to Spree fireworks

Thousands of spectators gathered Sunday night for the Livonia Spree 63 fireworks show, the grand finale of the city's annual week-long birthday celebration.

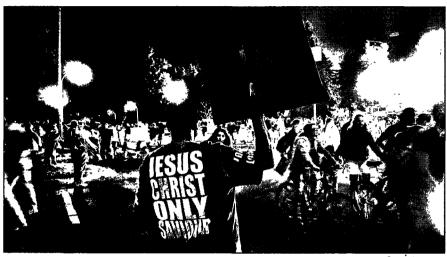

"It went phenomenal, without a hitch, right on time, the weather was per-fect," Livonia Spree Board President Dan Spurling said of the 25-minute show. "You can't ask for anything more than that."

Attendance was "extremely large," Spurling said. The Spree committee is awaiting aerial photos shot from a helicopter to help with planning for next year. Spurling said the group has used aerial photos in the past to see how people gather for the fireworks at Ford Field in Livonia to plan for better use of the space. "It really does help with the layout," he said.

Presented by the American Fireworks Co. of Hudson, Ohio, the show was set to music and included shells with multiple effects like those that break red, then turn blue and crackle. The finale, set to patriotic music, was the hit of the show.

Willow Run plant designed to build B-24 bomber

The Willow Run bomber plant was built on a Ford farm in Washtenaw County. Virtually overnight, the gardens and maple trees were replaced with a factory designed to produce one B-24 Liberator bomber every hour.

An estimated 100,000 yards of concrete, 38,000 tons of steel and 10 million bricks were used to build the 80-acre plant in record time. It was actually two plants — a manufacturing plant producing parts for the bomber and the assembly

The factory was tooled to produce one bomber every 55 minutes. The plane had a 110foot wing span and had four 1,200-horsepower Pratt and Whitney engines. It carried 10 men, four tons of bombs and 5,000 rounds of munitions. It could fly 3,000 miles nonstop and cruise at high altitudes at a speed of 300 mph.

Eighty-five percent of the plane's 20-ton weight was alu-

Each plane had more than 1,700 aluminum tubes for its 12 different control systems and 400,000 rivets. The landing wheels were shipped in, as was the plane's twin tail, which was made at Ford's Rouge plant.

To manufacture the plane, Ford cut it up into major assembly sections which were 'mated" on the final assembly line. By breaking down the process into sub-assemblies, parts of the plane were built in hours rather than days. By using the process, the center wing span, the first section to be built, was completed in a matter of hours rather than 19 days.

Piece by piece

The assembly process started with four lines where the different sections of the airplane were mated to the wing span. The first section was the nose piece, which included the instruments and cabins for the pilots, radio man, flight engineer, navigator and bombar-

The next section was the tail part of fuselage, then the assembly line narrowed from four to two lines. In the next step, each of the four engines was attached to the wing span in 15 minutes, with added time to hook up the controls as the plane moved down the assembly line. Only four bolts % inch in diameter held an engine in place on the wing.

After the twin tail was in place, the wing tips were attached to the wing span. Finishing touches like painting on the insignia, installing instruments, radio equipment, the wing flaps and sound proofing was done before the 4,200 square feet of skin and the windows were cleaned.

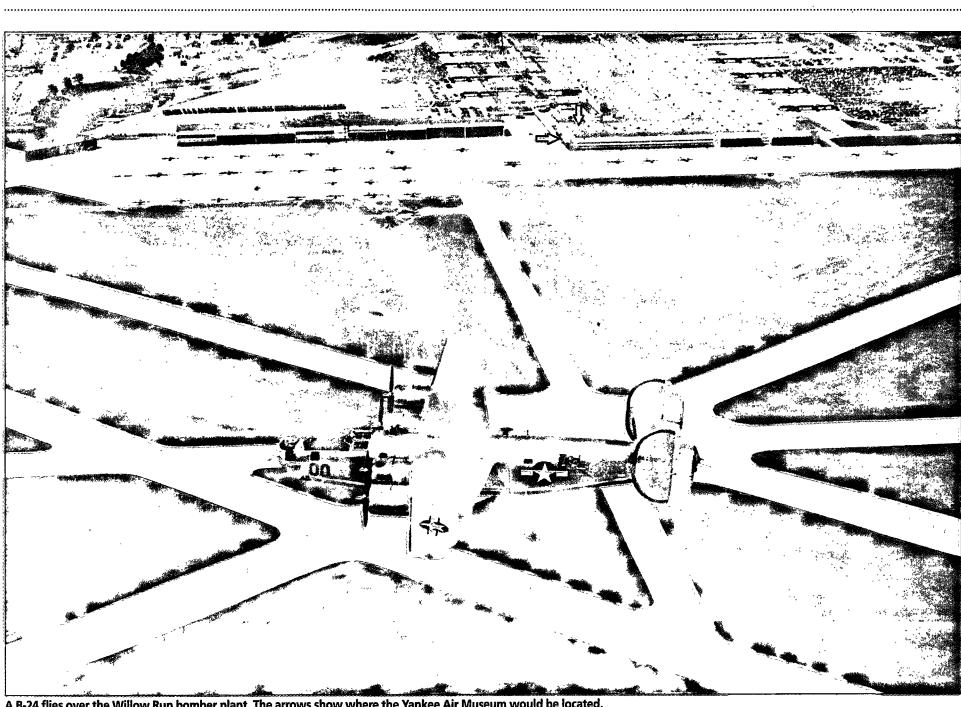

Ford's plans to produce the airplane were viewed with skepticism, but its experience with mass production allowed it to build 8,685 B-24s, each of which had 1,225,000 parts.

MUSEUM

Raising millions

The museum needs to raise the $5 million to buy just a portion of the former bomber plant, but a total of $8 million is needed to acquire, enclose, secure and power up the area to eventually become the new museum.

The SaveTheBomberPlant.org campaign, co-chaired by retired NASA astronaut Frank Lousma and retried GM executive Bob Lutz, has been set up to help raise the money. The museum has already raised $3.1 million, but still needs $4.9 million to reach its goal.
According to Mike Montgomery of the Michigan Aeronautical Foundation, which signed the letter of intent with RACER Trust to acquire the property, large donations are being pursued, but support from the community is needed.

"Obviously preserving a piece of history is really important," Montgomery said. "This allows the museum to expand on the story it's telling. It's more than the Arsenal of Democracy, it's about what happened. The American work force changed. We can tell that story here, but to tell it at the actual site is much more effec-

"It'll give us room to grow for decades; it'll let us expand," he added.

The larger facility also would allow the museum to integrate STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) content, expanding the visitor experience and educational opportunities. It also would provide a new venue for corporate, community and family events,

"It's an opportunity to make it a center where we can host 1,000 people," Walsh said. "It's the difference between a convention hall and a signature location. It would be an incredible facility for the community. The demand is here."

The assembly line The plant was designed by Charles Sorensen, vice president of production for Ford.

Albert Kahn, a prominent industrial architect, translated Sorensen's sketches into the factory where workers were able to produce a B-34 bomber every 55 minutes.

The more than two million-square-foot plant was built in an L-shape in Washtenaw County, just over the Wayne County line. Planes moved down the assembly line by fours and then twos. But instead of going straight out of the factory and into Wayne County, the assembly line turned to the right and exited into Washtenaw County.

"Ford built the plant so that it delivered all the planes to the Army Air Force in Washtenaw County, so he wouldn't have to pay personal property tax on them," Montgomery said. "It's that space at the end of the line that we're determined will become the new museum."

The Yankee Air Museum opened in the 1980s in a wooden hangar at Willow Run Airport. It suffered a major setback when the hangar caught fire in 2004.

Volunteers were able to rescue three planes - the B-17, B-25 and C-47 - but the remainder of the aircraft and artifacts that were housed in the hangar were lost. A new museum opened in 2010 in a 40,000-square-foot building that was purchased from the Michigan Institute of Aviation and Technology.

Admittedly the fundraising goal is ambitious, but the campaign is open to donations of all amounts. Every $50 raised saves one square foot of the bomber plant. In addition to raising money to buy the facility, Lousma and Lutz also are raising money to create exhibits for the museum's new home.

For more information on giving and sponsorship opportunities, contact the Save The Bomber Plant campaign at info@ savethebomberplant.org or call 734-483-4030, Ext. 222.

If YAM is unable to meet its fundraising goal, gifts to the campaign will be put toward a hangar for flyable aircraft at the current museum.

"We've been getting by since 2004. This is an opportunity to make this happen," Walsh said. "We need the financial support to make this happen."

Drunken driving patrols stepped up for holiday

Officers will again take to the streets working stepped up drunken driving patrols during the heavily traveled July 4 holiday that ends Sunday, according to the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning.

During a statewide effort to get motorists to buckle up for the Memorial Day holiday, law enforcement agencies in 26 counties, including Wayne, issued 8,701 seat belt and child seat violation tickets, nearly 600 more citations than during last year's enforcement effort.

In addition to seat belt violations, 15 drunken drivers were arrested during the enforcement period and 29 drug arrests were made. More than 1,000 tickets for uninsured motorists and 415 for suspended licenses were written. Preliminary reports from police agencies indicate 13,453 vehicles were stopped during the May 20-June 2 Click It or Ticket campaign. The enforcement is part of a national effort to save lives and reduce injuries by increasing seat belt

Following the state's record-high rate of 97.9 percent in 2009, seat belt use declined to 93.6 percent in 2012. Every 1 percent increase means 10 fewer traffic deaths and 130 fewer injuries. In 2012, 225 people who died in Michigan traffic crashes were not buckled up. "Motorists were warned about the enforcement through advertising on the Internet, television and radio stations and through the media. Those that didn't heed the advice to 'click it' received a ticket," Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning Director Michael L. Prince said. "The bottom line is seat belts save lives and motorists need to buckle up every trip, every time.

Twelve people died in traffic crashes over the Memorial Day period. Of those, three were not wearing a seat belt, two were motorcyclists, two were riding off-road vehicles along the roadway, one was riding a moped and one was a pedestrian. This is an increase from the 2012 Memorial Day holiday period, when 10 people were killed in traffic crashes.

Enforcement will also be a part of the Labor Day effort Aug. 16 to Sept. 2.

Allstate opens Hills office

Allstate Insurance Co. has opened a new office. Owned and operated by Allstate exclusive agent Matthew Tocco, the of-fice is at 30180 Orchard Lake, Suite 175, in Farmington Hills.

"My staff and I are" excited about the opening of our new office," Tocco said. "This is a full-service insurance agency."

Expanded services

Oakwood Annapolis Hospital in Wayne is now offering new and expanded fully digital, low-dose Interventional Imaging services.

With the opening of a new Interventional Imaging lab at Annapolis, interventional physicians are now able to treat a wider range of clinical conditions caused by increasingly common vascular and oncologic disorders, according to Tim Vargas, administrator of Imaging Services for Oakwood Healthcare.

"This new and exciting technology offers multiple benefits to both physicians and patients," . Vargas said.

The new lab contains a fully digital, low-dose imaging system that provides detailed 3-D images of vascular structures that will allow for faster and more accurate diagnosis and treatment of vascular disease, while reducing the risk of radiation exposure for patients.

The more detailed information will also allow physicians to use a minimally invasive catheter-based approach for performing diagnostic, stenting, balloon angioplasty and embolizations, which translates into reduced risk and shorter hospital stays compared to traditional surgical approaches, as well as less pain and visible scarring afterward. Like all Oakwood imaging centers, it delivers the lowest doses of radiation possible.

"The safety of our patients is as important as medical progress, and Oakwood is proud to be on the leading edge of patient safety, quality and excellence in medical imaging," Vargas

Freedom means choices: Plan for future

he Fourth of July is the one day of the year that we should take a step back and pat ourselves on the back for a job well done. As Americans, all of us in one way or the other have contributed to our success as a nation. Despite our current difficulties, there is no better place to live than the United States. No country in the history of the world has achieved what we have as a nation. We are still the freest and most prosperous country that has ever existed in the history of mankind. Therefore, on this Fourth of July holiday, we can all wear the red, white and blue proudly. Congratulations to us all. As we celebrate our country's 237th birthday today, we find ourselves in challenging economic times. Although our country gives us opportu-nities, it does not ensure our success - that is up to each person. That is why it is imperative to make smart decisions with our money. No matter what stage in life one is at, it's important to weigh the options and select the one that best suits your situa-

One example is what is happening with student loans. Because the president was unable to reach a compromise with members of the House and Senate, interest rates on student loans are set to double. Interest rates on federally insured loans have been 3.4 percent and now will jump to 6.8 percent. For many students and families, this will result in a substantial economic bur-

Still time for agreement

I am an optimist and hope that when the president and Congress reconvene after the holiday, they can still reach a deal. However, we know how dysfunctional Washington is these days and therefore it's important to look at other options.

In today's world, one must think outside the box. For many students, it may be first attending a community college or living at home in order to save on costs. Depending upon family situations, there can be other options such as potentially refinancing mortgages or loans from family members. In addition, there are other options besides government loans in order to finance an education. Websites like www.findaid.org can be helpful.

It would be nice if life was simpler and easier, but it's not. It is getting more complex and more confusing all the time. The one way to deal with it is to plan ahead and have the time to weigh your different options.

One last note – don't get paralyzed by analysis. Generally, no one solution is perfect. There may be a handful of options that are all good and the key is to narrow your choices to those good options.

Happy Fourth of July and a special thank you to all those men and women who currently and throughout time have worn the uniform of our armed forces and who have allowed us the freedom to live the lives that we do today.

Good luck!

OUR VIEWS

Self-evident truth

Sacrifices have helped shape our nation

As with many holidays born out of patriotic impulses, the true meaning of Independence Day can be easily lost amid the parades and the barbecues, among the sparklers and the games.

The men and women in our armed forces knew then this country would be founded on the basis of freedom, that it was a concept and an ideology worth fighting — and dying — for. And they know it – and deeply believe that – now.

It's easy to forget, because the brave sacrifices of our military men and women today come in faraway lands like Afghanistan and Iraq, that the very first sacrifices on the road to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness came right here on home

Some 25,000 Americans perished, and another 25,000 were injured, as the colonies fought - and died — for the right to determine their own destiny as a country, one of the truths leaders of the Second Continental Congress decided were self-

Though it holds no legal authority, the Declaration of Independence, as Thomas Jefferson wrote in a letter years after penning it, was "intended to be an expression of the American mind, and to give to that expression of the American mind, and to give to that expression the proper tone and spirit called for by the occasion."

It took a lot of courage, first writing and then signing that document. Clearly, the colonies had worked to resolve their differences with the British. The list of disputes in the document is exten-

But given the alternative, the document declares, the signers had the gumption – the will – to go to war. That's pretty tough talk, but it is also the webterland and the signer. thoughtful and well-reasoned.

All people have unalienable rights, Jefferson reasoned as he wrote. Those rights come from a higher order and can't be abolished by any person —not a king of England, an ego-maniacal tyrant in Iraq or a common thug hiding in a cave. Nor can any group of men — whether the British Parliament or al-Qaeda — disband those rights.

Thus, Jefferson and the rest of the Founding Fathers laid the foundation for what has stood for 237 years and counting — as the bedrock principle of our nation. Fifty-six men, representing colonies from north and south, signed it, each of them risking death as revolutionaries.

Independence is inbred in us, part of our genetic makeup. That's why we halt ungight at attempts ic makeup. That's why we bolt upright at attempts to abridge our civil liberties and growl over things like foreclosures and the price of gas that threaten our happiness.

Our independence must be nurtured aggressively, if it is to continue. That doesn't mean agreeing with everything that comes out of Washington; it does mean passing along the memories and the message of the Declaration of Independence.

The framers of that document and the leaders of the revolution - Hancock and Franklin, Washington and Jefferson – are household names. But let's not forget the 50,000 dead and wounded – nor the scores of military men and women who've been killed or wounded since - whose names we've never known and never will.

It was their deeds and their sacrifices that became synonymous with freedom. As you line the streets for local parades, celebrate with fire-works and grill burgers and hot dogs for the holiday picnic, remember them and honor their accomplishment.

The truth of their sacrifice, and the magnitude of its meaning, should be self-evident.

The rockets' red glare ... gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Not much wool

In Sunday's (June 30) edition of this paper, state Rep. Dian Slavens, D-Canton, called on Republican senators to return to Lansing and vote on the Medicaid bill to aid our neediest folks.

Reading Sen. Patrick Colbeck's response to this request reminded me of why you don't shear a pig - all you get is a lot of squealing and very little wool. James Huddleston

Mishandled bond

Well that didn't take long now, did it? There were three primary reasons why I was opposed to the new bond.

The details regarding how our money was going to be spent were virtually nonexistent, I have no confidence in the majority of this school board to spend our money wisely and the student pool is shrinking (households with ages 0-5 down 30 perfect since 2012).

It has taken less than two months for the "mishandling of bond funds" concern to surface in a big way.

The Plymouth-Canton school board, namely John Barrett, Kimberley Crouch, Judy Mardigian and Sheila Paton, voted to give McCarthy/Smith the construction management position without asking for bids.

As a result, McCarthy/Smith seeing the construction of the new school and bond-affiliated building improvements to existing facilities, uncontested.

This is a fiscally irresponsible decision. Where is this board's business savvy?

Don't we owe it to the kids in this community to make sure that as much money as possible ends up in the classroom to benefit the students?

This no-bid gift should not sit well with the citizenry of this community for a variety of reasons, including:

» McCarthy/Smith was the entity that helped the administration derive the estimated cost of new construction and infrastructure improvements stated in the bond proposal. Isn't that a cozy relationship for a company that stands to profit from a percentage of the overall

» Why is outgoing Superintendent Hughes trying to rush this business through before Superintendent Meissen takes over in July? Shouldn't the school board be allowing the new superintendent, the guy it picked, to be more involved in the decisions regarding contractors he will be working with?

» Posting this position out to bid will eliminate concerns of contractor complacency. Bidders would sharpen their pencils ensuring competitive pricing under current economic conditions, eliminating any specula-

I'm confident in asserting that if Trustees Barrett, Mardigian, Crouch and Paton were going to make a high-priced purchase with their own money, an expensive home improvement for example, they would get bids to start handling our money more responsibly.

The citizenry should pressure the school board to fulfill its fiduciary responsibility and demand that members reverse this careless decision and put the construction management position up for bid. And the elected officials in our district who supported this bond initiative should be equally as vocal in expressing to the public and to the school board that this board needs to be smarter in handling the public's hard-earned money.

Being silent now might not bode well for their reputations come election time.

Matt Dame Canton

Think and drive

When driving please consider:

» Traveling above the speed limit is breaking the law our soldiers are fighting to defend in lawless Afghanistan.

In some cases the road can sustain your vehicle at a speed higher than the speed limit, but at many locations it is foolish to navigate curves at higher than the speed limit.

» If you are injured or killed or injure or kill someone else, it costs everyone money and time.

» If you have an accident, it does not matter that this is a "no-fault" state. If you caused it, it's your fault.

» Cutting people off slows others down. It's like stealing. You stole time.

» Following too closely also slows things down. Anyone who does that is acting like a thug. You are stealing the other person's right to the pursuit of happiness. If you are late, leave earlier next time.

otner day 1 : trying to go across three lanes of traffic to make a left into another busy lane. They blocked three lanes of traffic and nearly caused an accident.

Don't drink and drive. Think and drive.

GUEST COLUMN

Fourth of July: Freedoms that matter come to mind

he preamble to the Declaration of Independence says so very much in so few

"We hold these truths to be self-evident that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.'

We remember these words with pride this Independence Day. Yet, as we have been reminded nearly every day since July 4, 1776, freedom is not free nor easy to maintain.

There have been countless wars fought - on our shores and off - in our and others' quest to remain free.

When our Declaration was written in 1776, slaves were not free and had no "unalienable" rights – it took a bloody Civil War and another century of struggle and loss of life before African Americans shared in the bounty of what was so "selfevident" to white men in 1776.

Surely, the suffragists' struggle for voting rights was firmly . rooted in the words of the Declaration - but those did not come easily, either. Not until 1920 did women receive the right to vote in the United States with the passage of the 19th Amendment - long after other nations had already made this law. The U.S. was one of the last to pass this law for women. While the U.S. Supreme Court

just gave gay rights a big boost, the struggle continues for people who are gay and people with disabilities.

The principles of freedom and liberty burn bright today as we strive to be a "more perfect union" as noted in the preamble to the United States Constitution, declared as "unalienable" rights by Thomas Jefferson and his co-authors in 1776.

As a nation, we are a work in progress, striving to live up to the ideals of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitu-

President Bill Clinton reminded us in his inaugural address "that there is nothing so wrong with America that cannot be fixed by what is right about America."

All of us need to reflect on the words of President John F. Kennedy, when he asked in his inaugural address, "Ask not what your country can do for you ask what you can do for your country.'

Let's all take a moment to read or reread the Declaration of Independence (http://www.archives.gov/exhibits/charters/declaration_transcript.html). Savor the simplicity, courage and sheer brilliance of our Founding Fathers. Remember that while these words of wis-dom inspire pride and hope, it is through vision, leadership and action that these words come alive each day.

As the great anthropologist Margaret Mead reminded us, "A small group of thoughtful people could change the world. Indeed, it's the only thing that ever has."

So as we enjoy the long holiday weekend, the parades, cookouts, family and friends, let's reflect on the people who helped make us free, those working to keep us free and those dreaming of one day being free.

Independence, freedom and democracy are participatory, full contact sports. Today (July 4) is a good day for Americans to recommit ourselves to finding ways to remain active participants in this grand experiment called democracy.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. told us, "Our lives begin to end the day we become silent about things that matter."

And President Ronald Reagan reminded us, "No arsenal ... is so formidable as the will and moral courage of free men and wom-

Award-winning food trucks headed for downtown Northville

By Lonnie Huhman Staff Writer

Award-winning food trucks are coming to downtown Northville this

The Northville Central Business Association plans to have seven food trucks park on Main Street to kick off this summer's sidewalk sale event in an effort to tap into the new interest in food truck rallies.

The city council granted the request from the NCBA to hold a food truck rally 5-9 p.m. July

According to NCBA spokesperson Dan Ferrara, this event is being sponsored by the NCBA and executed by his com-

"The Northville Central Business Association is excited to bring a new idea to downtown Northville. We wanted to find a way to kick off the sidewalk sale weekend and make it a fun weeknight for Northville residents and the shoppers that come in from other

Live music will be played in Town Square for the duration of the event to draw patrons to Town Square after visiting the trucks.

The idea was suggested by a member of the NCBA and we moved forward with the help of Lori Ward and Pat Sullivan because we think it's something that's great for Northville's image and great for the retailers and restaurants in town," Ferrara said. "The restaurants have been really supportive because they understand that the foodies that follow these food trucks will get a chance to see that Northville has over 18 restaurants that they might want to check out in the future.'

"It is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection

- George Washington: Commander-In-Chief in the American Revolution; Signer of the Constitution; First President of the United States

"We have no government armed with power capable of contending with human passions unbridled by morality and religion. Our Constitution was made only for a moral and religious people. It is wholly inadequate to the government of any other." - John Adams: Signer of the Declaration of Independence; One of Two Signers of the Bill of Rights; Second President of the United States

"Before any man can be considered as a member of civil society, he must be considered as a subject of the Governor of the Universe." - James Madison: Signer of the Constitution; Fourth President of the United States

"And can the liberties of a nation be thought secure when we have removed their only firm basis, a conviction in the minds of the people that these liberties are of the gift of God? That they are not to be violated but with His wrath? Indeed I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just; that His justice cannot sleep forever." - Thomas Jefferson: Signer and the Principal Author of the Declaration of Independence; Third President of the United States

"Is it not that in the chain of human events, the birthday of the nation is indissolubly linked with the birthday of the Savior? - that it forms a leading event in the progress of the Gospel dispensation? Is it not that the Declaration of Independence first organized the social compact on the foundation of the Redeemer's mission upon earth? - That it laid the cornerstone of

"Providence has given to our people the choice of their rulers, and it is the duty, as well as the privilege and interest of our Christian nation, to select and prefer Christians for their rulers."

- John Jay: Co-Author of the Federalist Papers; First Chief-Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court

"Human law must rest its authority ultimately upon the authority of that law which is Divine ... Far from being rivals or enemies, religion and law are twin sisters, friends, and mutual assistants. Indeed, these two sciences run into each other."

- James Wilson: Signer of both the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution; Original Justice on the U.S. Supreme Court

"One of the beautiful boasts of our municipal jurisprudence is that Christianity is a part of the Common Law... There never has been a period in which the Common Law did not recognize Christianity as lying at its foundations... I verily believe Christianity necessary to the support of civil society."

- Joseph Story: U. S. Supreme Court Justice; "Father of American Jurisprudence," Placed on the Court by President James Madison

CONGRESS

"We are a Christian people...not because the law demands it, not to gain exclusive benefits or to avoid legal disabilities, but from choice and education; and in a land thus universally Christian, what is to be expected, what desired, but that we shall pay due regard to Christianity?"

Senate Judiciary Committee Report, January 19, 1853

"At the time of the adoption of the Constitution and the amendments, the universal sentiment was that Christianity should be encouraged...In this age there can be no substitute for Christianity...That was the religion of the founders of the republic and they expected it to remain the religion of their descendants." House Judiciary Committee Report, March 27, 1854

EDUCATION

"Let every student be plainly instructed and earnestly pressed to consider well the main end of his life and studies is to know God and Jesus Christ which is eternal life (John 17:3) and therefore to lay Christ in the bottom as the only foundation of all sound knowledge and learning. And seeing the Lord only giveth wisdom, let every one seriously set himself by prayer in secret to seek it of Him (Proverbs 2, 3). Every one shall so exercise himself in reading the Scriptures twice a day that he shall be ready to give such an account of his proficiency therein." Harvard 1636 Student Guidelines

"All the scholars are required to live a religious and blameless life according to the rules of God's Word, diligently reading the Holy Scriptures, that fountain of Divine light and truth, and constantly attending all the duties of religion." Yale 1787 Student Guidelines

SUPREME COURT RULINGS

"There is no dissonance in these [legal] declarations...These are not individual sayings, declarations of private persons: they are organic [legal, governmental] utterances; they speak the voice of the entire people...These, and many other matters which might be noticed, add a volume of unofficial declarations to the mass of organic utterances that this is a Christian nation."

Church of the Holy Trinity v. U.S., 1892 Unanimous Decision Declaring America a Christian Nation Significantly, the U.S. Supreme Court cited dozens of court rulings and legal documents as precedents to arrive at this ruling; but in 1962, when the Supreme schools, it did so without using any such precedent.

"Why may not the Bible, and especially the New Testament, without note or comment, be read and taught as a divine revelation in [schools] its general precepts expounded, its evidences explained and its glorious principles of morality inculcated?...Where can the purest principles of morality be learned so clearly or so > perfectly as from the New Testament?" Vidal v. Girard's Executors, 1844 Unanimous Decision Commending and Encouraging the Use of the Bible in Government-Run Schools

FOREIGNERS

"The Americans combine the notions of Christianity and of liberty so intimately in their minds that it is impossible to make them conceive the one without the other."

"Upon my arrival in the United States, the religious aspect of the country was the first thing that struck my attention; and the longer I stayed there, the more did I perceive the great political consequences resulting from this state of things, to which I was unaccustomed. In France I had almost always seen the spirit of religion and the spirit of freedom pursuing courses diametrically opposed to each other; but in America I found that they were intimately united, and that they reigned in common over the same country."

Alexis de Tocqueville

French observer of America in 1831, author of Democracy in America

There is no country in which the people are so religious as in the United States... The great number of religious societies existing in the United States is truly surprising: there are some of them for everything; for instance, societies to distribute the Bible; to distribute tracts; to encourage religious journals; to convert, civilize, educate... to take care of their widows and orphans; to preach, extend, purify, preserve, reform the faith; to build chapels, endow congregations, support seminaries... to establish Sunday schools... to prevent drunkenness, etc.

Wade qualifies for Worlds

Former U-M star runner-up in USA women's heptathlon competition

By Dan O'Meara Staff Writer

Bettie Wade is back. A rejuvenated and refocused Wade is back on top of her game and doing well.

A year later, the Farmington Hills resident has rebounded from her greatest disappointment as an athlete and is having the success for which she worked so hard to achieve. Wade, who narrowly missed making the U.S. Olympic team in the heptathlon last year, finished second in the USA Track & Field national championships June 20-23 in Des Moines, Iowa.

Her performance qualifies her to compete for Team USA in the International Association of Athletics Federations World Championships Aug. 10-18 in Moscow.

Wade, who attended Farmington High School and the University of Michigan, was fourth in the 2012 Olympic Trials and missed one of the three qualifying berths by 170 points. Eventually, she used that as motivation for her comeback effort this year, but she thought about giving up on her athletic dream initially.
"For months after the Olympic Trials, I was not in a good place," Wade said. "I kind of lost hope and motivation. Why even try if I do everything and work as hard as I can and don't get what I want? "I thought about what I want life to be about. It's about fighting for your dream. You're going to get knocked down. That's going to happen in life. You have to get back up and rebound from that kind of thing.

"I thought about the 2013 season and not taking no for an answer. I wasn't going to let this

Martin is promoted

Harvey Martin's stay in Helena, Mont., with the Milwaukee Brewers' Advanced A League baseball farm team was short-lived for a good reason.

Martin, the former Farmington High School and Minnesota State University pitcher, was promoted late last week to the Brewers' A team, the Wisconsin Rattlers, in Appleton, Wis.

He spent little more than a week in Helena after signing as a free agent and made two appearances there. He pitched 41/2 innings, struck out six batters, walked one and had a 2.08 earned-run average. Martin was an NCAA Division II All-American and Pitcher of the Year for the Mavericks, who were the College World Series runners-up. His only loss in two years (19-1) at Minnesota State came in this year's NCAA championship game.

Reilly gets softball job

Livonia Stevenson athletic director Lori Hyman announced Monday that Mike Reilly has been promoted to full-time varsity softball coach after serving as interim coach for the final nine games of the season.

The 46-year-old Reilly, a Livonia police officer who served as Stevenson's JV coach in 2012, went 6-3 following first-year coach Lauren Delapaz's abrupt resignation in mid-May after posting a 7-19 record in 21 games.

Stevenson finished 13-22 on the season, falling 6-2 to Division 1 state semifinalist Garden City in the district final.

Whalers' schedule

The Plymouth Whalers will begin their 2013-14 schedule with a preseason game at 7 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 31, against the Windsor Spitfires. The game will be played at an area site yet to be determined, but it will not be Compuware Arena. The regular season begins Friday, Sept. 20, when the Whalers travel to London for a 7:30 p.m. game.

They come back to Plymouth for the home opener the next night in which they will play Erie at 7:05 p.m.

Schmitt suffers Olympic hangover

By Kelly Whiteside Gannett News Service

It's unusual to see an Olympic champion fail to reach the finals in her top events. It's just as rare to compete in the 'B' final after such disappointment.

Nine months after winning five medals, including three golds, at the London Summer Olympics, Canton's Allison Schmitt found herself in a very unusual place - in the consolation race.

Schmitt missed the finals of the 100-meter freestyle and the 200 freestyle, her signature event, the biggest shocker at last week's USA Swimming Nationals held in Indianapolis.

As a result, Schmitt failed to qualify for the World Championships, July 19 through Aug. 4 in Barcelona, Spain.

Schmitt, planning to turn pro following her collegiate career, bowed out of Friday's 400 freestyle to end her unforgettable week.

"She hasn't trained very much," said Bob Bowman, Schmitt's coach from the North Baltimore (Md.) Aquatic Club. "I think she felt she wasn't ready and she wasn't and when you're like that and you're not ready, you get what we had (in the 200

Mercy's Lerg leads Legacy volleyball team to AAU national championship

Jenna Lerg has much of her volleyball career still ahead of her, but it will be difficult to top what she achieved late last month in Orlando, Fla.

The Farmington Hills resident was named the tournament MVP and helped her Legacy Volleyball Club win an AAU national championship in the 16 Open setback was mental. 'You're not a head case," he told her. "Your body is not ready to do what you want it to do." Mentally fatigued and "physically not on her 'A' game," as Bowman put it. Schmitt struggled.

Lerg, who plays the libero position, was one of three Legacy players to receivé All-America honors, joining mid-dle blocker Ali Bastianelli of Marysville and outside hitter Katherine Carlson of Pontiac Notre Dame Prep.

In addition to winning the 200 freestyle in London, Schmitt also was part of the 800 free relay and the 400 medley relay that won gold. The women's 400 medley, which featured Schmitt, Missy Franklin, Rebecca Soni and Dana Vollmer, set a world record of 3:52.05. Schmitt also claimed a silver medal in the 400 freestyle and a bronze medal in the 400 freestyle relay.

After the Olympics, Schmitt returned to the University of Georgia with the hope of winning a national title. The Bulldogs had finished second behind the University of Califronia the previous two years. At the very same pool, the IUPUI Natatorium, Schmitt helped Georgia defeat

Cal for the NCAA title in March by capturing the 200-yard freestyle and helping Georgia to firsts in the 400- and 800-yard freestyle relays.

"I honestly think Allison was very much taken aback by what it meant to be an Olympic champion," Bowman said. "I don't think she had any idea. She gets back to Georgia, where usually she went about her life doing her thing. Anytime she went out, she had lines of people taking pictures and getting autographs. Everybody knew who she was all the time. That's a big change for anybody."

Even though she saw the unrelenting spotlight on Michael Phelps, her former training partner, Schmitt wasn't prepared.

U.S. teammates were surprised, but supportive.

"I can only hope to be Schmitty is one day," said Franklin, who won the event. "Honestly, we all have those races. I know she raced her heart out.

That's what swimming is all about and she's a great inspiration for that."

The 23-year-old Schmitt, a finalist last month for the Women Collegiate Sports Award 2013 Honda Cup, remained upbeat on her Twitter account.

"Week didn't go according to plan, but we're learning from it and looking at the positives that come out of every disappointment," Schmitt said. "I'll be cheering loud for Team USA this summer and couldn't be prouder of the week my friends and teammates both at NBAC and UGA had.

"A big thank you to all that supported me this week. I have a great family, great friends and great fans. It truly means a lot."

All-Observer girls soccer team features galaxy of stars

ALL-AREA FIRST TEAM Sara Even, Ladywood, Sr. G: The first-team all-stater was ranked the top goalkeeper in Division 2 after posting 17 shutouts with a 0.28 goals-against average

Even, headed to Siena Heights University, posted a 19-0-2 record while allowing just six goals, including a pair of shutouts against Birmingham Marian.

'Sara is the ultimate team player," coach Ken Shingledecker said of the all-district. all-regional and all-Catholic League choice. "She could probably be a top forward on our team if we needed her to be. She was forced into action last year when we ran into some injuries in goal and she played so well it became impossible to take her out. The better the opposing team was, the better Sara performed."

Kylie Robb, Plymouth, Jr. G: With aggressiveness, desire and plenty of skills, the goalkeeper put up a wall across the front of Plymouth's goal all season, allowing only five goals in 23 games (0.21 average) and posting 18 shutouts.

Driven to lead the Wildcats to a state championship, she nearly got it done. Robb excelled all season in pressure games, including the regional final against Novi, when she shut the door through 100 minutes, only getting scored on during the ensuing shootout.

Robb's efforts were rewarded with selection as a Division 1 second-team all-stater.

"Her ability to read the game, along with her goalkeeping skills, fearlessness, toughness, athletic ability, focus and determination, are the qualities that made her one of the top goalies in the state," coach Jeff Neschich said.

Katie Foss, N. Farmington, Sr. G: The netminder had an outstanding season for the Raiders (10-6-6), who were OAA White Division contenders and district champions. Foss, who was voted the top goalie in the district, had 13 shutouts, including two in the playoffs. In a regional semifinal, she limited Division 1 state champion Trov to one goal.

"Katie worked very hard to become the keeper she was for us this past season," coach Tim Russell said. "She has been a good keeper since she started with us four years ago. She had many good games last year, but Katie took it to another level this year.

"Whether our opponents shots on us to only one great shot, Katie was always ready to make quality saves. There is no way we make it to the regional without her in the net.

"During the off-season, preseason and practices, Katie was a superb captain, always supporting everyone in the program and providing a great role model for the younger girls. It will be very difficult to replace her next year."

Alyssa Dilion, Plymouth, Jr. D: Dillon has already verbally committed to play college soccer at the University of Michigan - that is how highly regarded she is as a player.

Dillon scored eight goals and added four assists, but most importantly was a defensive standout for the Wildcats.

Honors were plentiful, too. She was named a first-team all-stater, member of the "dream team" and NSCAA all-region selection.

"Her speed, along with her ability to read the game, really stood out this year," Neschich said. "She's a very smart, hardworking player and one of the keys to our defensive success this year."

Catherine Garber, Ladywood, Sr. D: The defender earned first-team all-state honors along with all-district and all-Catholic League on a defense that surrendered just 13 goals in 26 games.

Garber, a four-year starter and captain, helped Ladywood to 72 wins over a four-year stretch, including a state finals appearance in 2011. She will compete next year on the Michigan State University figure skating team.

"Catherine has been the anchor of the Ladywood defense for the past four years." Shingledecker said. "She is a great player and an even better person that comes from a great family. It's hard to imagine Ladywood soccer without her running our defense. She definitely is going to be hard to replace.

enough to earn all-conference, all-district and all-state secondteam honors

"She dealt with a lot of injuries," coach Jeannine Reddy said. "She's one of the best defenders in our league. She works hard; she was one of my captains." Alexi Kliza, Stevenson, Sr. D: The Division 1 honorable mention all-stater and team MVP, bound for Northern Kentucky University, finished with one goal and four assists.

Kliza also earned all-KLAA. all-district and all-region honors, as well as academic all-state honors. "Lexi was expected to be our best player this season and for the majority of our games she was," Stevenson coach Chris Grodzicki said of the four-year starter. "She moved around the back line over her career and switched between center back and holding midfielder this

"Lexi is the best transitional player I have coached in eight years of girls soccer. Her ability to kill the opponents' attack and turn it into purposeful and dangerous possession is a joy to watch. This skill, coupled with her tireless work ethic, will make her an instant impact player at the next level.

Stephanie Dillon, Plymouth, Sr. MF: The co-captain and four-year varsity starter was a major thorn in opponents' sides this season, with 14 goals and 10 assists, garnering firstteam all-state honors.

"This quick and dynamic player has sparked our attack over these past four years on set pieces, corner kicks and counterattacks," Neschich said. "Her dedication to the team and her leadership were outstanding this year.'

Dillon will play college soccer at Miami (Ohio) University. Shelby Walsh, Ladywood, Sr. MF: The midfielder earned second-team all-state, along with all-regional, all-district and all-Catholic League honors for the Catholic League A-B Division champions. The Williamston Shootout

MVP finished the year with four goals and two assists and will be studying next year at Michigan State.

"Shelby had the difficult task of being the lone holding midfielder in our 4-3-3," Shingledecker said. "She was defensively assigned to deal with other teams' attacking mid while being the one responsible to start our attack. She was very consistent from game to game and she never took games

Amy Lindberg, Harrison, Sr. MF: The midfielder was a fouryear starter for the Hawks and a big reason they went 10-3-5 and were contenders for the OAA Blue Division crown. Lindberg scored a dozen goals and assisted on four others. She was one of the team's top playmakers and she also played a strong defensive game when asked to do so. She was the go-to person on free kicks and Lindberg, who had 34 goals and 20 assists in her prep career, is also an outstanding student and will play at Case Western Reserve University.

"Amy is a fabulous on-field and off-field leader," coach Stacy Punzal said. "She lives for soccer 24/7. Amy has worked really, really hard to become the player she is today.

'She can play anywhere. Wherever she is on the field, I know she's going to be the anchor. She has a strong leg and good field sense; her movement off the ball is good. She's always where she needs to be.

'She does not give up; she plays from whistle to whistle. Her mental toughness has come a long way since her freshman year. She has grown in maturity and become a good leader.'

Katie Erdman, Mercy, Jr. MF: A three-year varsity player, Erdman has started in the midfield every year. She scored four goals and had eight assists the past season and helped the Marlins post a 10-6-3 record. Erdman is a Vardar Elite club player who made an early commitment to Bowling Green State University.

"She's a very intelligent player with excellent skills." coach Butch Babler said. "She's able to make the transition between club and high school soccer. High school tends to be a little more straightforward and club is more finesse.

"Sometimes, you get players with all the skill in the world and they can't make that adjustment. She adjusts to it really well and she's very good at picking out where the ball needs to be placed and what needs to be done.

"She doesn't have gaudy stats. Usually, you don't give a second assist in soccer. As a coach, you notice things that don't always show up in the stat sheet. She's often the one who sets up the player who sets up the player.'

Lindsay Yankasky, Garden City, Soph. MF: Yankasky was a dynamic force for the Cougars this spring, racking up 20 goals and 16 assists from her outside midfielder position. She was an ideal transition player, taking passes from the team's defenders and turning possession into scoring threats. She excels for the Novi Jaguars club team during the summer.

"Lindsay brings her best effort every day she plays soccer," head coach Jeff Szypula said. "She is one of those players that makes everyone around her better. She can play lockdown defense or go to forward and score big goals. She nor-mally plays defense for her club team and worked very hard on her offensive aspects of the game at left mid on our team. I couldn't be more proud of her efforts this season.

Madi Lewis, Plymouth, Sr. F: The uber-talented forward capped a superb three-year career for the Wildcats, scoring 29 goals and adding 20 assists to spark the top-ranked squad all the way to the Division 1 region-

Lewis captured virtually every possible postseason accolade, including the Gatorade/ ESPN Player of the Year Award for Michigan for the second consecutive season.

Other honors included Division 1 Dream Team, first-team all-state, Ms. Soccer and NSCAA All-America.

'Madi is the most dangerous attacking player I have ever seen at the high school level," working student of the game. and is a great leader and team-

Lewis will attend the University of Michigan and play soc-

Kelsey Parrinello, Churchill, Jr. F: The second-team Division 1 all-stater, committed to the University of Cincinnati, finished the year with a whopping 27 goals to go along with 13 assists.

Parrinello, also an all-KLAA, all-region and all-district selection, became the third best season point producer in school history.

'Kelsey is such a dynamic, dangerous player who can score from anywhere," coach Reid Friedrichs said. "She was our best player and made the other players around her better."

Zoe Foster, Plymouth, Sr. F: Yet another valuable member of Plymouth's juggernaut team, which only lost one game - a heartbreaking 1-0 loss on penalty kicks to Novi in the D1 regional final.

Foster, a four-year starter who will play soccer at North Dakota, scored nine goals, chipped in seven assists and was named to the D1 all-state third team. The co-captain also provided outstanding leader-

She's been a key to our success," Neschich said. "Throughout her career here at Plymouth, she's scored huge game-winning goals (in) districts and regionals, as well as our cross-campus rivalry games.'

In addition to her offensive skills, Neschich noted how well Foster controlled the midfield to help take pressure off the defense.

Kylie Knight, Salem, Soph. F: No matter where she played in the lineup, Knight did everything asked of her and more.

"She was our best player, at center mid, defender, forward really, wherever we needed her," coach Scott Duhl said. "She anticipates the game and can beat a player off the dribble as well as connecting the Lucas was a force with 23 goals and 12 assists, earning all-conference and all-district honors. She also was an all-state honorable mention pick.

"She scored a lot of goals for us, 23, which is a lot for a fresh-man," Reddy said. "She played forward for us this year, but she really is a midfielder, so I'm looking forward to her playing mid for us. She works hard, she's very fast.' Emily Barfuss, Salem, Sr. F: The Rocks were often bolstered by the efforts of this fo who scored a team-leading 10 goals and collected four assists.

"She is very dynamic on the dribble and is very quick in and out of her cuts," Duhl said. Barfuss was named to the all-KLAA, all-district and allregion teams, as well as being an honorable mention all-state pick. She also won Salem's Golden Boot Award for scoring the most goals. COACH OF THE YEAR

Jeff Neschich, Plymouth: Plymouth came close to the pinnacle of a Division 1 state championship, rolling to a 21-1-1 record, not to mention division, conference, association and district championships. The Wildcats' conference and association titles were their first in school history.

The march finally came to a halt when Novi won the regional final 1-0 on penalty kicks, but that disappointment did not take away from what was an amazing season.

Strong senior leadership on and off the pitch was essential, something Neschich does not overlook.

"The success of the 2013 Plymouth Wildcats begins with the senior class of Morgan (Klabunde), Madi (Lewis), Zoe (Foster) and Stephanie (Dillon)," he said. "They were great leaders and set the tone for the team to

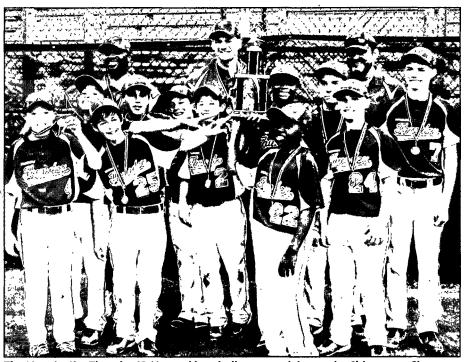

"Zoe and Stephanie were great captains and really invested so much in team building and togetherness. The desire and attitude of this group truly was special this year."

Plymouth outscored opponents 89-5, dominating in every category. Goalie Kylie Robb was a standout, but she had plenty of support in the back from Alyssa Dillon, Emily Burkman, Jillian Aguirre and Lauren Babcock.

Meanwhile, Neschich tipped his cap to the rest of the program's coaching staff - varsity assistants Bill Joker and Tony Aguirre, JV coaches Kyle Karnes and Monica Friel and freshman coach Alex Tramel.

"These coaches put so much into player development, technical and tactical as well as team building and developing a program," he said.

Shiawassee Shootout champs

The Livonia City Thunder 12-U travel baseball team took home the Shiawassee Shootout championship in Farmington, roaring through the tournament with a 4-0 record and outscoring its opponents 47-8. The Thunder defeated the LCB Legends 8-5, Oakland Reds 17-3, Berkley Cubs 12-0 and South Farmington Blues 10-0 in the championship game. The tournament was held April 27-28. Livonia won the first three games before the championship game was rained out on the final day. It was rescheduled and played June 11. Shown are Andrew Lack, Brian Wendt, Cole Bushart, Shamar Bullard, Kyle Hurley, Justin Reynolds, Tyler Gustitus, Jake Cauzillo, DJ Harding, Allen Woodward, Evan Yokie, Coach Darrell Harding, Coach Greg Wendt and Coach Dennis Bushart.

season be a disappointment. I made every single day count, because I knew I was making the team to Moscow. It hit me hard, but I rebounded and got back up and I'm that much stronger."

Wade's confidence is back, too. That and her fitness level are as high as they've ever been, she added.

as they've ever been, she added.
"In 2011 and 2012, I was very disappointed with how the year went for me and my confidence definitely took a hit," she said. "I was able to meet with a sports psychologist and she unlocked a lot of stuff for me.

"I have my confidence back and it's better than it's ever been. I'm confident in my training and ability and I'm definitely in a good mindset for this meet"

Wade's runner-up finish in the USATF meet was all the more impressive by the fact she did so well despite a strained Achilles tendon in her left ankle.

The good thing is it's her non-dominant leg. She uses her right leg to get push and elevation in the jumps and throws, but it did affect her performance in the running events.

"I was pretty sure my Achilles was going to rip after this competition," she said. "I was thinking about the season being over after this and what that was going to be like.

"In the 200, I was totally off that day. I was having trouble pushing with the Achilles. Overall, I was just happy I could get away without hurting myself that much more."

Wade did well in the jumps and throws, but the running results reflect her attempt to deal with the injury.

On the first day at Drake University Stadium, she was second in the high jump (5-11.25) and third in the shot put (44-3.25). She started with a tie for 10th place in the 100-meter hurdles (13.75) and ended the day 13th in the 200 dash (24.95) in the field of 17 athletes.

Wade was fifth in the long jump (19-10.75) to start the second day, seventh in the javelin with a season best (126-5) and 12th in the 800 run (2:17.68).

"I'll take the long jump," she said.
"In my approach, I moved up three to four feet more than I normally do (because of the injury). To jump nearly 20 feet, I'm pleased with that.

ly 20 feet, I'm pleased with that.

"I was extremely surprised in the high jump. I thought if I could make opening height, I'd be happy. I was going to run as fast as I could out of the back and not think. I wasn't able to push as well as I could. I was very pleased considering the Achilles."

All-round ability

Wade's balanced effort is what the heptathlon is all about. She didn't have to win any one event to do well. Another athlete who won three was sixth in the final tally.

Sharon Day won the overall competition with 6,550 points. Wade had 6,018 and Erica Bougard got the third qualifying berth with 5,990.

"I definitely wanted to win, but I wanted to place close to the top for the most part," Wade said. "If you're solid and consistent, you should score pretty well.

ty well.

"Overall, I was very pleased with the outcome. I would have liked to win, but I was in the top two and qualified for Moscow, so I consider the weekend a success. My score was not anything special. The fact I got through it and didn't injure (the Achilles) any more, I'm completely fine with the result."

Identical score

Coincidentally and somewhat ironically, Wade scored the same number of points she did a year ago in the Olympic Trials.

"It's not a phenomenal score; however, I would say it's very encouraging as this meet goes," she said. "To have scored the same on an injured Achilles shows my fitness is really high right now and, when I'm healthy, I can put up a pice number."

I can put up a nice number."
Wade said she's extremely excited for the opportunity to go to Moscow and compete on the world stage. A top-15 finish is a definite goal for her.

"I'll have to have a good meet to do that," she said. "I have a month and a half to get healthy and get some good training in. I have no doubt in my mind that it will be a good meet for me. The most important thing is to get healthy and go beast in Moscow."

Rams get plenty of offense in twinbill

By Brad Emons Staff Writer

The Michigan Rams ran out of time in an attempt to complete a doubleheader sweep in Livonia Collegiate Baseball League action Saturday against the Michigan Knights at Bicentennial Park.

After winning the opener, 12-2, in five innings, the Rams settled for a 9-9 draw in a game tied after seven innings with a 2½-hour time limit.

The 20-and-under Rams, who stand 9-9-2 in league play, scored two runs in the bottom of the seventh to send the game into extra innings.

Top hitters for the Rams in the nightcap included Griffin Harms (3-for-4, RBI), Justin Sherman (2-for-4, two runs), Chris McDonald (2-for-4, RBI) and Miles Sorise (two RBI).

Mike Kattula went 3-for-5 with two RBI to lead the Knights (7-12-1).

The Rams used a total of five pitchers, with Evan Piechota (Livonia Stevenson/Madonna University) getting the start, while Vince Siwicki lasted 2% innings for the Knights.

In Game 1, Ben Yax went 2-for-3 with three RBI, while McDonald had a homer and two RBI in the lopsided Rams victory.

Adding two hits apiece were Sherman, Drumheller and Sorise. Harms also knocked in three runs.

Winning pitcher Spencer Goebel worked four scoreless innings, allowing just one hit with two walks.

RAMS 13, RED SOX 2: On June 26, the Michigan Rams (8-9-1) needed only four innings to pound out an LCBL victory over the Michigan Red Sox at Bicentennial Park.

doesn't matter if we come in first or second. It just matters that we know we played our best."

The Legacy girls did play their best and it was good enough to win the championship in three sets over the Mizuno Northern Lights, also from Minnesota, in the final, 25-17, 25-27, 15-10.

"We were down in the first set," Lerg said, adding her squad had lost to the same team in straight sets in Chicago. "With stronger serving and serve receive, we came back and won. By the third set, our crowd was wild because no one had ever seen a Legacy team go that far.

"All the parents and supporters there were cheering us on. That helped us in our mindset because a lot of the game is mental. It was like nothing I'd ever felt before. I'd never felt that way about a team and our coaches. It was the best win I've experienced in my life."

Unlike Avoli 16 Enrique and Northern Lights, Legacy didn't get a firstround bye in the playoffs, but that didn't bother Lerg and her teammates.

"Our wins were not upsets; we were supposed to win and we did," she said. "Something in the way they won (earlier) got them a bye. We didn't mind that we didn't get a bye, because we knew we had the ability to play four games that day and still come out on top."

Solid blocking and good defense were the keys to Legacy's successful tournament run, according to Lerg.

"I think the players at every position stepped up and did the best they could," she said. "Our blockers did a phenomenal job. They took charge of the net and sealed it. There were very few kills that came to our side.

"Our defense was very scrappy. Our coach said she'd never seen us do some of the things we did. The offense has been pretty good all year. When we get the ball up to the net, we can put the ball down."

Jenna Lerg of Farmington Hills serves up a winner for the 16-and-under Legacy Volleyball Club. KIMBUCCHI.COM

Lerg played very well herself as a non-hitter to win the MVP award in a sport in which the hitters get the glory.

"Blocking is part of the defense and that helped my part of the defense in the back row," she said. "If the block is good, I know where to go on defense and can play around it. We were scrappy on defense because our block was so good."

Lerg and her teammates were on an airplane again Monday, heading to Dallas for another tournament this week in the USA Volleyball Junior Olympics.

"We know we're on top of the country right now, because we won the national championship," she said. "We have to put that aside and focus on the next four days, which are going to be even harder.

"It will be the hardest continuous competition we've seen this whole season, so we're just excited to go out on the court again."

Lerg, who has narrowed her college choices to a small number of schools, added the tryouts for the under-17 team in 2014 will be more competitive, too, in the wake of the team's success this

"Since we won the national championship, a lot of people want to be on the team," she said. "We'll just try our best at tryouts."

Redford Theatre celebrates renovations

Disney's 'Mary Poppins' to mark grand reopening of historic venue

By Sharon Dargay Staff Writer

Get ready for a supercalifragilisticexpialidocious good time at the Redford Theatre.

The 1964 Disney film, Mary Poppins, will screen July 12-13 during the theater's "Grand Reopening Celebration."

"We wanted something big, something grand," said Linda Sites of Redford, a board member of Motor City Theatre Organ Society Inc., the organization that owns the 1928 theater. It closed the venue in May for renovations.

The Disneyana Fan Club of Southeast Michigan also will be on hand with a silent auction of Disney collectibles and to present author Jim Korkis, a Disney historian. He'll talk about the film and will answer questions at the shows, which are slated for 8 p.m. Friday, July 12, and 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Saturday, July 13. Admission is $5.

Proceeds from the silent auction, which will include Disney prints, plates, Mary Poppins dolls, character watches and a variety of other collectible Disney items, in addition to handmade and designed jewelry, will benefit the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Michigan. The theater also will donate its share of a 50/50 raffle to the foun-

Hugh Doody, a Redford resident and member of the Disneyana Fan Club, said his organization approached the Motor City Theatre Organ Society last year, hoping the two nonprofits could work together on an event. The club had been in contact with Korkis, author of The Vault of Walt and Who's Afraid of the Song of the South, who agreed to appear at a Disneyana Fan Club event.

"We wanted to come up with a way of increasing our membership," Doody said. "I knew the theater had shown Disney (films) in the past. We said what about marrying up with the thea-

The club has approximately 35 members, who take turns hosting a meeting in their home every other month. Most members collect Disney memorabilia and they've donated items from their collections to the silent auction for Make-A-Wish Foundation.

Movie-goers will get a chance to bid before the film starts and during intermission.

New seats

Redford Theatre regulars will notice a few major changes in the decor since the theater closed for renovation in "What we did was the carpet, the new granite floor in front of the concession, granite baseboards were replaced. The marble in the inner lobby, which is almost all gone, has been repli-cated," said Steve Over-street, Motor City Theatre Organ Society vice president and a Ferndale resident. "But the big news is we replaced all of the 1960s seats with custom-made originals."

Volunteers installed approximately 900 new main floor seats about 10 years ago and replaced 600 seats in the balcony during the last two months.

Other new items include two fire escapes, one on each side of the building, and an improved soda pop delivery system for the concession stand. Future improvements will include a new restroom for handicapped individuals and an expanded parking

"It has been quite a process for the last few months," Overstreet said.

Talented volunteers

Overstreet became involved in the Motor City Theatre Organ Soci ety after his daughter held her wedding at the Redford Theatre. Walls on the main floor are decorated in a Japanese motif and resemble a tea house, with an "atmospheric" ceiling that shows stars and moving clouds. "I just love it. There are probably 100 volun-teers and 50 of them I'd say are really invested and they are some of the most brilliant people, people who can fix pipe organs and do plumbing, electrical and construc-tion," he said. "We're all volunteers. I couldn't believe it when we became involved. The whole thing blew me away, that volunteers could even do something like this."

Overstreet handles theater rentals and is a concession captain and member of the restoration and finance committees. Fundraisers, grants, movie screenings, special appearances by actors and theater rental help keep the theater's doors open. Rentals run the gamut from plays and concerts to body building shows and birthday parties. Mary Poppins will kick off the Redford Theatre's summer film series, which includes Notorious, a Hitchcock classic; The Long, Long Trailer, a comedy starring Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz; the 1975 blockbuster Jaws; The Music Man, with a special appearance by actress Shir-ley Jones and the Livonia Youth Symphony; and The Graduate.

The theater is located on Lahser, just north of Grand River Avenue, in Detroit. For more information or to view auction items, visit www.redfordtheatre.com or call 313-537-2560.

Finance a challenge in commercial real estate

With vacancy rates modestly falling and rents moderately rising in commercial real estate sectors, market fundamentals have improved, but financing remains a challenge for small business, according to the National Association of Realtors quarterly commercial real estate forecast.

Lawrence Yun, NAR chief economist, said the market is showing an uneven recovery. "The wheels appear to be greased for the big players, but not so much for small business," he said. "Overall. the commercial sectors are firming nicely, with multifamily continuing to show the best performance.

National vacancy rates over the coming year are expected to decline 0.1 percentage point in the office market, 0.5 point in industrial, and 0.3 point for retail; however, the average multifamily vacancy rate is forecast to rise 0.2 percentage point, with that sector still showing the tightest availabil-ity and biggest rent increases.

A companion report, the Commercial Real Estate 2013 Lending Survey, shows widely varying availability of lending capital depending on property size, with a significant disadvantage for buyers of smaller properties.

Commercial sales volume of major properties valued at $2.5 million and above increased 24 percent in 2012 to $294 billion. The uptrend continued during the first quarter of 2013, with a $72.8 billion volume that is 35 percent above the first quarter of 2012. Sixteen markets in the first quarter experienced triple digit gains.

Commercial mortgagebacked securities regained market share in 2012, accounting for 22 percent of lending for major commercial properties. A comparable source was government agencies, followed by national banks, insurance companies and regional banks.

Realtor commercial memtheir clients' transactions are for purchases under $2 million - generally small businesses. These transactions are financed largely by private investors, along with local and regional banks, marking a bifurcation in capital availability based on property value.

Despite the improvement for major commercial properties, 52 percent of Realtors report they had a commercial transaction fail in the past year due to a lack of financing," Yun said. "In addition, 42 percent of respondents said clients failed to complete a refinancing. Credit for small business remains unnecessarily tight."

Realtors are pleased with an untick in commercial property activity, but remain concerned about related finances. BILL BRESLER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Commercial members report that new and proposed U.S. legislative and regulatory initiatives, and regulatory uncertainty for financial institutions, account for the lack of capital in commercial lending for smaller proper-

'Car condo' novel concept

O: I have read in the paper that there is going to be what they refer to as a car condominium which will be a series of garages. Do you have any thoughts on the feasibility of it?

A: It appears to be an imaginative idea taking advantage of the fact that almost anything can be condominiumized. Of course, the success of that condominium will be how well the condominium documents are drafted to relate to the particular issues that may come up when people are stowing cars in close proximity and in connection with the other amenities which may be part of the development. Hopefully, the drafter of the condominium documents will be careful in assessing the inter-relationships between the occupants of the car storage units and the rest of the condominium. Anyone purchasing a condominium in that type of scenario is well advised to have an experienced condominium lawyer look at the scope and breadth of the condominium docu-

Q: We have just taken over control of our condominium association from the developer and have discovered a number of construction defects. We just found out that the management company that the developer hired for our project is the same management company the developer hired on a number of his other projects, and that the attorney that the managing agent recommended to us was also the attorney in these other projects that the management company was managing for the developer. This attorney tells us we shouldn't pursue the developer for these defects. What do you think?

Ā: One cannot be sure, but it would appear that the management company is the "pet" management company of the developer, and the attorney that the management company hires is someone that the developer feels will not pursue him for defects and deficiencies and will, presumably, gloss over the issue. You may wish to consider hiring a new management company; and you are well-advised to obtain an independent opinion from an attorney not affiliated with the management company or even indirectly affiliated with the developer.

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending nuzzle will h you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Fun By The

Level: Beginner

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
